RUBBER EXPORT PROBE VOTED BY SENATE GROUP

Hopkins and Nelson to Be Called.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—A senate subcommittee today voted to summon Harry Hopkins, Milo Perkins, Donald Nelson, and E. R. Stettinius Jr. to explain large American exports of rubber while a reported shortage of this material is threatening this country's military program and its domestic economy. Officials are also to be asked, it was announced, about reports that Russia, while receiving rubber from us, is also getting rubber from Japan in exchange for iron.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler.

It was also announced at the session that war department officials have been asked to appear before a closed meeting of the senate agricultural committee for the purpose of whittling army plans to a size with rubber and food requirements which won't wreck the civilian economy.

Vote to Expand Probe.

The subcommittee also voted to expand its rubber inquiry into an investigation independent of administrative offices. The bureaus, it was said, have been an unsatisfactory source of rubber information sought by congress and by the public.

The meeting concluded with testimony of two United States forest service technicians on the development of processes for production of alcohol and synthetic rubber from wood waste. The government's present program uses grains and petroleum as bases for the tire material. The projected use of forestry waste is to conserve foodstuffs and irreplaceable oil reserves.

Why Rubber to Russia?

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] introduced the proposal to investigate American exports of rubber.

"I don't know why we are sending rubber to Russia," he said. "Russia had a successful synthetic rubber industry before the war, and we still don't know its processes. Furthermore, there's a rumor, which we should affirm or refute, that Russia is getting rubber from Japan in exchange for iron.

"I don't know why we should continue large shipments of rubber to Great Britain since Ceylon plantations, producing from 90,000 to 100,000 tons a year, have been saved.

Why to South America.

"I don't know why we should send tires to South American countries that are not in this fight."

Sen. Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.] said that last summer he had received from Nelson, chairman of the war production board, a confidential report on the quantities of these exports.

"I believe," said McNary, "that it is for this committee and not Mr. Nelson to decide whether this information should be made public."

"In view of the many sacrifices that Americans have been called upon to make," said Sen. Raymond E. Willis [R., Ind.], "I believe the congress and the people are entitled to this information, and I so move."

"I'll second the motion with an amendment," said Sen. Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.]. "We should summon the heads of lend-lease and the board of economic warfare for interrogation."

Tonnage Made Public.

The motion was carried without a dissent and the following figures on American rubber exports, as planned on July 16, 1942, became public for the first time:

Export.	—Tonnage—
By lend-lease:	1942.	1943.
[Mainly to Russians and British]	66,000	70,000
By BEW:
[To South America]	3,500	3,000
To Canada	47,600	37,000
Totals	117,100	110,000

The 227,100 tons is more than enough to avert a military and economic crisis that Rubber Director William M. Jeffers has declared is threatening America this fall.

The Farmer and His Machinery
(An Editorial)

The straits in which the shortage of agricultural machinery has placed farmers are reflected in the farm auction prices quoted the other day by Gail Compton. At a recent auction Mr. Compton found that a 3 year old tractor which cost $1,200 new sold for $1,725; an 8 year old combine for $600, and other equipment, including some rescued from the scrap pile, brought equally fancy prices.

The plants making weapons and ammunition for our soldiers and sailors need only to demonstrate the necessity of new machinery to be granted the priorities which will get it for them. The farmers of the country, engaged in the equally vital task of providing our fighters with food, are restricted by Joe Weiner, the Union square farmer who has been placed in charge of farm machinery allocations, to 20 per cent of the 1940 output.

Meanwhile, however, export quotas for farm machinery have been set as high as 118 per cent of the shipments to some countries during 1940. Lend-lease, it's wonderful.

In the field of industrial production, the administration has been saved from some of its own worst mistakes by the fact that much of American industry is big business and has spokesmen sufficiently prominent to make an impression even on a New Dealer. In that sense there are no prominent farmers, and an administration whose approach to the farm problem has for a decade been the attempt to reduce farmers to a state of organized mendicancy can't expect to understand agricultural production any better than it understands industrial production.

The difference is that if there were any one in Washington crazy enough to suggest that industry exceed all its previous records for output and do it on one-fifth as many machine tools as it normally uses up in a year, the folly of such a course would quickly be made apparent. Yet that is just what the fools of Washington are asking the farmers of the United States to do, and to date no one can convince them of their own insanity.

A Day's News of Rationing Fuel Oil, Gasoline, Foods

The following developments on the rationing fronts, affecting millions of midwesterners and other millions thruout the country, occurred yesterday:

CHICAGO.

FUEL OIL—Edward F. Stegen, regional rationing executive of the office of price administration, recommended to OPA's Washington fuel oil division that the validity date of No. 4 fuel oil coupon be advanced from Feb. 7 to Jan. 23.

It was pointed out that persons who have no more No. 3 coupons now may use their No. 4 coupons, providing they fill out the proper requisition forms and get approval of their local rationing boards. Stegen's action would cut the red tape and permit use of the No. 4 coupons without filling out any more forms. Joel Dean, OPA fuel oil rationing chief in Washington, said a decision might be forthcoming before the end of the week.

GASOLINE—Michael F. Mulcahy, area rationing administrator, warned that No. 3 gasoline A coupons expire at midnight tonight and urged all motorists to destroy those not used. The No. 4 coupons, good for two months, become valid at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow.

Mulcahy declared that giving unused coupons to relatives or friends is illegal, as is any arrangement made with a dealer for future delivery of gasoline on the expired coupons.

WASHINGTON.

FOOD—Food Administrator Claude R. Wickard has authorized the OPA to set up machinery for rationing of evaporated and condensed milk, fish, oysters, jams, jellies, pickles, preserves, fruit butters, and relishes, the Federal Register disclosed.

The government publication revealed that this list was included in the recent order to ration canned and frozen foods, altho the announcement to the press at the time declared the items specifically were not included.

Purchase of more than 143 million dollars' worth of evaporated and more than 34 million dollars' worth of dried milk to send to Britain and Russia last year cut deeply into civilian supplies.

Predicts Ration Liberalization.

OIL AND GASOLINE—Prentiss Brown, new price administrator, predicted more liberal gasoline rations this summer, better fuel oil supply for next winter, and pledged more sympathetic regulation all around.

"I feel as bad as you do about gasoline rationing," he said.

Permits Driving to Wedding.

WEDDINGS—A formal ruling will be issued shortly in the capital holding that the use of automobiles to attend weddings in the 17 eastern states is legal and does not constitute pleasure driving, a spokesman for the office of price administration said yesterday.

Legislation to prevent the office of price administration from imposing arbitrary penalties upon citizens charged with violating OPA decrees was introduced in the house yesterday by Rep. Edwin A. Hall [R., N. Y.]. He charged from the floor that OPA seeks to impose punishments which exceed powers conferred in the price control act.

W. L. LEWIS DIES; INVENTOR OF GAS

W. Lee Lewis, 64 years old, former professor of chemistry at Northwestern university and inventor of the "lewisite" gas used extensively by allied armies during the first World war, died in Evanston hospital last night from injuries suffered when he fell from a second story porch of his home at 2323 Central Park avenue, Evanston, Tuesday afternoon.

Police said Mr. Lewis had been in ill health for several months and was suffering from a disease that caused patients to stumble when walking. They learned that he had stepped out onto the snow covered roof, apparently had slipped in the snow, and plunged to a concrete driveway below. He was found a few minutes later by his wife, Myrtilla.

Before coming to Northwestern university, where he was head of the department of chemistry from 1909 to 1924, he had served as an instructor at the University of Washington and at Morningside college at Sioux City, Ia.

He also had served as an assistant chemist of the United States department of agriculture.

It was during his service with the American Expeditionary Forces during the first World war, from which he emerged with the rank of colonel, that he invented the gas that bears his name.

$1,590 PURCHASE PUTS U. S. IN THE CATTLE BUSINESS

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 20 [Special].—The government went into the cattle business today under a nation-wide program when the farm security administration purchased 25 Holstein heifers which will be resold on easy terms as buyers are found.

The heifers were purchased for $1,590 by Carson Metz, Pennsylvania FSA director, from Edgar Herbert, operator of a 300 acre farm near Stateville.

J. H. Wood, regional FSA director, said the purchase was the first under the $750,000 program to conserve milk producing cows which farmers are unable to keep because of labor and feed shortages.

Bill Will Ask U. S. Flats for Lawmakers

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Rep. Adolph J. Sabath [D., Ill.] came forward today to champion the cause of his discouraged colleagues and their employés, including most of the new members, who have tried in vain to find places to live in the overcrowded capital. He said he will introduce a resolution tomorrow providing for government construction of two apartment buildings at a cost of 2 million dollars to fill the housing needs of the congressmen and their staffs.

BOSS' ANSWERS AT SENATE QUIZ CALLED FALSE

Party Chief Refutes All Charges.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Edward J. [Paving Blocks] Flynn appeared before the senate foreign relations committee today and tried to explain away those paving blocks on which was raised an investigation into his qualifications for minister to Australia and roving ambassador in the Pacific war zone.

Sidney S. Baron [top] and Edward J. Flynn.

But when the Bronx boss and resigned chairman of the Democratic national committee had concluded his denials of past misconduct, he was promptly accused of perjury in everything he had said.

Sidney S. Baron, executive secretary of the New York Citizens' Committee to Reopen the Flynn Case, told the senate committee that he wished to add a fifth charge of unfitness to the four already filed with the committee.

Flynn Defends Conduct.

"I'd like to file the charge of perjury against Mr. Edward J. Flynn in his testimony to the senate foreign relations committee," Baron declared, "I will attempt to show perjury in every single matter on which Mr. Flynn testified today."

Flynn was accompanied to the hearing by his law partner, Monroe Goldwater, who also testified. The Democratic leader denied charges that his past conduct and record make him disqualified for the responsible position of a wartime envoy extraordinary.

The Bronx boss, wearing a dark gray suit with darker vertical stripes and a flashy, flowered tie, testified in the marble, crystal and mahogany senate caucus room, which was jammed with curious listeners.

"Absolute Falsehood."

His face flushed frequently as he branded as "absolute falsehood" the accusations of his critics, principally Sen. Styles Bridges [R., N. H.], who filed the four charges with the committee and who participated in the questioning.

Flynn admitted to the committee that he had appointed the late Dutch Schultz, notorious gangster, as a "special deputy sheriff" while he was sheriff of Bronx county, New York, but claimed that this was an honor that didn't mean anything, that it was a common practice among sheriffs in New York to pass out badges to friends, that Schultz was sworn in under his real name of Arthur Flegenheimer, and that he didn't have a criminal record at the time, as far as Flynn knew.

Badge Later Lifted.

He said that Schultz had his badge taken from him six months after his appointment when found in "a place" ordered raided by the district attorney of Bronx county.

Baron refuted this contention, asserting bluntly that at the time of his appointment Schultz "was a known racketeer, beer baron, rum runner, murderer—a person of highly questionable character."

Baron told the committee that

NAZIS MAINTAIN 200 U-BOATS AT SEA ALL THE TIME, BRITISH SAY

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).—In an attempt to keep the tremendous output of allied war factories from the battlefields, Adolf Hitler was said by British naval observers today to be maintaining 200 U-boats of his fleet of perhaps 500 at sea all the time. As a result, demands were heard for faster freighters to outrun the U-boats.

An unofficial British estimate was that Germany is building from 15 to 20 submarines a month—faster than naval observers here believe the allies are sinking them.

British Near Tripoli; Reds Gain 17 Miles; News of Other Fronts

War news from the various fronts of the world today reports British advances in Libya and naval successes in the Mediterranean, new Russian gains, American advances in New Guinea and the Solomons, and air attacks on Jap positions in Burma. Highlights of reports from the fronts follow:

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Twin British columns tonight swept on Tripoli amid indications that the axis defense of the burning Libyan capital would be only a delaying action. One column of the 8th army advanced 25 miles to the Homs area, 60 miles east of Tripoli, while the southern arm moved to within 40 miles of the key port.

As the Moroccan radio reported some of Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces had retreated west of Tripoli, military sources said he probably intended to establish himself behind the Mareth line, just inside southern Tunisia. [This indicated the Mareth line is in axis hands.]

The British closing on Tripoli were joined by the Fighting French column which has swept northward thru the Libyan desert. High lighting widespread air attacks yesterday were American raids on Tripoli and its Castel Benito airdrome.

In Tunisia axis tank forces pushed seven miles into French held positions southwest of Pont du Fahs in an apparent move to take some pressure off Rommel's route of retreat.

The British admiralty reported a pack of destroyers and a submarine had sunk 14 enemy ships in the central Mediterranean this week.

Reds 17 Miles Nearer Kharkov.

MOSCOW, Jan. 21 [Thursday] (AP).—The southern arm of the Russian 150 drive on Kharkov advanced 17 miles, or within 115 miles southeast of the big industrial center yesterday. The northern arm was within 79 miles of the city from the east. The Russians were closing in on Rostov from three sides, while two other columns were threatening Voroshilovgrad. One of these columns was reported 45 miles from the city and the other 22 miles east. In the Caucasus, the Reds were near Salsk after overrunning Proletarskaya and farther south were within 50 miles of Armavir.

The campaign to cut down the trapped Nazi forces near Stalingrad continued as the city itself entered its 150th day of siege.

On the Leningrad front, the Russians were reported storming two major German positions, one of them in the Volkhov area southeast of the city which had been under siege for 17 months.

Southwest of Veliki Luki, on the central front, five more towns were reported taken in the Red army's advance.

Bednce Japs in Guinea.

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, Jan. 21 [Thursday]—(AP).—American and Australian ground troops further reduced the slender enemy hold in the Sanananda sector of New Guinea, while in the air allied bombers raided 10 enemy points, the noon communique reported today.

Previous accounts had told of two pockets on the coast in the vicinity of Sanananda point and two others inland.

The jetty at Dobo in the Aroe Islands was raided. At Ambon in the same sector a Jap fighter was shot down by a bomber. Jap localities at Lautem in Portuguese Timor were bombed.

Kill 1,032 on Guadalcanal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—American troops have killed 1,032 Japanese in five days of warfare on Guadalcanal Island from Jan. 13 to 17, the navy announced today.

In one encounter the American troops advanced between 3,000 and 4,000 yards and threw back the Japs despite stiff resistance. The next day they forged ahead again. On Jan. 16 150 Japs were killed and a number were captured.

Bombers flew 300 miles northwest to Shortland Island and bombed a Japanese cargo ship which took fire. Two Jap Zeros were shot down and one American fighter was lost.

Yanks Bomb Bases in Burma.

NEW DELHI, INDIA, Jan. 20 (AP).—American heavy bombers raided the docks at Bassein, in southwestern Burma, an American army communique said today. American fighters and medium bombers also strafed and bombed enemy installations at Kaming in northern Burma. British bombers raided the Rathedaung and Akyab Island areas.

PLACE 11 MONTHS' ARMY ENLISTING AT 31,198 IN STATE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 [Special].—A total of 31,198 Illinoisans enlisted in the army between the Pearl Harbor attack and Nov. 1, 1942, statistics published in the Congressional Record showed today. This does not include draft inductions. On a population percentage basis Illinois enlistments were .395.

Enlistments in other midwestern states and their population percentages were: Indiana—12,742, .372; Iowa—8,791, .346; Wisconsin—14,367, .458; Michigan—20,708, .393; Minnesota—10,983, .393; Missouri—12,447, .329; Nebraska—5,762, .438, and Kansas—6,932, .385.

25% WAGE TAX STUDIED IN LIEU OF INCOME LEVY

Would Be Withheld by Employer.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—A new income tax plan providing for abolition of the 5 per cent victory tax and imposition of a flat 25 per cent withholding tax against pay rolls was under discussion by congressional leaders today.

The plan, it was reported, includes the placing of taxpayers on a current basis thru suspending levies against 1942 income in the lower brackets and permitting those in the higher brackets to pay off their last year's liabilities over a five year period.

Authorship of the plan was at first attributed to the treasury department. A department spokesman denied this, however, and a statement was issued explaining that the department is continuing to furnish data to congressmen as to the effect of various "ideas" which have been advanced on Capitol hill. Until it is asked to do so, the department said it will make no recommendation.

Plan to Be Considered.

Congressional leaders refused to comment on the new plan but indicated that it will be considered along with the profusion of other proposals which have been made since President Roosevelt requested an additional 16 billion dollars in new revenue partially to offset the vast war expenditures.

There is one thing the tax experts, amateur and professional, seem agreed upon while thinking up new revenue raising possibilities pending definite action by the house and senate committees. That is the necessity for placing wage earners on a pay-as-you-go basis in meeting their liabilities.

The latest plan provides for suspending collections on 1942 income up to $2,000 and permitting those in these brackets to begin paying against the 1943 levies out of each current pay check. Ordinarily these wage earners would pay a normal tax of 6 per cent and the first surtax of 13 per cent, a total of 19 per cent.

Time on Higher Payments.

Those earning over $2,000 would be required to pay the difference between 19 per cent and the regular tax bill for 1942 but they would have five years in which to meet the obligation. Meanwhile they would be required to pay in addition the new withholding tax against their present income.

The new tax would be based on a basic rate of 20 per cent compared with the present 19 per cent. The additional 5 per cent, replacing the victory tax, makes up the total basic checkoff of 25 per cent and would be imposed to cover anticipated increases in the rates under a new taxing program. However, according to informed sources, it would be made returnable if congress did not agree upon the increases.

The proposed withholding tax would not be assessed against gross income, it was explained, but would apply to net taxable income after a deduction for exemptions and dependents.

HOW THE TRIBUNE SAVES PAPER YET RETAINS QUALITY

Consumption of Newsprint Cut in Varied Ways.

Tell your news dealer to save a copy of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for you.

In order to conserve newsprint, this newspaper is making every effort to see that every copy printed reaches a reader. This is one of several measures being taken to save newsprint without sacrificing editorial content. The war production board has ordered newspapers to cut consumption of newsprint 10 per cent under that used in 1941.

In proportion to its large circulation, THE TRIBUNE has lost very little newsprint in unsold copies. The percentage of unsold copies of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE is by far the lowest of any Chicago newspaper. It is now necessary, however, to conserve every pound of paper. Readers who ask news dealers to save copies of THE TRIBUNE for them will help the dealers order more accurately.

Consumption Cut 10 Per Cent.

In 1941 THE TRIBUNE used approximately 145,000 tons of newsprint, 36,250 tons of it in the first quarter. A 10 per cent reduction means that THE TRIBUNE must save 3,625 tons during the first three months of this year. A freight car holds about 36 tons of newsprint. THE TRIBUNE, therefore, must save an amount of paper required to fill a train of 100 cars.

THE TRIBUNE keeps a daily record—a budget system—showing the number of tons of paper used in 1941 and the allotment for the same comparable day of 1943. The record shows the accumulative consumption and the accumulative allotment of newsprint to date. Printed copies of the record are sent daily to all department heads.

With the order to use less paper, THE TRIBUNE and other newspapers have had to face the problem of increased operating costs. It was this factor that required THE TRIBUNE to increase the price of the daily paper from 2 to 3 cents.

To save newsprint without impairing the reader interest, executives of THE TRIBUNE have adopted several ingenious measures.

No Substitute for Paper.

Some industries, if required to reduce consumption of their raw materials, could use substitutes or reduce the size of their product without seriously impairing its value. Not so with a newspaper. The stories and pictures on its pages make it salable, but the pages are made of newsprint and there is no substitute.

Naturally, to reduce the number of pages might mean reducing the number of stories and pictures. If carelessly done, this might damage seriously the value of the newspaper to the reader. THE TRIBUNE has adopted measures to save paper without eliminating the news and features which its purchasers—nearly a million of them—have approved.

National advertisers have coöperated in saving newsprint by permitting THE TRIBUNE to run their ads on one of several days, instead of on a specified day. This makes it possible to spread the advertising and to avoid making increases in the size of a single issue of the paper.

Sacrifices Tribune Ads.

THE TRIBUNE also has been reducing the amount of space formerly devoted to advertising itself. Such advertisments, called "house" or "office" ads, have been deemed extremely valuable, and THE TRIBUNE sacrifices them only because it wants to avoid sacrificing space for news.

As newspapers roll out of a high speed press a certain number of copies are spoiled because of the breaking of the "web," or roll, of paper and because of incorrect adjustment of the presses. Formerly, in order to save time, a good many perfect copies were thrown away with the spoiled copies.

This waste largely has been eliminated. Men have been employed to watch pressroom operations carefully.

A campaign also has been instituted to reduce the amount of paper lost as a result of damage in transit.

In the editorial department news stories are being edited and reëdited, written and rewritten to take out excess words and unimportant details.

Save Comic Strip Space.

Formerly each comic strip had a headline occupying about half an inch of space across the full five column width of the strip. This headline, including the name of the strip, has been placed at the side, saving several inches of newsprint space.

The daily listing of radio programs formerly occupied five columns. By using slightly smaller type, this space has been cut to three columns without the loss of any program listings.

The Gaar Williams cartoon, formerly printed on news pages, has been shifted to the editorial page to save space for more news. The address delivered each Saturday night by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, on W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system, is now printed on the editorial page of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. Formerly it appeared on a news page.

In THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE important savings of paper have been made by reducing the margins of the rotogravure section one-half inch and the margins of the graphic section one-quarter inch.

The Sunday department also has saved paper by developing an attractive tabloid format for a feature section devoted to book news, movies, music and drama, education, and fiction.

Girl, 12, Slain

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

MARTHA PUNT.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—The body of 12 year old Martha Punt, her head smashed, was found today in a blood soaked bed in a west side apartment and police said she had been raped and slain. Near the bed they found a hammer.

The girl's home is a block and a half from the apartment. Her body was found by a kitchen helper at the Hotel Plaza, Iraris Fandino, who shared the apartment with a worker from another hotel. Police said they learned that Fandino's apartment mate had not reported for work this morning.

Police said the child was last seen by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth James, at 6 p. m. yesterday when she went out after dinner to play.

DON'T BUY A PAPER, BORROW ONE, PLEA OF DAILY NEWS IN N. Y.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Under the slogan, "Don't buy a News—borrow one," the New York Daily News tonight asked its patrons to do that in order to help it conserve its paper supply.

The publication, devoting its editorial space to the matter, also announced it soon would increase its advertising rates about 10 per cent, asked its advertisers to tailor their space requirements, and announced it would immediately increase the price of the Sunday paper in Canada to 10 cents. The 10 cent Sunday price also is contemplated for points west of the Mississippi river.

To date, the statement said, the paper was exceeding its allotment of newsprint paper fixed by the government.

"If our readers will buy fewer copies and borrow more, that will help some," the statement read.

U. S. EXPERT GIVES O. K. TO TRIBUNE'S ALCOHOL METHOD

Gillette Says Plant Is Far Ahead of Others.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—A government expert today gave his approval to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S project at Thorold, Ont., to make alcohol from sulphite liquor, which, under ordinary practices in this country is dumped into streams and lakes near woodpulp mills.

Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.] introduced the subject of using forestry waste as an alcohol and synthetic rubber source at a meeting of a senate subcommittee investigating rubber. Sen. Gillette said that the Canadian plant [under construction by the Ontario Paper company, a subsidiary of THE TRIBUNE] is far ahead of the American government in this development.

"Satisfied" with Project.

Dr. J. Alfred Hall, principal biochemist of the United States forestry service, and one of the principal witnesses at today's hearing of the committee, in response to a question by Sen. Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.] said his department is "perfectly happy and satisfied" with the Ontario Paper company project as a competent pilot in one of the two main opportunities for conversion of forest waste into valuable war materials.

Perfections in the processes used in the Ontario project have been made available by THE TRIBUNE, as a contribution toward victory, to the entire industry of the United States and Canada.

In 1942, Dr. Hall said, there were at least three proposals presented to WPB to grant priorities for plants in the United States to recover alcohol from sulphite liquor and all were turned down on the grounds that construction required critical materials. He said that without including smaller woodpulp mills, distillation of sulphite liquor could produce 35 million gallons of alcohol annually.

Estimates Possibilities.

From merely the sawdust piles of 73 large lumber mills in America, Dr. Hall said that 200 million gallons of alcohol a year could be extracted. By adding other scrap at these mills to an hydrolysis process perfected in Germany, a half billion gallons of alcohol a year could be obtained, according to the chemist. This is enough to meet present estimated requirements.

"If we add all of the wood wasted in forestry operations, including the trims, the tops and branches, and the culls in cutting the trees," said Dr. Hall, "we get astronomical figures as the potential output of alcohol from this salvage. I've reckoned this figure at 4 billion gallons a year.

"The process, as operated successfully in Europe, is covered by patents that have been seized by the alien property custodian. We have in America, as refugees, some of the men who operated such plants in Europe.

Lack WPB Approval.

"What has been lacking to date is WPB approval for priorities for construction. We ought to have at least one such plant in operation in the United States to supplement grains and petroleum as alcohol sources as the need arises.

Questioned on costs, Dr. Hall said a rough estimate for the sulphite liquor process, without recovery of lignin [the cement binder in wood], was 20 cents a gallon. By hydrolysis, he estimated the cost at 20 to 22 cents. The government is paying 50 cents a gallon for alcohol.

Dr. Orville D. May, research coordinator of the department of agriculture, until recently in charge of the department's research laboratories at Peoria, Ill., said his department has a pilot plant at the Illinois city making 500 pounds a day of butadiene [basic rubber material] from butylene glycol made from the sugar of grains.

Submarine Sinks Allied Ship Off Australian Coast

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 20 (AP).—A large submarine, believed to be Japanese and the first reported in several months, torpedoed and sank a small allied ship off the Australian coast, killing two firemen, it was disclosed today. Thirty crew members and two passengers sailed and rowed in a lifeboat to an Australian port.

ESTIMATE CITY HAS 77 PER CENT AMERICAN BORN

The Chicago Association of Commerce announced yesterday that its surveys showed that 77 per cent of Chicago's estimated 3,545,808 inhabitants were born in the United States. There are 2,441,859 native born whites in Chicago and 277,731 native born Negroes, the association said. Of the city's foreign born residents, 672,705 are whites and 4,513 are members of other races.

The association reported the city's 989,503 families are housed in 389,013 dwellings. Other association statistics show 1,181,374 males and 1,216,018 females over 21 years old in the city, and 1,121,618 males and 472,295 females over 14 years old gainfully employed.

Foreign born population groups in Chicago are listed as follows: Poland, 119,264; Germany, 83,424; Russia, 66,950; Italy, 66,472; Greece, 13,972; Yugo-Slavia, 12,659, and Scotland, 10,314.

U. S. TO RESTORE PARTIAL CIVILIAN RULE IN HAWAII

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—The White House announced today an agreement had been reached for a "substantial restoration of functions to the appropriate civilian authorities," in Hawaii.

While details of the new arrangements, worked out by the war, justice, and interior departments and Hawaii's governor, are to be announced in the territory, the White House said martial law would remain in effect and writ of habeas corpus would continue to be suspended.

The commanding general of the army's Hawaiian department retains jurisdiction over some civilian activities, but the agreement "contemplates that there will be further restoration of jurisdiction to the civilian authorities when and as the military situation permits."

CHARGES FALSE, FLYNN ASSERTS AT SENATE QUIZ

Accuser Charges Perjury Before Committee.

Flynn is "eminently disqualified" for the post to which the President appointed him, and that "the minister to Australia should be a truthful person. Baron then repeated the charges which Bridges had made against Flynn on the senate floor and before the foreign relations committee.

Implies a "Whitewash."

After repeated interruptions by Connally, the witness exploded that the Texan was conducting the hearing in the same manner as District Attorney Samuel J. Foley handled the grand jury "whitewash" of the paving block case.

"Mr. Foley appeared more in the light of a defense attorney than a prosecutor," said Baron. "Mr. Connally does likewise."

After Baron finished, the committee held an executive session, when it decided to resume hearings Friday morning with testimony by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York, Paul J. Kern, former civil service commissioner of New York City, who started the paving blocks investigation; Daniel Daly, foreman of the Bronx grand jury; Robert Moran, former commissioner of public works for the Bronx; William B. Herlands, New York commissioner of investigation, and Foley.

Tells of Law Firm.

As to charges by Bridges that Flynn's law firm, Goldwater and Flynn, had represented a Serge Rubinstein, claimed to be friendly with the Japanese government before Pearl Harbor, Flynn told the committee that he had no personal association with Rubinstein other than a passing acquaintance thru Goldwater. Later Goldwater discussed details of this relationship, admitting that Flynn has received 50 per cent of the law firm's profits, including fees from Rubinstein, altho Flynn has not been active in the firm for 20 years.

"So," remarked Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] to Flynn, "when Mr. Rubinstein cabled to his London attorney, Lord Nathan, on Feb. 4, 1940, that 'I have retained Edward J. Flynn, chairman of the Democratic party and most powerful political figure in America' he thought he was buying something that he didn't get."

"That's correct," Flynn replied.

About Those Paving Blocks.

The boss also denied vehemently that he knew anything about the famous paving blocks, which were owned by the Bronx borough and laid on his country estate with city labor, until after the deed was done and restitution performed by his law partner while Flynn was absent from the city.

"No one can say truthfully that at any time I knew this work would be done by the borough president's office of the Bronx and there is not a scintilla of evidence that I knew," said Flynn forcefully, raising his voice for the first time and pounding the mahogany table.

Flynn told the committee that he inherited the country place about four years ago from his sister. When he and Mrs. Flynn decided to live there and dispose of their Lake Mahapoc, N. Y., home a Mrs. Wilhelmina Haas was engaged to supervise the improvements. She suggested the Belgian courtyard, which Flynn described as only a parking place. When he found it difficult to engage a contractor to do the work, Flynn related, he mentioned this to Moran, who offered to help get some one to do the paving. Flynn said he told Moran to make arrangements with Mrs. Haas.

This was all he knew about it, declared Flynn, until told later that a storm had arisen because Moran had used city-owned blocks and labor to do the work. Goldwater informed the committee that Moran came to him and admitted his error after Kern started an investigation.

Testimony disclosed that the blocks were laid in November, 1940, and Goldwater made restitution for Flynn in January, "within a week after Moran told me what he had done," according to Goldwater. Flynn's law partner said he acquired other paving blocks, at a cost of $88, which were sent to the Bronx borough in exchange for the 8,000 city blocks used, and paid for the labor at the rate of $13 a day. He claimed that he heard the city employés did the paving job while on vacation time from their jobs.

In his testimony Flynn also defended his investment of city funds, while chamberlain of New York City, in the State Title and Mortgage company, which later became defunct, losing more than 1 million dollars in city funds.

Flynn told the committee under oath that "I have tried to answer these charges as truthfully as I could," and then told the committee that his experience as United States commissioner to the New York World's fair, his travels in Europe and Latin America, and his broad reading should equip him for the post of minister and ambassador to which he had been appointed by the President.

MADGE BELLAMY PROMISES NOT TO SHOOT CLUBMAN

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 20 (AP).—The real life melodrama, opening with a shooting scene starring Actress Madge Bellamy, and A. Stanford Murphy, wealthy clubman, lagged a bit in the second act today.

A. Stanford Murphy.

With brimming eyes but firm voice, Miss Bellamy promised Judge Clarence Morris she would not shoot at or molest Murphy, 54, president of the Pacific Lumber company, who dodged bullets last night as he emerged from the exclusive Pacific Union club on Nob hill.

Murphy is honeymooning here with New York Model June Alamy whom he married in Baltimore recently. Miss Bellamy said Murphy's marriage to another woman had been more than she could bear. She said she had loved him for several years.

As Margaret Philpott [her real name], Miss Bellamy appeared in court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, was granted a week's continuance, and went free again on $500 bail and the promise to stay away from Murphy.

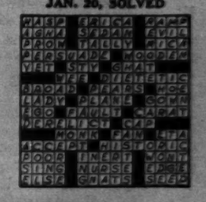
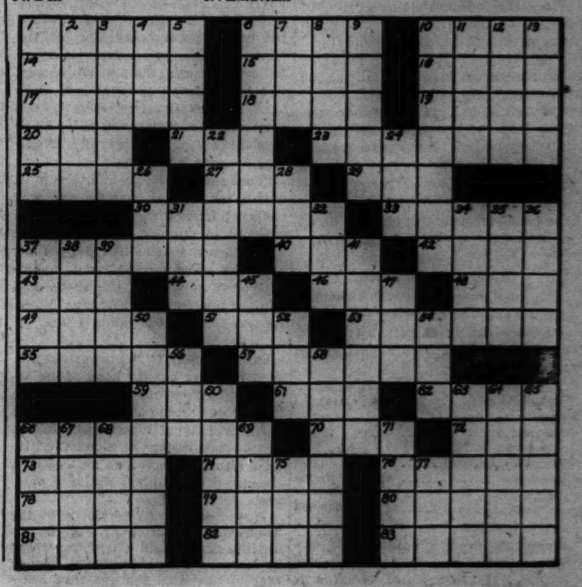
PUZZLE OF WEDNESDAY, JAN. 20, SOLVED





21ST DAY'S DAWN BRINGS LAND TO 3 OF RICK'S CREW

Miracle of New Strength Gets Men Ashore.

[This is the tenth instalment of the story—told here in full for the first time—of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and six surviving companions and their three weeks' fight for life against the perils of the equatorial Pacific. It is told by Lt. James C. Whittaker of the army transport command, co-pilot of the Flying Fortress which was crashed into the sea Oct. 21 after running out of fuel.]

BY LT. JAMES C. WHITTAKER,
U. S. Army Air Force Transport Command
As Told to CHARLES LEAVELLE, of The Chicago Tribune.
[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The dawn of our 21st day adrift was the only one I missed in the entire three weeks. I had strained my eyes in 20 dawns, only to have them disclose an empty ocean—an empty world.

The most important dawn of all I had to miss. The sun was already up when I was awakened by Lt. John J. De Angelis, our navigator on the Flying Fortress which we had crash-landed at sea on Oct. 21. Johnny was shaking me as vigorously as his failing strength would allow.

"Cut that out!" I snapped. "What's the matter with you?"

"Jim," he said, "I think you'd better take a look. It may be a mirage, but I think I see something."

No Mirage; It's Land.

I rolled over and sat up in our rubber life raft. It was no mirage. Across the horizon stretched a line of palm trees 10 miles long. At that distance—about 12 miles—I couldn't see any actual land, but I felt safe in assuming there would be something substantial under those palms.

I looked for the other rafts, carrying Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and his military aide, Col. Hans Adamson; Capt. William T. Cherry, our pilot, and commander on the Fortress, and Pvt. Johnny Bartek, our engineer. They were nowhere in sight.

At 6:30 a. m. of Nov. 11, I broke out our aluminum oars and began what was to be a 7½ hour pull to put dry land under our feet. And during these hours I was to experience the second of the two divine miracles that have changed my entire life and redeemed me from agnosticism to Christianity. What I did couldn't have been done without divine help.

Mates' Condition Pitiable.

My two raft mates were in pitiable condition. Johnny De Angelis could still move about, but that was all. He spelled me during the row to the island, but he could manage only a few minutes at a time. In the first place, he didn't know how. He'd have worn out even under normal conditions.

Staff Sergt. James W. Reynolds was prone in the bottom of the raft. His eyes had sunk an inch and a half and his resemblance to a death's head was startling. His normal weight was 130 pounds. He weighed 90 when picked up. The poor kid exhibited the finest spirit of us all. Tho he could hardly lift his head he kept saying: "I feel all right, just tired. I'll get up in a minute and help you, Jim."

Jimmy lay just behind me, and despite his condition he heaved himself to a sitting position and with the flare shell dipped up sea water which he poured on the back of my head and neck after the heat began to bear down at 10 a. m. Otherwise I think I might have collapsed.

We had calculated to get in about noon and I was encouraged by the good time I made. Just before 12 o'clock we had reached a point less than one city block from the shore. I was at the point of telling Johnny and Jimmy to start ordering their dinners. Then something happened.

Boat Out of Control.

The boat went out of control and we started moving swiftly out to sea again. Nothing I could do with the oars was any help. A perverse current held us. When we finally got out of it, we were far out; a mile or so. The long narrow island was moving slowly across our bows like a giant ocean liner crawling out to sea thru the Golden Gate.

I realized, of course, that the island was stationary. We were drifting away, tho it seemed the island was leaving us instead. We had started in near the head and now were more than half way down it.

If ever I have cried out in anguish it was then. I was done, thru, washed up. I called to Heaven that I was finished. I could hardly hold on to the light oars. Yet there, within reach, was the land—and life. And even as I watched, that long line of majestic palms was moving away from us. If we didn't make landfall now we never would.

I looked at Jimmy, prone in the raft. I looked at Johnny. He was sick and exhausted. I cried out to God to give me strength. I shouted it above the rising wind in the fear He might not hear. I picked up the oars. I rowed.

Gains Against Current.

Half an hour later I still was rowing—and making sure progress against the current. An hour later I was still gaining. The current had shot us out in a matter of minutes and I had been powerless to control the boat against it. Now I was overcoming that current.

The rising wind brought a squall of rain that all but blotted out the island. I turned around in the raft and adopted the fisherman's stroke in order to face in the direction we were moving.

An oar turned in my hand. Then I glimpsed a dirty gray form, 12 feet long disappearing beneath the water. As I watched, another one surfaced, slashed at the oar and slid under. These sharks were not the droll dullards that had plagued us earlier. These were man-eaters.

The rain slackened and I could see the island still moving away in the mist. I cried out my final prayer:

"God! Don't quit me now!"

He didn't. In the final burst to reach the reef, those aluminum oars were bent. It was not Jim Whittaker who bent them. I didn't have the strength—within myself—to bend a pin.

Second Miracle—Reaching Land.

I was not conscious of exerting any strength. It was more as tho the oars were working automatically and my hands were following their motion. There were other hands than mine on those oars.

I am considered a good boatman and I am strong. Yet today, fully recovered, I would hesitate to tackle that stretch of water. On that day, thoroly exhausted and with three weeks of thirst and hunger behind me, I accomplished a feat that would have tried a well man. It was the second miracle and I recognized it for what it was. The first was on the 13th day when we were at the point of collapse from thirst. In answer to prayer, a rainsquall that had passed us up, returned to save us.

We were at the reef now and the sharks left us. But the ebb was not quite over. When the rollers started coming in there was danger to the boat. Johnny now lay across the bow of the raft and pulled with his hands. Using the swells we inched the vulnerable rubber craft across the sharp coral and into the calm water beyond. At 2 p. m. on the nose we touched the island—our first dry land in three weeks.

I thanked God briefly. I pledged that I would thank him at length during the remainder of my days, thru thought, word, and deed. At the moment there was much to be done, especially for Jimmy Reynolds.

Dramatic Moment of Sighting Land

(Story in adjoining column.)

COUNTY STOPS PAYING ITS BILLS TILL BOARD ACTS

County Treasurer Victor L. Schlaeger, who went into office early in December, said yesterday he has paid a few of the more pressing county bills—a total of more than 5 million dollars—but has quit paying because no more money is available.

"I intend to wait until the county board has finished its budget and is ready to adopt a policy on bill settlement," he said.

Members of the board said they have no solution of the county's cash and credit problem except to ask legislation to permit them to issue bonds for the debts. The limit of their hopes is a budget that will be within hailing distance of the anticipated revenues of $17,898,000.

Election expense this year will be $900,000 less than last year. The Circuit court has ordered a 10 per cent reduction in the number of employés in 13 fee offices, with an estimated saving of $350,000.

4,000 ECHO 'BACK TO WORK' CRIES IN COAL MINE STRIKE

3 Locals Will Return; 2 Vote to Stay Out.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 20 (AP).—Stomping, shouting miners launched a new back-to-work movement in Pennsylvania's strike bound hard coal fields tonight.

Cries of "Back to work, boys" rang thru union halls as more than 4,000 workers agreed to comply with President Roosevelt's order that they end their 3 week old unauthorized walkout by noon tomorrow.

The 1,800 employés of the Lehigh Valley Coal company's Prospect-Henry colliery didn't even bother to take a formal vote. In a 5 minute session they yelled unanimous approval when one worker called out:

"What do we want a meeting for? Let's go back to work!"

First to Act Since Edict.

They were the first to act since Mr. Roosevelt issued his ultimatum yesterday and warned he would take "necessary steps" unless the miners obeyed.

Members of the Lance Colliery local of Glen Alden Coal company, with 1,000 members, voted 250 to 110 to resume production tomorrow.

The big South Wilkes-Barre local, representing 1,400 employés of the Glen Alden company, tonight joined the movement, ratifying a back to work vote taken Monday.

However, two smaller locals, the Exeter of the Payne Coal company, and Westmoreland of the Lehigh Coal company, each with 800 members, voted to continue the walkout. Altogether about 9,000 still were idle.

List Other Developments.

Voting followed these other developments:

1. The executive committee of the United Mine Workers district 1, in which the strike closed mines are located, warned that all strikers who defied the President's order would face "dishonorable expulsion" from the union. Under the union's closed shop contract an expelled member is barred from the mines.

2. Gov. Edward Martin, at a press conference, called on the miners "as loyal citizens" to end the strike and asserted that Pennsylvania would do everything possible to support the President.

3. John L. Lewis, UMW president, wrote Mr. Roosevelt that "we shall continue in every way possible to work" to get the men back to work.

4. The shortage of coal continued to grow more acute.

Policemen Fish for Bomb in River, but Catch a Dud

A brown object that looked like a bomb with a long fuse floated down the Chicago river last night. Oscar Jaffe, bridgetender at Clark street, noticed it and summoned Policemen Morris Levine, Robert Philbin, and Barney Zientak. Using a hook made of wire coat hangers, the policemen fished while a crowd of several hundred watched. Eventually the hook took hold, and the fishermen pulled out a shopping bag containing an old electric grill. What looked like a fuse was the cord of the grill.

MOTHER OF TWO WINS TRIBUNE WAR JOB AWARD

First Woman Given Medal for Health Saver.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Mrs. Hazel Rochel—mother of two small sons—is the winner of THE TRIBUNE's War Worker's Award for December. Presentation of the award will be made by Lt. Alvin Grauer of the industrial service division, war department, Washington, D. C., in a radio program on station W-G-N at 7:45 o'clock tonight. Mrs. Rochel is employed by the Rock-Ola Manufacturing corporation, which manufactures equipment vital to American fighting men.

At one stage in the manufacturing operation certain parts were dropped into "oil wells" fixed in workers' tables and were kept immersed until ready for the polishing of burrs. To retrieve the parts the workers—virtually all women—had to put their arms into oil up to the elbows.

Oil Caused Skin Disease.

The oil caused an occupational dermatitis which was exceedingly annoying to those suffering from it and costly in time lost during treatment.

Mrs. Rochel suggested to officials that each worker be supplied with a sieve basket fitted with a long handle and a catch so that instead of dropping the parts directly into the oil well they could place them in the basket and lower it into the oil. The catch holds the sieve in place in the oil bath, and the long handle enables the worker to remove the sieve and its contents when ready without touching the oil. This was done.

Three Benefits Cited.

Results were threefold:

1. The number of cases of dermatitis was sharply reduced, thus saving many hours of work for the war.

2. No time was lost in feeling around the bottom of the well for the parts.

3. The sieve basket enabled the oil to drain from the parts, and there was no need to use time in cleaning them when brought from the oil.

Mrs. Rochel is the first woman to win The Tribune award, the five first winners having been men. She lives with her sons, Richard, 13, and Robert, 10, at 2223 Burling street and is their sole support.

Third Netherlands Princess Registered as Margriet

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 20 (AP).—The third daughter born last night to Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands was registered today as Margriet Francisca [Daisy Liberty], princess of Orange-Nassau, before the Dutch consul general, J. P. Luden. President Roosevelt was named as one of the godfathers.

COUNCIL GROUP URGES AN O.K. ON WOMEN'S SLACKS

The city council's judiciary committee yesterday recommended passage Monday at a council meeting of an amendment to a city ordinance stating that no person may wear attire not belonging to his or her sex. The amendment, introduced by Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st], would clarify the issue by adding "with intent to conceal his or her sex." Passage is subject to the approval of the corporation counsel's office.

The matter was brought to the attention of Cowhey by the arrest of Miss Evelyn Bross, 19 year old machinist, who wore slacks at her job.

Miss Bross, who lives at 2754 Jackson boulevard, denied she had attempted to conceal her sex. She was arraigned before Judge Jacob M. Braude in Women's court on a charge of violating the city ordinance, and was placed under psychiatric supervision until July 15.

Cowhey told the committee yesterday that, "We want legislation passed that will allow women to wear these comfortable clothes."

Mother Who Abandoned 2 Children Faces Court Today

Mrs. Bernice Lichtenwalter, 24 years old, of 2621 North avenue, who was arrested Tuesday night after she had left two of her three children at the North avenue police station Monday night, will face a charge of child abandonment in Felony court this morning. Mrs. Lichtenwalter, who sought to place the third child in the care of her mother, Mrs. Martha Jeske, 1446 North Western avenue, said her action resulted from the fact that she could not support the children on her $72 a month allotment from her husband, Curtis, who is in the army.

ANTI-NEW DEAL TREND SIGHTED IN MISSISSIPPI

Find Hints of Farm Revolt in Primary Outcome.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 20.—Politicians here hold that Mississippi showed the same sort of anti-New Deal swing in its Democratic primaries last September as was registered in the Republican sweep in the midwest in November.

Sen. James O. Eastland.

They assert this swing marks a growing revolt in the solid south against the Democratic party. In this state it ran strongly among farmers and business men, resentful of burocratic red tape and of what they consider discrimination.

James O. Eastland, the new senator, who defeated Sen. Wall Doxey in the Democratic run-off primaries, has pledged "I'll be no rubber stamp," and has assailed some aspects of the New Deal.

Gov. Paul B. Johnson had supported Eastland, while Sen. Theodore Bilbo [D., Miss.] worked for Doxey.

Wins Farm Approval.

Eastland served 88 days in the senate on gubernatorial appointment following the death of Sen. Pat Harrison and went to bat on the cotton problem and other questions. His foes ridiculed him as an upstart, but the farmers thought differently.

And it was the delta planters, the farmers, small business men, and others who put Eastland across in last fall's primaries. Bitter factional politics were involved in the fight, but the politicians declare a revulsion against the New Deal was the determining factor.

Conversations with people here uncover currents of resentment against red tape, questionnaires, and bureaus that seek to enforce their rules as laws.

Hold Vote Call for Action.

A view is expressed here that the vote was an order from the people to congressmen to get busy at winning the war and to cut out nonessentials and any burocratic activities that may be retarding the war.

Eastland declared in campaign speeches that every one is for all out war production, but that nonessential spending must cease and "money raised to whip the axis must not be squandered on pap, pie, and politics."

One statehouse official summed up the Mississippi situation as follows:

"People are breathing easier since the election. They served notice that they are sick of the New Deal. Here, of course, the Democratic party is the one party. But our party primary election was settled on the basis of resentment against the New Deal, just as it was in the midwest in the contest between Republicans and Democrats."

Attacks New Deal Activities.

Herbert Holmes, Jeffersonian Democrat who heads the Mississippi Democratic state executive committee, recently voiced opposition to creation of a southern Democratic party, but walloped some New Deal activities.

Mississippi is an agricultural state. The 1940 census showed 20 per cent of its 2,183,796 population was urban, while 80 per cent was rural. The state leads in long staple cotton output and is second in all cotton production.

The anti-New Deal feeling which appears to be permeating farmers is reflected in a resolution adopted in November by the Mississippi farm bureau federation, which said:

"We believe that the continuation and expansion of burocratic control seriously jeopardizes the democratic processes of government and the freedom for which we are fighting."

Rip Disguised Reforms.

It spoke of social reforms disguised as war measures, adding:

"The united spirit of the American people should not be disrupted, nor should seeds of discord be sown, by efforts to continue and expand programs of social reform under the guise of winning the war. Many of these social reforms will inevitably leave in their wake disorganized, discontented, and confused segments of society."

The bureau said in discussing the farm labor shortage that food and fiber production are as essential to winning the war as production of guns, tanks, and planes.

The farm security administration also was assailed. A resolution said a bureau congressional committee reported the FSA was "carrying on experiments in collective farming under a plan which appears to resemble the practice of collective farming in Russia."

INCOME TAX FORMS FOR 1942 MAILED BY CHICAGO COLLECTOR

One million nine hundred thousand income taxpayers of record will receive tax forms thru the mail within the next 15 days, Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, said yesterday when the first batch was sent out.

To speed the delivery so that taxpayers will have as much time as possible to fill out the forms and file their returns by March 15, Harrison said the 900 employés of his office would work on a 24 hour schedule. Forms and instructions are being supplied by the printer at the rate of only 50,000 a day, Harrison reported.

Forms for those who did not become taxpayers until the war trimmed exemptions will not become available to them until the mailing list of those who filed returns a year ago is supplied.

One million forms to be mailed by the office include form 1040A which is to be returned by citizens or resident aliens with a gross income of not more than $3,000 from salary, wages, dividends, interest, and annuities only. Nine hundred thousand of the total taxpayers who filed returns in 1942 will receive various other forms.

BANDITS FOILED; GET PEARLS ONLY IN HOLDUP OF 4

Presence of mind was credited by police with saving Dr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson of 232 East Walton street and Mrs. Freeman Hinckley and her daughter, Miss Eleanor McClurg of 209 Lake Shore drive, their fur coats and jewelry during a holdup by two armed men in front of the Ryerson home last night.

Mrs. Hinckley and her daughter were driving the Ryersons home from a Polish relief broadcast at the Palace theater, and had just stopped at the Ryerson home when the men appeared, demanding the coats and jewelry. Dr. Ryerson shouted to the apartment house doorman to call police and Mrs. Hinckley called out that the police were arriving.

The bandits grabbed a string of cultured pearls valued at $150, belonging to Miss McClurg, and fled.

REDS IN CONTROL OVER CREWS OF AMERICAN SHIPS

Charge Communists Rule Maritime Union.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 20.—War has brought no cleanup of the Communists who control the manning of the American merchant marine.

Before the war the National Maritime union, which is made up of the crews of ships plying out of ports along the North Atlantic, was dominated by the Communist party. A survey of conditions today shows the Reds have actually strengthened their grip on the merchant sailors during the first year the United States has been at war.

Russia's war effort has given the local brand of Communists here in New York a cloak of respectability under which they have been operating ever since Germany attacked the soviet. Before that, however, the Communists and their Red comrades within the NMU were violently opposed to the war as being "imperialistic" and "capitalistic."

Raiding Longshoremen's Union.

At present the Communist leaders within the NMU are engaged in raiding the ranks of the International Longshoremen's union, an American Federation of Labor organization, according to ILA president Joseph P. Ryan.

This is in direct violation of pledges between the CIO, parent organization of NMU, and the AFL not to raid each others' unions during the war. According to Ryan's charges, NMU activities are disrupting the supply lines to our armies and allies abroad for the ILA has 75,000 dock workers who load up the convoys that go overseas.

Navy men who serve as gun crews on the merchant ships have brought back stories of how many merchant sailors are surly, lazy, undisciplined and ambitious only to get their hands on the huge bonuses they receive for going into the war zones.

Returning to the port of New York, NMU sailors have been interviewed by the Daily Worker, official Communist newspaper. The sailors have discussed such matters as "red-baiting" and the way the Communist cause is faring in other parts of the world they have visited.

A shadowy figure back of the NMU is the notorious Roy Hudson, a veteran Red leader and IWW agitator of the last war, now known as the Communist "czar" of the waterfront. He heads the waterfront section of the Communist party and is also known as "Horse Face" and "The Bishop."

Another Red leader who guides the affairs of the NMU is Tommie Ray. Ray writes the speeches for Joe Curran, NMU president, who has been following the Communist party line.

Follow Communist Line.

Curran has been in the saddle since the paralyzing maritime strikes of 1936 and 1937 which were run by the Communists from behind the scenes on the New York water front. Under the Curran régime, the NMU has followed the zig-zagging Communist party line policy with fanatical devotion.

In the days before Germany's attack on Russia, NMU leaders faithfully followed the Communist line against American involvement in the war.

The NMU leaders promoted the "Yanks Aren't Coming" movement of the Reds.

Today the NMU, keeping in step with the party line propaganda, is yelling for a "second front" in Europe to relieve the Red army.

In the early days of the NMU Joe Curran was among those who frankly charged the union was under Communist domination. Curran went over from a position of criticism of the Communist control to one of complete coöperation in 1936.

It is regarded as legitimate and as good strategy in the Communist party not to admit you are a member. Curran has always denied he had a card in the party, but his numerous direct connections have been exposed at various times by the Dies committee. A few instances of these are as follows:

1. Curran's autograph on the delegate's card of Kenneth Goff at the eighth national convention of the Young Communist league.

2. Curran speaking for the American Youth congress, a Red "front" organization.

3. Curran's article in the Champion Labor monthly, a publication of the Young Communist league.

4. Curran's article in the Fraternal Outlook, official publication of the International Workers order, completely controled by the Communist party.

5. Curran's speaking before the International Workers order.

6. Curran's signing, along with many avowed Communists, of the Golden Book of American Friendship with the soviet union.

Appears with Communists.

7. Curran's speaking on the same platform with avowed Communists at a meeting of the Conference on Constitutional Liberties in America.

8. Curran's sponsorship of the American relief ship for Spain, a Communist "front" activity for the purpose of raising funds for Loyalists in Spain.

9. Curran's signing of the call to the Mexican and Spanish-American Peoples congress, an out and out Communist affair.

10. Curran's article in Fight magazine, offical publication of the American League for Peace and Democracy, which Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle named a Communist "front" organization in his ruling that Harry Bridges, west coast alien radical, should be deported.

11. Curran's speaking at a Madison Square Garden meeting when the Communist party paid for use of the building.

For several years before the United States became embroiled in the war, the Communists conducted their own marine training school in New York for the purpose of teaching party workers techniques for organizing young seamen.

Arnold W. Joerns and Mrs. Joerns.

Arnold W. Joerns, president of the Resources Corporation International, posted a $2,000 ne exeat bond yesterday before Judge Thomas Lynch of the Circuit court in connection with the separate maintenance suit filed Tuesday by his wife, Estelle, 519 Barry avenue. She charges cruelty. The bond is a guarantee against his leaving the court's jurisdiction.

The writ was served Tuesday, and Joerns was held in technical custody over night until he posted bond. He protested he had no intention of fleeing the county, adding his only absences would be business trips to Mexico now and then. Joerns protested his wife did not understand the meaning of the writ in that "it might put the father of her children in jail." Mrs. Joerns' answer was that she did understand the meaning.

Mrs. Joerns' lawyer, Joseph T. Harrington, also obtained an injunction tying up Joerns' assets. Joerns is scheduled to go on trial April 15 in the federal District court on charges of operating a $7,000,000 fraud thru sale of stock in his company in a Mexican timber development.

JAPS FACE SHIP SHORTAGE; 445 SUNK BY ALLIES

60 Destroyers and 38 Cruisers Sent Down.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Allied submarines, warships, and planes have destroyed at least 445 Japanese naval and merchant ships, and reports from axis sources indicate the Nipponese are facing a serious shipping shortage.

With their conquests sprawled over more than 5,000 miles of the Pacific ocean, and their ship production unequal to match the pace of their sinkings, the Japanese apparently are turning desperately to ersatz means of sea transport such as Chinese-type junks and tremendous bamboo rafts.

Subs Sink 117 Vessels.

American submarines alone have sunk 117 vessels, probably sunk 22, and damaged 31. The Japs have lost 98 cruisers and destroyers.

The Japanese have lost 57 vessels in the Solomons and 15 in the Aleutians. A war department spokesman said Gen. MacArthur's forces destroyed 19 warships and 86 merchantmen in the New Guinea campaign.

Box Score of Jap Losses.

The following is a box score of Japanese ship losses since Pearl Harbor:

Battleships	2	Minesweepers	10
Aircraft carriers	6	Gunboats	7
Cruisers	38	Patrol boats	6
Destroyers	60	Supply ships	13
Submarines	29	Oilers	4
Transports	97	Auxiliaries	9
Merchantmen	148	Miscellaneous	15

WPB Bans Inorganic Salts in Anti-Freeze Solutions

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 [Special].—The war production board today prohibited the manufacture of anti-freeze solutions compounded with inorganic salts or petroleum distillate as the result of widespread complaints from motorists, truck operators, and service stations thruout the country that such solutions, which have been distributed in large quantities, have been found highly destructive to radiators, ignition systems, and rubber connections in cars and trucks.

CHILE CUTS TIES TO AXIS; FASCIST ALIENS GUARDED

A Move for Continental Solidarity, Says Rios.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 20 (AP).—Chile severed relations with the axis powers today, and President Juan Antonio Rios told his people in a broadcast tonight that it was a step toward continental solidarity and in defense of democracy.

President Juan Antonio Rios.

Rios explained the rupture with Germany, Japan, and Italy in a half-hour address from the government palace.

The Chilean senate had approved the decision last night by a 30 to 10 vote, and Rios afterward signed the decree to oust axis diplomats. A roundup of all axis nationals was quickly begun.

Peoples Not Repudiated.

Rios said the break with the axis nations was of "a strictly diplomatic nature," and "does not mean in any way repudiation of the peoples of Italy, Germany, and Japan."

In an apparent reference to Argentina, the only American republic still continuing relations with the axis powers, Rios said, "It is my firm intention and the will of my government and our country to continue at peace and most cordial relations with all brother countries of America whatever direction they wish to take in their international policy."

Foreign Minister Joaquin Fernandez called in the American diplomatic corps to make the announcement.

The Chilean break was foreshadowed by the visit of Interior Minister Raul Morales to Washington, Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires in December to sound out the attitudes of the belligerents in the United States and Brazil and the steadfast neutrals of Argentina.

Circles close to the government said a drive to eliminate axis espionage and liquidate fifth column activities will accompany the break.

Hull Welcomes Break.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today said that Chile's action in breaking diplomatic relations with the axis powers was "an important contribution to the security of the continent."

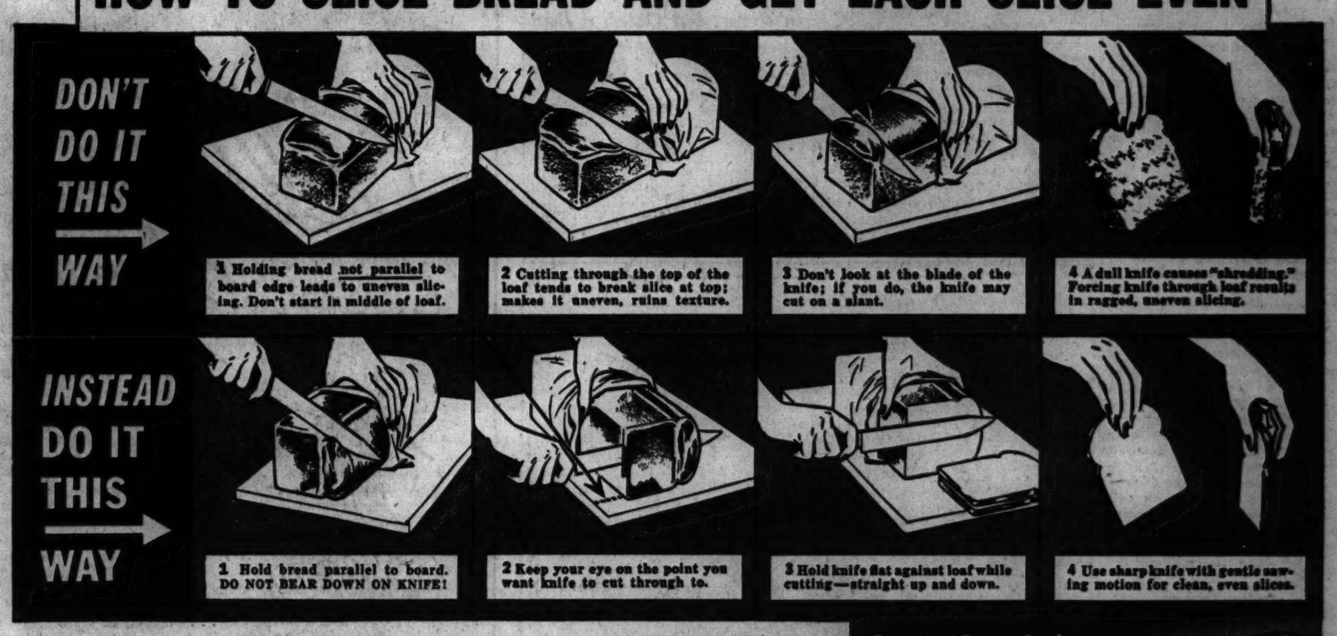
LADY! SHARPEN YOUR BREAD KNIFE

Effective Monday, January 18th, The Slicing Of Bread By Bakers Prohibited By The Food Administrator As A War Measure . . . So Now You Must Slice Your Own

HOW TO SLICE BREAD AND GET EACH SLICE EVEN



DON'T DO IT THIS WAY
1 Holding bread not parallel to board edge leads to uneven slicing. Don't start in middle of loaf.
2 Cutting through the top of the loaf tends to break slice at top; makes it uneven, ruins texture.
3 Don't look at the blade of the knife; if you do, the knife may cut on a slant.
4 A dull knife causes "shredding." Forcing knife through loaf results in ragged, uneven slicing.
INSTEAD DO IT THIS WAY
1 Hold bread parallel to board. DO NOT BEAR DOWN ON KNIFE!
2 Keep your eye on the point you want knife to cut through to.
3 Hold knife flat against loaf while cutting—straight up and down.
4 Use sharp knife with gentle sawing motion for clean, even slices.

GET WONDER BREAD

Slo-baked texture—easy to slice!
Brings you Vitamin B_1

You will want to save the important chart you see above.

These pictures show what not to do and what to do in order to slice today's unsliced bread and get each slice even—top to bottom and across.

Now more than ever before you'll appreciate the easy slicing, firm tenderness of slo-baked Wonder Bread.

In addition, Wonder Bread contains Vitamin B_1. Which vitamin, science discovers, is necessary in order to help transform bread into energy properly.

And 3 out of 4 people fail to get plenty of Vitamin B_1 in their diet naturally, according to figures from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Then, too, Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it.

So get this easy-to-slice, doubly fresh Wonder Bread from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did!

FOR YOUR GREATER COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE

ALL SPACE ON Rockets IS NOW RESERVED

A railroad's duty to its patrons is to take them safely to their destinations. On occasion, train travel may not now be as comfortable and convenient as in normal times, but there can be no compromise with safety.

The capacity of our ROCKET trains is limited. For the duration of the war, present capacity cannot be increased due to our inability to secure new equipment.

In the interest of providing maximum safety and comfort for our patrons, we find it necessary to limit the loading of our ROCKETS to the available accommodations on each of these trains. All space on these trains is now being reserved. Specific seats will be assigned to passengers when transportation is purchased, up to the capacity of the train, and it will be necessary for those for whom accommodations cannot be provided on the ROCKETS to ride other trains, on which we shall do everything possible to provide adequate and comfortable accommodations.

ROCKET RESERVATION PLAN

1. All space in coaches, parlor cars and Pullman sleeping cars of ROCKETS is now reserved. Passengers will be required to secure reservations in advance.
2. Space in ROCKETS is obtainable at ticket offices. ROCKET reservation tickets indicating the space assigned will be issued at time transportation is purchased.
3. Space reserved in advance of ticket purchase will be held only for the length of time specified in current rules governing Pullman reservations. This will necessitate space being claimed and tickets purchased within those limits.
4. ROCKET reservations are to be presented to train crews by all passengers before boarding ROCKETS.

This plan, necessitated by the unusually heavy essential wartime travel by rail, will be of greatest benefit and least inconvenience if travelers will make reservations, purchase tickets early, and will confer with their Rock Island representatives about the details.

Seats are NOT reserved in through coach on trains 107-7 and 8-108 between Kansas City and Denver, and Zephyr-Rocket between Twin Cities and St. Louis.

GERMAN BOMBERS KILL 31 PUPILS IN LONDON SCHOOL

Turned Back in 4 Other Stabs at Capital.

LONDON, Jan. 21 [Thursday]—(AP).—The German air force stabbed at London four times during the night, but indications were that the Nazis had done no damage after a furious daylight raid yesterday which smashed a schoolhouse and killed at least 31 children.

Last night and early today the Germans reached the outskirts of London only once. Otherwise the four alarms in the London area produced almost no incidents.

34 Bodies Recovered.

Bodies of 31 children and 3 teachers were taken from the school bombed by daylight raiders, and at least 30 other children were trapped under debris. Twenty-five children were taken to hospitals. It was the worst air raid blow suffered by London schools.

Only six raiders eluded London's defenses, but the school was razed.

Bombs falling in other sections of London during the day killed 16 children and 9 women. Probably 30 heavily escorted raiders were bound for London and at least 13 fighter bombers were shot down by royal air force fighters.

First Day Raid Since July.

The raid caused the first daylight alert in the British capital since Oct. 26 and was the first day bombing since July 17.

British planes attacked rail targets in northern France and Belgium during the day and also bombed factories at Hengelo, Holland.

SAILORS RECORD W-G-N SHOW FOR USE ON SUNDAY

Twelve hundred young men, 600 bluejackets of the United States navy and 600 boys of the Chicago Vocational school, 8023 Normal avenue, participated yesterday afternoon in the half hour recorded radio program, "Citizens of Tomorrow," which will be heard Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock on W-G-N.

Capt. M. E. Browder, U. S. N.

The entertainment was heard in the auditorium of the United States Naval Training school of advanced aviation, 87th street and Anthony avenue. Speaking on the program were the new commanding officer, Capt. Maurice E. Browder, U. S. N.; Warren E. Hill, acting director of the vocational school, and Joseph Meagher, aviation machinist's mate, first class. Meagher was in a navy plane at the battle of Midway.

Others in the show were Robert and Richard Stammerjohn, twins, and 15 sophomores at the vocational school. Their names were placed on the program's roll of honor and the lads were interviewed by Philip Maxwell of THE TRIBUNE, the entertainment's master of ceremonies.

Preceding the recording, the United States marines presented the national colors and the navy flag.

YANKS IN TUNISIA BLAST AXIS WITH A 'SKIP' BOMBER

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN AIR FIELD IN TUNISIA, Jan. 11 [Delayed].—The Boston bombers operating from this field only now are beginning to be used on the proper missions for which their crews were trained.

The Boston, or A-20 low altitude attack bomber, is handled by crews trained to do "skip bombing," in which the plane flies just above the ground and the pilot releases bombs equipped with delayed action fuses while protected by two gunners and a fighter plane.

The outfit here first was used on long range, high altitude missions.

But now these Bostons are being used on the jobs for which their crews were trained, attacking "right on deck," which is flyers' slang for zero altitude.

Police Seize 5 in Raids on 3 Alleged Handbooks

A police squad led by Capt. Thomas J. Duffy yesterday routed a dozen shivering citizens out of a room at 179 North Wells street, warmed only by an electric heater, and arrested three of them, Max Halper, 42 years old; Abe Cooper, 51, and Ernest Di Cicco, 55, as suspected operators of a gambling house. The squad also raided alleged handbooks at 547 South Wells street, arresting Donald MacKay, 58, and at 122 East Cermak road, arresting Christopher Keller.

$6,000 LOSS in HOG HOUSE FIRE.

One hundred twenty sows, feeder and baby pigs perished yesterday in a fire that destroyed a modern hog house on Elmwood farm No. 2 at 1390 South Ridge road, Lake Forest. The owner, Mrs. George Rasmussen, widow of the founder of the National Tea company, estimated damage at $6,000.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out about 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. 10¢ and 25¢.

Rescues Kitten

Susan May Stuart with kitten she saved from burning home at 2909 Prairie avenue.

Three children were killed and five adults were taken to Michael Reese hospital for treatment of injuries yesterday when fire swept thru a rooming house at 2909 Prairie avenue. All are colored. The dead children are Beulah Kyser, 7 years old; Betty Louise Kyser, 4, and Isaac Walton Kyser, 5, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Kyser. The father is a packing house worker. Michael J. Cody, deputy fire marshal, estimated damage at $5,000 and said the blaze probably was caused by an overheated stove.

John Kopp, 34 years old, 1570 Clybourn avenue, died in Evangelical hospital early yesterday of burns suffered several hours earlier in an explosion at the Pyroxylin Products corporation, 4851 South St. Louis avenue. Two other workmen also were burned.

Firemen yesterday found the body of Mrs. Margaret Lease, 67 years old, a cripple, in the ruins of her home on Ridgeland avenue, east of West Chicago, victim of an early morning fire. The six room structure was destroyed. An overheated stove was believed to have caused the blaze.

FIGHTING FRENCH CALL PEYROUTON ANOTHER DARLAN

London Press Attacks New Algeria Chief.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Marcel Peyrouton's reported appointment as governor general of Algeria was greeted by Fighting French circles and some sections of the London press today with almost as much hostility as was shown toward Adm. Jean Darlan when he became high commissioner of French North Africa.

Under the heading: "Fighting French Damn New Algiers Chief, Former Vichy Boss," the Daily Mirror said Fighting French headquarters regarded this development as a "great blow."

A Fighting French spokesman said Peyrouton's appointment added "confusion to the situation in North Africa."

Called Political Blunder.

The Daily Herald branded the appointment as "a political blunder of the first order," which will be fatal to the chances of an agreement between Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Fighting French, and Gen. Henri Honoré Giraud, who succeeded Adm. Darlan as commissioner.

The paper voiced a suspicion that the American "state department has fallen for his suave assurances and has persuaded Gen. Giraud to appoint him to this key position." In any case, the paper declared, Peyrouton is "the worst choice that could have been made. He is distrusted by Frenchmen of all parties, detested by the Arab population, and loathed by Gen. De Gaulle and his colleagues."

Tells of Post-War Plan.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told commons that Britain was preparing a program of post-war economic coöperation in consultation with the United States, Russia, and other allied nations. In reply to a question whether this meant there was no truth to a report that Britain and Russia were at loggerheads, Eden said:

"I think I can reassure him completely on that point."

The only questions Eden answered concerning Africa were those about political prisoners. He assured the house that both Britain and the United States had urged the immediate release of all North African prisoners held because of their sympathy with the allies. He said many already have been freed and that others whose status was not clear were being investigated by a mixed commission.

FIRE DESTROYS HIGH SCHOOL.

Coldwater, Mich., Jan. 20.—Fire, said to have resulted from an overheated heating plant, destroyed the Homer High school at Homer, near here, early today. The loss was approximately $60,000.

NAZIS PROPOSED 'PEACE' IN 1940, DAVIES REVEALS

Asserts Hitler Used U. S. Group as Interoessors.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20 (AP).—Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia, disclosed today that in 1940 he was approached by Nazi spokesmen—at a conference suggested by "certain well meaning citizens of our own country"—with a proposed peace treaty, to be signed by German military or other government officials and under which Hitler would be "retired."

"I made it clear to these gentlemen that, in my opinion, it was an impossible peace," declared Davies in a speech here.

Invited by Civic Leaders.

Davies said he attended the conference at the request of "certain important civic and business leaders in this country," whom he said "quite innocently, I am sure, were used by Hitler to further his plan to conquer the world and ourselves."

He said that at the meeting, held in New York, the Nazi spokesmen "stated that they were authorized by high Nazi party and military authorities to say that they would make a peace which would be agreeable to any reasonable demand, which fair minded men would require.

"In order to make it possible for England to make a peace with other than a Hitler government they would guarantee that Hitler would be retired and devote his remaining years to reading and writing as an elder statesman; and that the proposed peace treaty would be signed by a military or other government, whose word Britain could accept.

Seemed Fair, at First.

"On the face of it, their proposal seemed very fair. Upon digging into the specific terms, however," . . . something else appeared . . . "namely the condition for this peace which Germany required and the price we would have to pay was that it should keep the dominant place which it had achieved by conquest of Europe and be permitted to project its new order in Europe without interference.

"It was a proposal directly in line with the declared military and political technique of Hitler, which he had repeatedly declared, namely, make peace with your enemy at the height of your success in order to consolidate your gains and renew your strength for a subsequent attack which would make 'the kill' still more easy."

SPECIAL ENVOY OF U. S. DIES IN SURINAM CRASH

New York, Jan. 20 [Special].—William Hodson, welfare commissioner of New York City, on his way to Africa on a government mission and understood to be one of a "load of celebrities," was killed this week in a plane crash at Paramaribo, capital of Surinam.

Giving no details of the accident, the state department notified his wife today at the family's home here. It said a statement would be made tomorrow.

Hodson, 51 year old sociological expert and a member of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia's cabinet, was granted two months' leave of absence the first of the year to undertake a secret mission for former Gov. Herbert Lehman, director of foreign relief and rehabilitation.

Hodson was believed to have transferred to a plane in Surinam for a hop across the South Atlantic.

Resume Task of Selecting Puckett Trial Jury Today

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 20 (AP).—Selection of a jury to hear murder charges against Will R. Puckett, 64 years old, Chicago, will be resumed in Tippecanoe Circuit court tomorrow after two days' delay. A second special venire of 25 prospective jurors is to report. Four men and a woman have been selected tentatively by the prosecution. Puckett is charged with the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Ella May Puckett, 67.

'GOOD DOC AND LUCK' SAVE CHICAGO ENSIGN IN EPIC SEA OPERATION

"I had a good doc and I guess I was lucky," said Ensign Kenneth B. Nelson, 26 years old, yesterday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex E. Nelson, 1911 Morse avenue, where he is on sick leave after undergoing an appendectomy aboard a pitching coast guard cutter during a 100 miles an hour gale in the North Atlantic.

Kenneth Nelson.

The operation at sea was performed last month by Lt. [j. g.] Paul W. Lucas of Durham, N. C., assisted by a warrant machinist, a chief pharmacist's mate and an electrician's mate, first class, the navy revealed. The operating table was secured to a false wooden deck installed over the concrete deck of the "operating room."

"I feel fine now," Ensign Nelson added, "and hope to be returned to active duty soon."

He is a graduate of Sullivan High school and Beloit college and was employed in the offices of Bliss & Laughlin, Inc., steel manufacturers, prior to his enlistment in September, 1941.

HULL: BATTLE, NOT POLITICS, SERIOUS IN NORTH AFRICA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull sharply rebuked today those who devote more attention to political and social questions in North Africa than to the critical battle being waged there.

He told his press conference he wished Americans could get their minds on the war for a few minutes out of each day. If people preoccupied with the situation in French Africa could devote a little time to the actual war going on there, he suggested, they might be able to sleep better at night.

He said he felt strongly that Americans should not overlook the seriousness of the military situation in French Africa and the responsibility of all—especially those in official positions—to give their best coöperation to it, especially so long as the situation remained critical.

Hull wearily brushed aside questions concerning the appointment of Marcel Peyrouton as governor general of Algeria, referring questioners to the war department.

HITLER SELECTS NEW COMMANDER OF TUNISIA ARMY

LONDON, Jan. 20 (AP).—Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim today was revealed as commander of the German forces in Tunisia. He was chosen for the job by Adolf Hitler to solve a growing conflict between his predecessor, Gen. Walther Nehring, nominally in charge of all axis African operations, and Marshal Erwin Rommel, commander of the Africa corps. London sources said he is a brilliant offensive tactician, but inexperienced in defensive operations of the type lately conducted by Nehring in Tunisia and by Rommel in Libya.

BRITON DEMANDS U.S. PLANES FOR TRANSPORT USE

RAF Using American Dive Bombers.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The R. A. F. now is using American dive bombers in active combat, Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair informed the house of commons today.

Emanuel Shinwell, Laborite, asked whether Britain had abandoned the production of dive bombers, but Sinclair explained that this country never had produced these planes, relying upon United States production to equip the R. A. F.

In addition to war planes, Sinclair also was urged today to ask the United States government to supply the British Overseas corporation with a "number of new boats" to replace old transport aircraft.

Agreement with U. S.

The suggestion was made by O. E. Simmonds, Conservative, who, referring to the recent loss of a British flying boat near Lisbon and the death of 13 of its 15 occupants, advocated that the United States should provide Britain with replacements "in view of the fact that we have an understanding with the United States government that, while we made military types, they would make transport types."

Sinclair avoided a direct reply, saying he would prefer to await a report from the inquiry into the loss of the flying boat before reaching a decision.

Plan Post-War Aviation.

The problem of world aviation after the war is being studied by a special committee under the chairmanship of Capt. A. G. Lamplugh. In a statement today the committee says "the urgent need for some general outline on the future development of civil aviation has been evident for some time."

The committee already has reviewed the "whole field of aviation, including relations with allied and neutral governments, and the technical and financial aspects." Further discussions with British, allied and neutral authorities is planned before a formal report is issued.

Many schemes have been advanced concerning the organization and control of machines, pilots, and routes following the war, including the formation of some sort of international body, with Britain and America predominating in its control, to cover the world.

3,200 U. S. TANKS, 2,600 AIRPLANES SENT TO RUSSIA

Total Aid Still Not Enough, Says Lend-Lease Chief.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—Lend-lease shipments to Russia have included more than 3,200 tanks, almost 2,600 planes, and 81,000 military vehicles, it was disclosed today by Edward R. Stettinius, lend-lease administrator. He added that this amount still was not enough and that some supplies had been lost en route. The figures were as of Jan. 1, 1943.

Edward R. Stettinius.

Stettinius reported that important progress was made in 1942, that "lend-lease aid to Russia is growing to a sizeable proportion" and "will grow still more in 1943." He added:

"We have not yet been able to send as much as we should like—or as much as the soviet army needs—and part of what we have sent has been lost on the way.

Reports Continued Increase.

"But, after a slow start, lend-lease shipments have greatly increased. They are continuing to increase in spite of the shortage of shipping and enemy attacks along the difficult supply routes to Russia."

Stettinius said shipments of war supplies to Russia reached a new high in November, exports being 13 times the total sent in January, 1942. Military items accounted for two-thirds of the value of November shipments, the balance being food and industrial materials for munitions factories.

He also reported that British shipments to Russia included more than 2,600 tanks and more than 2,000 planes.

"Lend-lease shipments of food to the soviet union from the United States are rapidly growing in importance," Stettinius said, adding that we now are sending more food to Russia than to Great Britain.

Stettinius said tank shipments to Russia under lend-lease were greater than to any other country since the beginning of the program in March, 1941, altho such aid to Russia did not begin until October, 1941.

Seek to Divert No. 53 Buses to La Salle Street Route

The Chicago Motor Coach company could cut its running time five minutes, relieve the bus congestion on Michigan avenue, save 21,000 bus miles annually, and serve the west side of the loop by diverting some of its No. 53 buses, Clarendon-Wilson, from Lake Shore drive and Michigan avenue thru Lincoln park on Stockton drive and south on La Salle street, Kay Lorenzen, traffic manager of the company, yesterday told the Illinois commerce commission. The diversion to La Salle street has been asked by the City club.

SOCIAL WORKERS PLOT RETURN IN RELIEF MERGER

Brandon Supports Plan to Give Him Rule.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

Social workers are attempting a comeback thru a proposal to merge relief, old age assistance, and aid to dependent children under the state department of public welfare, it was learned yesterday. The Illinois general assembly will decide the form of the merger requested in general terms by Gov. Dwight H. Green.

Once the social workers had a free hand in spending the taxpayers' money. Relief costs have been decreased to a tiny fraction of their former bulk. The executive secretary of the Illinois public aid commission is Raymond M. Hilliard, who is not a professional social worker.

Plan Supported by Brandon.

Rodney Brandon, whose department of public welfare already has the largest number of employés of any state agency, is supporting the social workers' proposal to place the I. P. A. C. functions under him.

Originators of the plan are David L. Robinson Jr., former WPA official, and member of the American Society of Planning Officials, who is executive director of the Public Administration Service, and Ralph E. Spear, executive assistant of the American Public Welfare association.

Opponents Suspect Federal Aim.

Opponents of the plan suspect that one purpose is to make all public aid more susceptible to federal pressure thru the leverage of matching federal funds for state funds in the old age assistance and aid to dependent children programs.

On the other hand, the 10-man Illinois public aid commission of citizens who receive no pay could not be intimidated, according to this point of view. Seven I. P. A. C. members are appointed by the governor. The state director of finance, state auditor, and state treasurer are members ex-officio. The present appointed members:

Edward L. Ryerson, chairman; A. F. Shafter of Decatur, secretary; Frank L. Sulzberger; Harold G. Baker, East St. Louis; John A. Fairlie, professor at University of Illinois; William McFetridge, and William H. Sexton.

Proponents of the commission system say that if the merger is effected their way, the present upward trend in old age assistance rolls may be reversed.

DISCLOSES NAZIS BOAST FHA AND OTHER CONTACTS

Newark, N. J., Jan. 20 (AP).—Peter Gissibl, a government witness, testified in federal court today that his brother, Maj. Gen. Fritz Gissibl of the Nazi elite guard, had mentioned establishing connections with the federal housing administration and certain other government agencies.

The testimony was incidental to denaturalization proceedings against 15 former German nationals. Details were not brought out, nor were the other agencies identified.

Himself a bund leader, Gissibl said Fritz Kuhn returned from a visit to Germany about 1937, told of visiting Adolf Hitler at the fuerher's mountain retreat, and said Hitler had given him instructions for carrying out Nazi plans in the United States.

Under cross-examination, the witness said he had been a unit leader in Chicago several years and had worked for the bund in Milwaukee. All his activity, he said, had been during spare time while he was a tailor.

WOMAN HURT IN TROLLEY CRASH.

One woman was injured when an Archer avenue street car jumped a frozen switch and collided with another at Archer avenue and Halsted street yesterday. Mrs. Catherine Ricks, 37, a Negro, 3737 Federal street, suffered leg and back injuries. Twenty-five other passengers were uninjured, police said.

THE QUESTION.

What self-glamorizing resolutions have you made for 1943?

WHERE ASKED.

Hotel Ambassador East.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Paul W. Oliver, 1078 Elm street, Winnetka—It wasn't solely for glamor that I began brushing my hair 50 strokes before retiring. I received the most beautiful nylon comb and brush set for Christmas and I just hated to waste it. The results are pleasing.

Mrs. Robert A. Carr, 220 East Walton street—I intend to be a little more glamorous in my sleep. I have discarded my ordinary looking Dr. Denton sleepers for a number my sister suggested. It's made of pink soft spun rayon and I imagine it does do more for me.

Mrs. John B. Tew, 15825 Willard avenue, Harvey—A real outdoor schedule is what I figured would improve my vitality and appearance. Every day of this new year I've outlined an outdoor job for myself and have done it. I shovel snow now; later there'll be lawns to mow.

Mrs. John W. Kearns, 1270 Scott avenue, Winnetka—I began 1943 determined to streamline my figure. I've worked out some exercises and take them every day at the same hour. I keep time to special phonograph records and am acquiring rhythm as I reduce.

Mrs. Ralph E. Ellis, 342 Forest street, Winnetka—So many things have been said about the advantages of living on a regular schedule I thought I'd try it. It's easier for me because I have two children who run right on schedule. I find the effect is very beneficial.

Mrs. Kemper Spencer, 50 West Schiller street—This is the first year I've been able to do such a good job of keeping my self-improvement resolution. I resolved to do a lot of brisk walking outdoors and with government restrictions spurring me on I'm really getting places.

WPB REVOKES BAN ON USE OF WOOL IN ROBES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—To help people keep warm, the war production board today revoked a prohibition against the use of wool in bathrobes and other lounging wear.

The new order permits 65 per cent new wool in lounging robes, bathrobes, beachcoats, housecoats, negligees, lounging pajamas, and similar apparel. The balance of the fabric can be made of reclaimed or reused wool, wool noils, or other types of fabric.

WPB said it acted "as a further step toward assuring civilians an adequate supply of warm apparel for indoors wear as one means of coping with the fuel shortage."

ENCYCLOPEDIA PUBLISHING FIRM GIVEN TO U. OF C.

Owned and Operated by Sears Since 1920.

An outright gift of the 175 year old Encyclopædia Britannica business by Sears, Roebuck and company to the University of Chicago, was announced yesterday by Gen. R. E. Wood, chairman of the company's board of directors, and Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university.

Altho the gift places the university directly in the commercial publishing industry as owners of a going enterprise, no changes in the present management of Encyclopædia Britannica, Inc., are contemplated, Hutchins said. Members of the university staff will operate in much the same manner as the former owners in sponsoring the firm's activities and in acting in an advisory capacity to the present encyclopædia staff. Offices will continue to be maintained at 20 North Wacker drive.

Bought by Sears in 1920.

The Encyclopædia Britannica has been controled by Sears, Roebuck since 1920, when the mail order company financed publication at the time post-war bankruptcy threatened destruction of the plates for the 24-volume set.

A. S. Barrows, president of Sears, said his company gave the publishing business to the university because the enterprise "is now foreign to our business." Another Sears official, when asked to estimate the value of Encyclopædia Britannica, Inc., referred to the business' listing on Sears' annual consolidated statement, where its value since 1937 has been given annually as $1.

Important Financial Gift.

This same official said, however, that Encyclopædia Britannica, Inc., has just "enjoyed the best year it has ever had."

"Financially, the gift should be an important one to the university," Hutchins said. "We are grateful for it."

"As one of the great universities of the world, the University of Chicago is best equipped to own and conduct an enterprise of such educational importance as the Britannica," Barrows said.

Nine Carloads of Coffee Lost in Warehouse Fire

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP).—The $200,000 loss, estimated by firemen, was not the worst feature of a warehouse fire early today. Nine carloads of precious, rationed coffee were consumed. A wholesale automobile parts establishment also was destroyed.

MICHIGAN PUTS HARD LIQUOR ON RATIONED BASIS

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 20 [Special].—Michigan purchasers of "hard liquor" were placed on rations today by the state liquor control commission. Coincidentally word was received here that the commission's Democratic chairman, Ralph Thomas of Detroit, is tendering his resignation to Gov. Harry F. Kelly, new Republican governor.

The commission announced that buyers would be limited in the future to two quarts of spirits sold thru the state monopoly at any one time. Limitations also were placed on wholesale purchases by package liquor distributors and by-the-drink licensees. Not more than four cases of any single brand of certain liquor items will be sold to such dealers.

Gov. Kelly said he had not received Thomas' resignation but the chairman announced he was resigning because of the press of private business as head of a printing firm. Kelly commended Thomas for having "rendered a real service to the state" and said he planned a conference before deciding whether the resignation would be accepted.

EDUCATIONAL.

This Electron Microscope recently added to the Illinois Tech Physics Department, is the only one in the Chicago area, the 34th in the United States and the 41st in the world.

The Consolidation of ARMOUR AND LEWIS INSTITUTES

Your eyesight times 100,000

By studying little things science is gradually uncovering long-hidden secrets of the universe. Now, Illinois Tech gives its students intimate first hand acquaintance with these wonders through the Electron Microscope which magnifies up to 100,000 diameters. The use of the Electron Microscope indicates what this school is doing towards giving young men and women the technological training so vital to the war . . . and to the peace which will follow it. Aeronautics, Architecture, Business, Chemistry, Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Fire Protection Engineering, Electronics, Home Economics, Mechanical Engineering, Metallurgy and Physics represent a few of the technological fields Illinois Tech covers, in regular, special and evening courses. AFRICAN ERRORS.

Complaint has been general and justified at the paucity of information given the public on the North African operation, but thru this veil of secrecy one fact is glaringly apparent. A mistake was made when the operation was assigned to an allied force.

All military history shows that allied operations are awkward. Even when undertaken with the best feeling and the utmost generosity for each other's faults there is inevitable friction between men and commanders of different nations that impairs efficiency. The only excuse that is ever acceptable for imposing these handicaps on an army is that neither or none of the allies has force enough to do the job alone. That could not have been true in North Africa. The limitation on the size of the expeditionary force there was neither man power nor land equipment.

It is obvious from this that the occupation was an allied one from political and not military motives. Americans are not disposed to dwell at length on Franco-British relations, inasmuch as the British are our present allies and we hope to enlist the whole-souled coöperation of the French, but certain facts are self-evident. The American landing forces have been welcomed in Algeria and Morocco. The scattered resistance that greeted the initial landings was terminated the moment Gen. Eisenhower made his agreement with Adm. Darlan, and hundreds, if not thousands, of American lives were saved thereby.

For reasons that it is unnecessary to fathom, but which plainly exist, the French reaction to the British participants in the occupation was less cordial than to the Americans. The French, who had resisted and resented the earlier British effort at Dakar, apparently took alarm when the British army approached Tunisia. From what information has been allowed to leak out, it appears that rather than admit the British the French commandant in that area let in the Germans and Italians, who had the physical means which he lacked for a defense against the British army. It is in Tunisia that the bright hopes and valiant predictions of last November have, for the time being at least, been dulled.

The conduct of the African operations has been severely hampered by irresponsible criticism both in this country and in England which Willkieites, and Communists, and like rabble have heaped upon Gen. Eisenhower's arrangement with local French authorities. The politics of these Frenchmen, whatever they may be, should be ignored during the military operation. Gen. Eisenhower, naturally, has dealt with those in authority in the land which he is occupying, and not with refugees living in England on lend-lease money who are hampering the American effort.

It may be too late to retrieve the errors which have had an obviously deleterious effect on the African campaign, but no time should be lost in curing the primary error of using a mixed force. If we are not to evacuate and turn the job over to the British, the British should do so and get out of our way. It is not a question of relative fighting quality but one of the military efficiency that can come only from a homogeneous army.

PAID NOT TO WORK.

There are 40,000 Illinois workmen, receiving more than half a million dollars a week in unemployment compensation from the Illinois state treasury, who could have jobs if they would take them, but who won't. Francis B. Murphy, director of the state labor department, ascribes the reluctance of the unemployment compensation beneficiaries to go to work to their fear that Mr. McNutt and his federal man power commission will freeze them in jobs at lower pay than they are accustomed to receiving. For this reason, he says, building tradesmen don't want to go to work for 80 or 90 cents an hour in airplane plants and coal miners don't want to help out on the farms at $3 a day.

There has been relatively little freezing of workers in jobs as yet. The fear of it, which Mr. Murphy says he finds, is undoubtedly due in large measure to the gaseous outpourings of Mr. McNutt on the subject. Another example is offered of the manner in which the Washington burocrats hamper the fighting of the war by indiscriminate talking for purposes of personal publicity.

In so far as there is any danger of a worker being frozen in a temporary job, the difficulty could be met by an appropriate exemption, and Director Murphy should be encouraged in pressing the war man power commission to make such a provision.

In addition, it would seem that Mr. Murphy has information of value to the legislature of Illinois. If the Illinois act is so written that an unemployed workman in these times can continue to receive compensation while refusing work for which he is fitted, even tho it does not yield as high a wage as he would like, the act is badly in need of corrective amendments.

THE GENTLEWOMEN.

Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, the gentlewoman from Connecticut, did not realize her ambition of gaining a place on the house foreign affairs committee. Perhaps, on the whole, it is just as well. The equable conduct of relations with distant neighbors assumes an ability to get along easily with those nearer to hand, and Mrs. Luce at the moment has her troubles on that score. Forgetting that she represents the city of Danbury, which is synonymous with hats, she appeared at the opening session of congress wearing a babushka. The crime can be compared on an international level with coming to dine with Joe Stalin wearing a swastika armband, carrying the bound works of Leon Trotsky, and then saying you didn't like borsch.

Republican leaders, looking about for something to occupy Mrs. Luce, have tentatively decided that she might gracefully represent the WAACs on the military affairs committee, while another of the gentlewomen, probably Rep. Margaret C. Smith of Maine, would do the same for the WAVES on the naval affairs committee.

The amazons may amount to something less than 1 per cent of Americans in uniform, but the nation will not quibble if they are given a rather disproportionate voice in the conduct of the war. That seems already to have been accomplished without discussion, so that we sometimes must be forgiven if we mistake Dorothy Thompson for Cordell Hull. Altho Mrs. Roosevelt feels that it would be much less wearing to stay home and roll bandages for the Red Cross, she has to gad about, she says, making talks as minister without portfolio because the people insist upon it—simply insist.

At any rate, if all the male slackers in Washington and elsewhere are enlisted in the WAACs and WAVES, where they belong, the ladies in uniform will be sufficiently numerous to justify representation on the military committees.

THE DERELICT.

The county commissioners, sitting as their own finance committee, have thrown up the sponge. They are no longer even trying to balance the 1943 county budget. Instead of making the further cuts necessary to that purpose, they have started restoring cuts already made.

The restorations were in connection with the County hospital and the hospital's nurses' home. This may have a specious appeal to those who know how much more extensively the county fee offices have been crammed with useless pay rollers, but the sacred name of charity is no more a bar to patronage hunters among the New Dealers locally than it is to the New Dealers nationally.

The national, or Humanity, Democrats didn't find the routine governmental departments nearly as rich a patronage source as they did such realms of the social workers as relief and the WPA. The local, or Handbook, Democrats have done all right by the charitable institutions, too. The County hospital and Oak Forest infirmary would be more efficient if some of the excess pay rollers were shed.

There will be no disposition to argue with the Cook County Medical council over its efforts to keep the standards of the County hospital as high as possible, but nevertheless there should be room for substantial economies in that institution. Talk of extra work put on the hospital by the war is the purest palaver. It is a hospital for the poor. There are fewer poor people in Chicago today than at any time in the last decade, and there will be still fewer a year from now. The hospital can and should reduce its services materially, without real loss to the public. Failure to do so can be ascribed to hunger for patronage, not desire for public service.

The county budget is a Kelly-Nee Deal budget. The ruling principle is that, regardless of vanished revenues, there must be no cut in the doorbell pushers for the spring campaign. The Circuit judges showed that when the original economy program of their help committee, to be applied to the county fee offices, went into a series of secret meetings and emerged a puny thing.

The commissioners are now at least $2,000,000 short of a balanced budget, and are making no effort to achieve a balance. They are permitting the county to float as a derelict, expecting the legislature and the state administration to come to the rescue. If either legislature or Gov. Green does so, it will be a disservice to the people of Cook county. Any rescue of county finances must be paid for by relinquishment of control by the Democratic machine and its tools, the Chicago commissioners, who have caused the shipwreck by their neglect of duty and hunger for patronage.

SAPOSS AGAIN.

David Saposs is back on the government pay roll, this time as an adviser to the labor division of the war production board. To say that Mr. Saposs is back may not do justice to the facts. He was dismissed from the staff of the national labor relations board a couple of years ago because the house of representatives, persuaded that he was a Communist or something of the sort, refused to appropriate the money to pay his salary. He showed up next in the office of inter-American affairs and now he is again advising on labor matters. Mr. Saposs never strayed far from the government pay roll, and in that sense, it is inaccurate to say that he is back.

It might be supposed that Mr. Saposs is a man of such eminence in his field that the government can't get along without him. In fact he is just another economist, distinguished from the others of the rank and file by his previous associations with various Communist activities and, of course, by the attention that was drawn to him in congress. The care that has been taken to provide him with a living at public expense and more especially, the determination within the administration to let him stir the pot of labor relations cannot be explained away as an accident.

Once again the country has been given the clearest kind of evidence that the administration doesn't give a hoot for congress. The people's representatives made it abundantly clear that they distrust Saposs and don't regard him as a man fit for government service. His appointment to the office of inter-American affairs was a deliberate slight to congress. His return to a position much like the one from which congress insisted that he be removed can be regarded only as a deliberate insult. It remains to be seen whether congress will take it lying down.

Editorial of the Day

THE FIRST DOUBLE CHECK.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Let anyone in Washington or anywhere else who thinks that the Nov. 3 congressional election was an accident read the returns from the special election in the sixth Missouri district. Last fall the late Republican Congressman Philip A. Bennett defeated Democrat Sam Wear by a majority vote of 7,789 in a total vote of 85,681. Yesterday his 28 year old son, Marion F. Bennett, swamped Mr. Wear by a majority of approximately 14,000 in a total of nearly 55,000. Thus, the Republicans almost doubled their majority, whereas had they been no stronger than on Nov. 3, young Mr. Bennett, in the somewhat smaller vote, would have seen the Republican advantage whittled down to something like 5,000.

The voters of the 11 counties which comprise this Missouri congressional district have given their answer to those who said that earlier commencement of the African offensive and earlier appointment of man power and food administrators would have prevented the sweeping Republican gains of last November. To wave this retest of sentiment away as the opinion in only one isolated congressional district is to be politically blind. This district contains typically American cities—Springfield, Sedalia, Warrensburg. It has railroad shops, mills, small factories, agricultural markets, farmland, and Ozark fruit country. It is a representative slice of the United States.

If the Roosevelt administration has any regard for its political future, it will read the returns of this double check in the middle west, study them and act accordingly. One of the things it will quit doing is playing politics as usual. It will make no more Boss Flynn appointments.

EARLY CHICAGOANA EXHIBIT.

From the Lakeside Press galleries comes an invitation that will cause the editor of this column, one of these old-fashioned winter days, to put on his buffalo robe and take an imaginary cable car to 350 East 22d street. There he will gloat over Joseph T. Ryerson's collection, now on public display for perhaps the first time, of early Chicagoana in print and pictures.

* * *

Mr. Ryerson has long been nursing a hobby for the preservation of pictorial and printed evidence of old Chicago, and has assembled a collection of rare items that deserves a museum of its own. It will, in time, find a permanent home in some public institution, perhaps the Historical society's château in Lincoln park. Historians turn green with envy and pale with rapture when given an opportunity to ride back into Chicago's fabulous past on Mr. Ryerson's time-machine.

* * *

The invitation uses the stately phrasing of almost a century ago:

"We desire to state that the exhibition will include many curious and exciting views of our metropolis, with its many notable domiciles; posters of our early merchandising emporiums; scenic prints that have been pronounced by experts to be both rare and valuable; theatrical programs concerning such true stars of the theatrical firmament as Sarah Bernhardt, Edwin Booth, and Richard Mansfield; and an assortment of dime novels, books, newspapers, and printed sundries.

"We especially desire to call the attention of ladies to that élite and celebrated compendium of social information, the Bon-Ton Directory of Chicago and Suburbs, in which are the hours 'at home' and the correct names and addresses of many fashionable and prominent ladies."

* * *

Among the dime novels is a choice specimen of Beadle's library called "Dick Dashaway, or a Dakota Boy in Chicago." The cover design shows the noble Dakota lad tossing a villain over his head and down the stairway of a sailors' lodging house.

* * *

The exhibition opened on Jan. 11 and will continue until April 16, from 9 to 5 o'clock, Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays excepted. . . . "All visitors will be assured of courteous and civil treatment."

NAVY DIVE BOMBER.

It seems but yesterday this bright-faced lad
Now sitting narrow table width from me
Was in my college classroom. Then he had
The charming ways of young tranquility.
And now beneath lieutenant's cap his face
Looks much the same. His voice is quiet still,
But tells of Zeros burst in distant place,
Of cruisers sunk, of battle's heat and chill.

'Tis hard for those of us who stay at home,
And feel our blood slow down in middle age,
To see these sprightly youths so widely roam
And write in fire their names on honor's page.
But we are proud of these bright-faced young men,
And pray they will come safely home again.

Cecil B. Williams.

The Hornet in the Good Book.

The chaplain of the lost aircraft carrier Hornet frequently read to the crew at religious services the following passage from the Bible [Deuteronomy vii., 20 to 24]:

"Moreover the Lord thy God will send the hornet among them, until they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed.

"Thou shalt not be affrighted at them: for the Lord thy God is among you, a mighty God and terrible.

"And the Lord thy God will put out those nations before thee by little and little: thou mayest not consume them at once.

"But the Lord thy God shall deliver them unto thee, and shall destroy them with a mighty destruction, until they be destroyed.

"And He shall deliver their kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from under heaven: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, until thou have destroyed them."

SWING CRADLE.

O, little, fragile cradle moon,
Swinging to your ancient rune,
Such a fairy little thing,
Might you not too far out swing
And fall, and fall?

O, cradle moon, you are not lost,
Your starry nail-heads sharp with frost
Pin fast your slender, guiding rope,
Glimpsed between fear and hope—
Don't fall! Don't fall!

S'Amuser.

Footnote to the Rickenbacker Saga.

Linemaster: I was much interested in your comment [Jan. 18] on the "sea swallow" or tern which played such a dramatic rôle in the story of Capt. Rickenbacker's rescue from the sea.

Here in Illinois, fishermen know what it is to have black terns swoop down and almost land on their heads, during early summer. So far as I know, no angler has grabbed one of these graceful flyers, but they come very close to you, especially during their nesting season. Then these birds are extremely noisy. They protest against your approaching their nests among the rushes.

This black tern is quite a common summer resident in northern Illinois marshes and lakes.

ANTICS OF THE PULSE RATE.

MANY of our apprehensions about health are groundless. This is particularly true with a patient who visits his physician stating "I felt my pulse the other day and every once in a while I could detect a dropped beat."

The fact of the matter is that this situation is encountered frequently. In all other respects, however, the pumping organ is sound. These so-called extra systoles are really premature contractions, followed by an unusually long rest period. Then comes the regular "thump" in perfectly normal time.

What is happening? A stimulus to "get busy" arises in some part of the apparatus than that which controls the rhythm. It is like the crack of a whip which makes the horse jump. The figurative "sting" reaches the lower chamber, whereupon it gives a quick squeeze. It acts as tho it were startled. The impulse may be so slight that it will not register at the wrist. In consequence, the individual assumes that his heart is skipping.

I recall hearing one of the world's great specialists on cardiac disease assert that this was his own experience, first noted about the age of 45. He survived in excellent health well past his 90th birthday.

Many victims will relate that they become aware of a fluttering sensation on lying down. Usually the episode passes quickly, but it can be aggravated by anxiety, smoking on an empty stomach, or indigestion. The one who is constantly taking his pulse is to be pitied. The best remedy is to forget the phenomenon—if will power is strong enough. Some attention may need to be given to the alimentary tract. In addition, the use of a mild sedative may be indicated.

But there is such a thing as spasmodic, rapid beating wherein the rate will leap from normal to 150 or more per minute. This condition [paroxysmal tachycardia] may persist for but a few minutes, or it may last for several hours. Physicians have often observed, while listening to the sounds made by the heart of a jittery person, that the count will double suddenly. The "starter" apparently comes from something quite outside the regulating machinery. If nausea and vomiting appear, however, fear will aggravate the symptom.

The very act of emptying the stomach may be followed by an abrupt cessation of the episode. Holding the breath for a few seconds, or putting pressure upon the diaphragm, may bring relief. Compressing the sides of the neck, including the vagus nerve has halted many a runaway.

As a rule these seizures are rare and carry no menace to life unless they are unduly prolonged. The incident may be compared to the behavior of an engine which has slipped the governor belt. Here again, extreme exertion, the excessive use of tobacco, or exhaustion may be responsible.

Occasionally some one will worry unnecessarily about a slow pulse. Phlegmatic, stolid persons may average between 50 and 60. Athletes, accustomed to prolonged activity, may present a lazy rate. There is such a thing, however, as a beat which is too deliberate—less than 40 per minute. Now and then disease will be the cause. By and large, however, a speed of between 55 and 60 is advantageous. The muscle of the organ obtains more rest and, hence, is far less likely to exhibit signs of strain.

FUNGOUS INFECTION.

A. R. writes: I have had barber's itch for eight years. Is there a cure?

REPLY.

Yes. A skilled dermatologist can identify the parasite and apply effective treatment. A plant fungus is responsible.

HOUSEMAID'S KNEE.

M. S. writes: Can water on the knee be remedied?

REPLY.

Yes. If nature will not absorb the excess, removal can be accomplished.

FROM NAT MURRAY.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—The impression is widespread that the United States is a great surplus producer of foodstuffs, able to supply the deficiencies of food among the allied and liberated nations. But, in fact, we do not produce as much foodstuffs as we consume; that is, we are a net importer, not a net exporter of foodstuffs. We have fewer persons engaged in food production, in proportion to our total working population, than any other country on the globe with the exception of England and Belgium. We are preeminently an industrial rather than an agricultural nation. Of course, this was not always so, but this has been the evolutionary trend, so gradual that many persons have not realized it. According to figures published in the Statistical Year Book of the department of agriculture, in the five years before the war [1934-'38], of our total exports, in value, 72 per cent were manufactured products and 28 per cent agricultural; while of our imports, 49 per cent were manufactured products and 51 per cent agricultural.

The secretary of agriculture has stated that "because of our great degree of mechanization, American agriculture produces more per man hour than the agriculture of any other nation." In the same address from which the above is quoted, he estimated that military and lend-lease needs will take at least 25 per cent of our total food production.

Manufacturers of farm machinery have been told by the government that in 1943 they will be allowed to sell to farmers of the United States only 20 per cent as much farm machinery as they sold to them in 1941; at the same time they are permitted to increase their sales to foreign countries.

If we are to be the "bread basket," as well as the "arsenal" of democracy, it seems to me that farmers should be permitted to increase their equipment rather than curtail. We need both implements of food production and implements of battle.

NAT C. MURRAY.

ICKES' CROCODILE TEARS.

Signal Mountain, Tenn., Jan. 13.—Now we enjoy the spectacle of Mr. Ickes, member of the government, crying out against the present setup in business and the impending ruin of all small business. He says that if something isn't done there won't be any small business, that all business will be in the hands of giant corporations and cartels. Against whom is he crying out?

Does Mr. Ickes know that his colleague in the government, Mr. Biddle, has instituted suit against the Associated Press? If Mr. Biddle wins that suit, what will become of the small business known as the smaller press associations? O, so Mr. Ickes doesn't think those newspapers that are not now members of the AP won't storm to get in once the gates are open, but that they will continue to take their stuff from the smaller press associations? Mr. Ickes, did Santa Claus come to your house last Christmas?

P. E. L.

SCRAP IN FILING CABINETS.

Chicago, Jan. 12.—Now that we are in the beginning of the new year and business concerns of all types are transferring last year's files to storage cabinets, the thought has occurred to the writer that we, in business, have a grand opportunity of contributing a considerable amount of metal to the war effort.

If you will go into your fileroom, you will find that all of your metal files have a steel rod running from the front of the drawer to the back, and this rod is inserted in holes of the alphabetical devices. In working on the transfer of material in these files, we discovered that these rods are more of a nuisance than they are a help and might easily be dispensed with once and for all or, at least, for the duration. Why not start a campaign to salvage this metal?

C. A. MAWICKE.

THUMB TWIDDLERS.

Bushnell, Ill., Jan. 14.—The taxpayers wouldn't object to the increased budget if we knew that our leadership in Washington was economically inclined and would use the money to hasten the end of the war. But we sacrificing people hesitate when we think of the number of thumb twiddlers and social climbers kept on the federal pay roll in Washington and elsewhere, retarding victory, for the sake of their own prestige.

Since the new legislators, with new strength, were so unanimously sent to Washington, we hope they will push some of the non-sacrificing disinterested ones out—even farther than Australia.

GOLDIE ANDERSON.

GRANDMOTHER IN PANTS.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Having worn overalls and pants for 60 years, and now wearing slacks, I do not see why Judge Braude should refer the case of a girl found wearing men's clothing to the court psychiatrist. I am a grandmother of nine children and don't consider I'm ready for the psychiatric ward just because I prefer comfortable, sane, and modest pants.

BOWLING PALS.

St. Anne, Ill., Jan. 13.—"A Disgusted Wife" and her husband have always gone places together before, why doesn't she learn to bowl so she can go with him now? My husband bowls with a team one night a week and sometimes two. I join the wives of the other members and we all spend an enjoyable evening.

A WOMAN BOWLER.

OFFICER'S WIVES.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—An officer's wife I know has been thinking of trying to get on the list at the Officers' club in Chicago. Now she discovers that they will not permit married women to act as hostesses, but they will make special allowances since she is the wife of an officer and let her work in the office if she can type. This wife works every day to keep the home together and herself. Why should she be interested in working at night? Help them, yes, for an hour or two, but she should have a place in the Officers' club as well as the single girls.

The wives can't just be expected to work, see girls, play cards, and go to movies for pastime. They need a little male companionship from time to time with a little fun and laughter.

NAVY OFFICER'S WIFE.

ASKS RELEASE OF OLDER MEN.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—We have been reading a great deal about a shortage of man power. If a man 38 years and over is not as fit as a younger man for the rigors of service in the army, why wouldn't the same rule apply to the navy and other services? What difference does it make whether a man was drafted or whether he enlisted? Why not be consistent? Why not send the 28 year olds and up who are already in service back into industry and to the farms? What good is a huge army if we cannot feed it, produce enough arms for it, or supply enough ships to transport it?

MRS. R. W. HOLDEN.

THE PRICE OF USED TIRES.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—I have read several times in the Voice of the People where some have received little or nothing for tires sold to the government. I had a 6x16 tire, three years old, with no tread left, which the express company picked up. I received $4.50 for it in savings stamps, but this tire had no breaks, cuts, or punctures, which I believe is the important thing. A tire may have a lot of tread, white walls, etc., but if it is unfit for recapping it isn't worth much.

A CHILD'S SUPPORT.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Four years ago in a divorce case a decree was granted the wife, who was allotted $5 per week support for her son. Is the payment to be terminated when he is 16 or 21, or when according to Illinois law?

R. H.

Depends on the wording of the decree. If the decree contains no wording to support terminating the payments and the parties cannot agree, then the husband should apply to the court for termination.

G. O. P. Clubwomen Told Plan to Study Post-War Problems

The advisory board of the National Federation of Women's Republican Clubs will advocate the establishment of special committees to conduct a study of peace and postwar proposals, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Ann Scott Wilson, first vice president and program chairman of the federation.

Mrs. Wilson addressed 20 board members, representing that many states, at the first afternoon session of a two day meeting in the Palmer House for national officers and presidents of affiliated organizations. The time for creating the committees, as well as the scope of the study, will be left to the individual clubs, she said.

"No topic within the memory of present day women voters calls for more intelligent handling than the formation of peace and the solution of critical postwar problems," Mrs. Wilson declared. "Women must be equipped to contribute realistically to the molding of public opinion. They must weigh all recommendations. They must be prepared to lend an intelligent influence upon the debates and negotiations incident to the drafting of a sound allied peace program."

In a message to the board meeting, Republican National Committee Chairman Harrison E. Spangler asserted that the trend against the basic philosophy of the New Deal is greater at the present time than in November.

"Our opportunity to swell the tide of public opinion against the mismanagement of the New Deal is clear," he said. "I am confident that your program and your activities will be so directed during the next two years that the Republican victories of 1942, in which you played such a splendid part, will be made complete in 1944. Only in that way can our American republic be kept secure."

As concrete examples of his statements, Spangler cited the result of the special congressional election held in the 6th congressional district of Missouri on Jan. 12. The Republican party carried the district in the November elections by 54½ per cent of the total votes, he said, and in January the vote increased to 62 per cent of the total.

Mrs. W. Glenn Suthers of Chicago conducted the meetings, which were her first since she became president of the organization.

Braille Reading Material Offer Is Told by Sally

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We feel sure some sightless person able to read Braille will be interested in the following offer of reading material. Miss H. G. has a number of weekly and monthly magazines, including the All American Weekly and the Catholic Reader's Digest, all in Braille, which she will be happy to give either to an individual or a group able to call for them. She also has a stylus and slate for use in writing Braille.

Any one interested may write to Miss G. in care of this department. All letters will be forwarded to her for selection, and the recipient will be notified. Please do not telephone concerning this offer. The address of the donor is on the south side.

Miss A., a social service agency case worker, asks assistance for a north side family. She writes:

"Dear Miss Brown: We are writing to ask if any of your readers can contribute the following items of household equipment for one of the families we are assisting. The needs include a dresser, ice box, linoleum for a kitchen floor, dishes, and a folding baby carriage. The family is a large one with eight children. They were recently able to move from unsuitable furnished rooms to a six room flat. With the exception of the above mentioned items, they have the minimum amount of furniture. The mother sews very well and would appreciate curtain material which she could make over for the long, old fashioned window of the apartment.

"The father is employed, and his salary permits only the barest expenditure for current living. He recently suffered an injury and will be laid up for about two months."

We feel sure some readers will be interested in helping this family. The agency making the appeal will arrange transportation of offers. However, those from the north side would be preferable.

Herbs Will Give Meat Stew Tantalizingly Different Flavor

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

It took a meat shortage to bring many American families to the surprising [to them] realization that a meat stew is a noble dish. Sizable pieces of beef, veal, or lamb, well browned to begin with, and cooked gently with seasonings and water to savory tenderness is not "hash." It can grace the table at a company dinner as well as a family meal, and frequently does, these days.

The seasoning makes the stew. Salt and pepper in the proper amounts may be sufficient, but the stew your friends will exclaim about is the stew which has been seasoned with herbs. Some cooks use wine to give a stew a tantalizingly different flavor.

Not long ago a reader sent in for some meat recipes, adding this comment: "I wonder why you always insist on making meat taste like something besides its own, natural self!" I wondered why she wanted the recipes, if she thought that. But the cook who doesn't season with herbs hasn't discovered just how intriguing she may make her meat dishes. Salt and pepper are enough seasoning, in many instances. I do not recommend always cooking with herbs or spices or strong seasonings. But for a meat stew which causes sighs of contentment all around the dinner table, I'll take one which contains just enough herbs to point up the meat flavor, not so many that you can plainly identify savory, marjoram or thyme.

Herbs Which May Be Used to Season Meat Stews and Other Meat Dishes.

Basil: Good sprinkled on hamburgers, with spaghetti and meat balls, in barbecue sauce, and stews which contain tomatoes.

Bay leaves: Good in any stew or meat soup. Remove the leaf before serving.

Caraway seeds: Used rarely in stews, but often with roast pork; good in the sauerkraut which accompanies spareribs.

Chives: Good in any stew and with almost any meat dish. Add cut chives toward the end of cooking.

Marjoram, Oregano: Good in any stew, but especially with lamb. Oregano is the Mexican marjoram we're seeing more and more frequently.

Parsley—Good in any stew. Add it last, just before serving, so that it will not be wilted.

Rosemary: Good in almost any stew or meat sauce or gravy, barbecue sauce.

Sage: Most popular as a flavorer of stuffings, may be used also in stews, sparingly.

Savory: Popular for stuffings and meat sauces as well as roast pork, beef stews.

Thyme: May be used in any lamb dish, is almost a "must" for lamb stew.

Tarragon: Excellent in stews, soups, and with most meats.

The fresh herbs you grow in garden and window box are best of all, but the dried ones are excellent. Just be careful not to use too much of any herb or the stew will taste strongly of it.

Lamb Stew with Herbs.
[Serves eight.]

- 3 pounds lamb stew meat
- 3 tablespoons fat for browning
- 3 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon dried marjoram
- ½ teaspoon thyme
- 1 clove garlic [optional]
- 3 onions, sliced
- 8 potatoes
- 8 whole carrots
- 8 stalks celery
- 2½ cups water
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- Flour paste for thickening stew

Brown meat in fat. It may be dredged in flour first, if desired. Garlic, if used, may be cooked in the fat while meat is browning. Add water, seasonings, and herbs, except parsley. Cover and simmer for 1½ hours, then add vegetables, cover again and simmer until meat and vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables to a hot platter and thicken the liquid with a flour and water paste. Gravy may be served over stew or separately. Sprinkle parsley over stew.

Half to one cup of wine may be added in place of some of the water, if you wish an aristocratic stew.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Spice Refrigerator Cookies.

- ½ cup shortening
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1½ cups flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¾ teaspoon cloves

Cream shortening and sugar together thoroly. Add beaten egg. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture, combining well. Form into roll and wrap in waxed paper. Chill thoroly. Cut in thin slices and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven for 15 minutes or until done.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin
By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

GETTING "MEALAGE" OUT OF POUNDAGE

Getting "mealage" from meat poundage has become the first order of the day for you housewives. In other words, you are concerned in getting the most "eatable" meat from each pound you buy, so that those allotted pounds will stretch to the limit in flavor and goodness and nutritive value. May I give you a word of advice on that subject? Wise buyers know that the best eating per pound is found in high quality meats . . . So I say, whenever possible, buy the best in meats . . . Wilson's Certified . . . for the utmost eating enjoyment.

Sunday Menu

WILSON'S GELA SEALD BEEF (Standing Rib Roast)
GRAVY
BUTTERED CABBAGE
GRAPEFRUIT AND APPLE SALAD
WHOLE WHEAT BREAD
CHOCOLATE-NUT PUDDING BEVERAGE

IN CASE YOU HAVE LEFTOVERS:

Mix chopped cooked beef with chopped onion and green pepper. Spread on biscuit dough made with Bake-Rite and roll. Slice and bake in 450° F. oven about 20 minutes. Serve with gravy. Filling and flavor sense!

Or slice and heat leftover roast and serve covered with hot tomato sauce.

BRING ON THE ROAST!

To get three delicious meals from a standing rib roast, ask for Wilson's Gela Seald Beef. Then, have the butcher remove the short ribs. Save these for a tasty meal later in the week.

Gela Seald is the meat that's gelatine-covered for protection against loss of flavorful juices. It is an exclusive Wilson & Co. process, designed to give you better meat for your money. And remember . . . regardless of wartime demands, the quality and goodness of Wilson Products will remain unchanged.

And remember, too, if you're finding you have to take whatever meat you can get at your market these days, rather than getting what you want . . . it's due to unavoidable wartime demand and distribution problems. I ask your patience and full cooperation with your dealer in limiting your selection to the available supply in your dealer's hands and trust that on another day you will find the meat of your choice.

In the meantime, clip and save these weekly recipes and nutrition tips so that you will have them handy when your dealer does have the meats called for.

For variety in the lunchbox, combine chopped, cooked beef with chopped nuts, and moisten with Wilson's Mayonnaise. Mix well. Spread on buttered enriched bread. Be sure to use Clear Brook butter.

• • •

For a Mid-Week Meal You'll Enjoy

Braised Short Ribs: (Remember you had these cut from your Gela Seald rib roast.) Wrap each portion in a strip of Wilson's Certified Bacon, and skewer in place.

Add 2 sliced onions, chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Add 2 cups water, cover, and cook slowly for 1½ to 2 hours. Add more water if needed during cooking.

The meat flavor can be stretched and the meal better balanced by adding whole carrots, turnips, or other available vegetables.

Yours 'til next week,
George Rector

Visiting Nurses Hold Their 53d Annual Meeting

BY JUDITH CASS.

THIS is the time of year for annual meetings, annual reports, and the election of officers, a routine that is gathering memberships of various organizations together despite transportation difficulties and bad weather. The Visiting Nurse association's annual meeting always is held in the late afternoon rather than at luncheon time, for the busy nurses can't take time in the middle of the day even to attend to the business of their own organization.

The meeting always is a special occasion, and yesterday's at the Blackstone, followed by tea, had its usual "party" air. Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, president, and the other officers, with the exception of the first vice president, were reëlected. Miss Naomi Donnelley resigned, however, and her place was filled by Mrs. Selim W. McArthur. The other officers are Mrs. Kent Chandler, Mrs. George A. Poole Jr., Mrs. John P. Bent, Mrs. John B. Drake, and Mrs. Aldis J. Browne.

Mrs. Ryerson, Mrs. Lester E. Frankenthal Jr., chairman of the nurses' committee; Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., chairman of the committee for the aftercare and study of infantile paralysis; Mrs. Browne, Mrs. Drake, and Miss Mary E. Westphal, superintendent, all read reports. The staff of 141 nurses made 357,059 visits to 45,247 patients during the year, and nine pins were given to nurses who had completed 5 and 10 years of service. The members of the clerical staff who had completed five years of service also received pins. The meeting was the 53d annual one.

Mrs. Madlener Re-elected Head of Vocational Society.

At a meeting on Monday in the home of Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr., the Vocational Society for Shut-Ins re-elected its hostess as president for a third time. New officers are Mrs. John Miller, first vice president; Mrs. Walter Meade, second vice president; Mrs. Edward E. Robbins, treasurer; Mrs. John Slade, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Franklin Motch, recording secretary. Mrs. Dexter Fairbank continues as corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Motch, who moved here two years ago from Cleveland with her navy husband, is an attractive addition to the 30 women who direct the society's affairs. The society's shop, in Michigan avenue at Ontario street, has had a good year, with many new customers, the directors were told. Many of the new customers were navy and army men who paused to buy an attractive toy or two to send home to their children.

As Mrs. Madlener is not going to Florida this year, the society will not have its customary sale of goods in that state. Mr. and Mrs. Madlener will go to Tucson, Ariz., later for a short visit with her father, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden.

Colombian Navy Officer to Talk at Athletic Club.

Mrs. Madlener, a director of the Woman's Athletic club, will be hostess at an official table at luncheon today following a talk at 11:30 o'clock by Lt. Comm. Carlos Fallon of the Colombian navy. Mrs. Alvin E. Bastien will be hostess at the speaker's table. "A South American Looks at You" will be the subject of Commander Fallon's talk.

Mrs. William S. Warfield III. will preside for the first time over the Winnetka board of the Northwestern university settlement when the board meets on Feb. 4. Other officers elected with Mrs. Warfield at the board's recent annual meeting were Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess, Mrs. Frank M. Judson, Mrs. George McClary, Mrs. Elbert Clark, and Mrs. Arthur W. Walsh.

The entire executive board of the Dearborn Seminary Alumnæ association was reëlected at the group's annual meeting last Monday. Mrs. Henry Bartholomay will serve again as president of the alumnæ of the historic Chicago school, now extinct. Other officers are Mrs. Robert E. Peacock, Mrs. Frederic C. Woodward, and Mrs. John Leeming, first, second, and third vice presidents; Mrs. Leonora Temple Hoyne, treasurer; Mrs. George D. Richards, recording secretary, and Mrs. John Grant McDonald, corresponding secretary.

Newly elected officers of the Winnetka junior board of the Infant Welfare society were introduced to their duties at a meeting in the home of Mrs. John Dennehy on Tuesday. Mrs. James Boudreau is the new president, replacing Mrs. Sidney Date, who resigned because family

A Flowered Hat for Spring and a Soft Felt for Wear Now

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Front VIEWS and PROFILES

BY MARCIA WINN

The Remarkable Mr. Anderson.

It is remarkable what Maxwell Anderson, the playwright, can bring out of a character. No matter what the background, the English of his characters flows out in an exquisite stream of what some one once termed "blank prose." This is very nice, and no doubt a trait working toward the eventual betterment of mankind, but it does seem strange to hear a farm boy [in "The Eve of St. Mark"], transformed into an army private and stranded in the Philippines, say of his girl: "O, my little, lost, uncompleted love!" O, my huge, lax, completed Anderson!

Poet Lariat.

Thumbing thru an advance copy of "Lords of the Levee," a fat, roistering book about Hinky-Dink Kenna and Bathhouse John Coughlin of Chicago's 1st ward, we were fascinated by the first riming effusion of the Bath. The authors, Lloyd Wendt and Herman Kogan, devote an entire chapter to the effect made on the world in 1889 when the Bath stomped magnificently off a train and from a valise withdrew his poem, "Dear Midnight of Love," precursor of many worse poems to come.

The Bath was eager to give it a fine première, for he had had it set to music, but when he showed it to Emma Calvé, then in Chicago, she snorted. He then unearthed Mary de Sousa, the 13 year old daughter of a detective on the levee beat. Tripping onto the stage arrayed in ruffled white organdy, she sang it against the chesty, tiered background of the Cook County Democratic Marching club and before a packed house.

Probably no song has ever received such immediate and wide attention from the critics, one writing: "From now on it's Bathos John. Austin Dobson can write lyrics in a library. Our own Bathhouse writes doggerel in a doggery. Either achievement is magnificent." Another, writing as "The Inspired Idiot," found in "Dear Midnight of Love" a slight similarity to "the following from the late Mr. Virgil":

I go so.
Do you go so?
I ride the ox.
Do you ride the ox?
Does your brother ride the ox?

He also compared it to "these oft-quoted lines from Byron":

I am.
Thou art.
He is.

We are.
You are.
They are!

I love.
You love.
He loves.
Everybody loves!

The inspired idiot thought Mr. Coughlin's treatment excelled that of Mr. Byron. Mr. Coughlin modestly agreed, and in discussing the matter with reporters said ecstatically, not for one minute relaxing in his 1889 hold on malapropisms, "I'm poet lariat of the 1st ward. That's Jawn Coughlin."

Dry Land.

Guadalcanal is not without its humor. From Lt. Ed Corboy, just back from the Pacific, comes word of the sign he saw on Guadalcanal when he went ashore for a brief spell. After months at sea, with no liquor permitted on board ship, he was delighted to see a sign, "Deposit empty beer cans here." To his sorrow he found the sign to be a symbol of wishful thinking; the island, too, was dry.

Thru the Looking Glass

You just don't realize how effective nail enamel is in concealing flaws in the shape and size and even the texture of finger nails until you do without it. It seems to us that only exquisitely beautiful nails can stand the merciless "nakedness" of being without a coat of polish.

But with or without polish, ragged cuticle is offensive to the eye—and to the ultimate health of the nails. Neglected cuticle won't just soften up and disappear of itself. It will grow progressively worse, and our hunch is that it affects nail health. At least we've never seen smooth, strong nails with cuticle that clambered stubbornly all around the base.

You should be cheered up to know that cuticle isn't the nuisance it once was. We now have marvelous preparations that soften it in a jiffy. We know of at least one that does even more than this. It makes cuticle amenable to the discipline that keeps it attractively trim, makes it healthier and in some miraculous fashion helps brittle, peeling nails become smoother and stronger.

It's a thick, yellowish cream, not at all expensive, that is massaged daily into the nail and around the nail base. You need use very little. Its softening effect on ragged cuticle that either clings fiercely or tears off in jagged pieces is almost instantaneous. And brittle nails simply lap it up. It really seems to help delicate nails become stronger as well as handsomer.

Filmy Material Lends Zest to New Millinery

BY REA SEEGER.

The big excitement in the new millinery showings is maline. This airy, filmy material revamps the usual ideas of any changing headlines. You're going to see and thrill to a new femininity, achieved with long streamers, scarfs, and sometimes entire hats made of layers upon layers of maline in bright and pastel shades. Some hats even will feature three or four colors, sometimes more, in one model. And if you thought last year marked the peak interest in veiling, you looked at nothing compared with the veiling used this new season.

The never failing lure of a flowered hat has a special appeal with veiling. Smart new brimmed hats also feature veiling used for a frame that completely covers the face and then trails at the sides and back. Pierrot ruches, those neck chokers of double ruched net or maline, are coming back. There's a new veil that makes a shoulder cape, expected to appear soon. It has a drawstring device to hold it securely and fashionably snug at the throat; the rest passes as the airiest of shoulder capes, sometimes well down to the elbow line.

Two fascinating new millinery colors are a honey beige and silver gray, both effective shades for face flattery, as well as new tones to wear as a springtime highlight with a fur coat or jacket. Brimmed hats are definitely on the way into the spotlight and there are brimmed hats exquisitely veiled for additional eye appeal. The butter and honey beige shades are exceptionally effective because of the rich glowing tone, Both the beige and silver gray are perfect contrasts for brown, green, vivid red, copper, purple, and coral clouds of veiling, whether used for face or making the entire hat.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Fisher of North Hermitage avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jane, to Aviation Cadet Robert L. Fritschel, son of Maj. and Mrs. Herbert E. Fritschel of Oak Park. Cadet Fritschel attended the University of Rochester and transferred to Northwestern university, from which he and his fiancée were graduated last June. He expects to receive his commission as second lieutenant next month in California, and the wedding is planned for late spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wenzel of Kirkland, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian Iolene, to the Rev. Clare Benham Hewitt, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Hewitt of Elgin. Miss Wanzel, a former student of North Central college at Naperville, is a senior at the University of Illinois. The Rev. Mr. Hewitt, pastor of the Hanover Methodist church, attended Cornell college at Mount Vernon, Ia., the University of Maine, and Garrett Biblical institute in Evanston. The wedding will take place shortly after Miss Wenzel's graduation this summer.

Capt. and Mrs. Harry James Fahringer of Chicago announce the engagement of their daughter, Elaine Louise, to Ensign William Henry Keil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Keil of Evanston. Both Miss Fahringer and Ensign Keil attended Northwestern university. Ensign Keil is stationed with the naval air corps in San Diego, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Rubenstein of Humboldt boulevard announce the engagement o ftheir daughter, Elaine Shirley, to Daniel Robert Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Wolf of Palmer street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Ashley of Cleveland, O., formerly of Chicago, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Charles Dale Collins, son of Mrs. John Collins of Chicago. Miss Ashley was graduated from Northwestern university, where her fiancé is in the medical school.

Miss Speaks Is Soloist at Final Concert

Concert by the Woman's Symphony orchestra, Nicolai Malko, conductor; Margaret Speaks, soprano. Presented at Orchestra hall Wednesday evening, Jan. 20, 1943. The program:

Overture to "Der Freischütz".....Weber
Symphony No. 2, D major.....Brahms
"A Negro Parade".....Stringfield
[First Chicago performance.]
[a] "Tu lo sai".....Torelli
[b] "Depuis le jour," from "Louise".....Charpentier
[c] "Ouvre ton coeur".....Bizet
Miss Speaks.
Polka and Fugue from "Schwanda".....Weinberger

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

The Woman's Symphony orchestra, augmented by two men from the Chicago Symphony, ended its 17th season at Orchestra hall last night with a second rate concert conducted by Nicolai Malko, which had Margaret Speaks, the radio favorite, as soloist.

Detached from the microphone, Miss Speaks has a small, rather charming soprano, which lacks the range, color, and technique demanded by the concert hall. She had moderate success with Torelli's "Tu lo sai" and with Bizet's Spanish serenade, but no success at all with that most elusive of arias, "Depuis le jour," from Charpentier's "Louise." Confronted with its soaring loveliness, Miss Speaks gasped at the high notes, slurred the exquisite phrasing, and apparently was quite innocent of the music's emotional impact.

The concert as a whole was badly played, with the orchestra sounding heavy and disorganized under Mr. Malko's alternately pedantic and erratic beat. The evening's novelty was a first Chicago performance of Lamar Stringfield's "A Negro Parade," described as just that kind of parade in the deep south. It sounded more like Ravel's "Bolero" overlaid with the scene on "Louise's" Montmartre hill when the deep dusk is invaded by the approaching drum beats of the revelers.

The concert opened with Weber's Overture to "Der Freischutz," which was taken at so slow a pace the woodwind seemed to be playing a queasy dirge. This was followed by an amorphous performance of Brahms' Second Symphony, as soggy as it was shapeless. There was no line to Mr. Malko's direction, and no definition to his phrasing. The orchestra was jangled out of alignment, so that it played without joy or brilliance or beauty. It was a dismal period to set to 17 years of hard work which only a season ago had seemed to be pointed toward success.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

The first contingent of 9th naval district SPARS to leave for "boot" training at Iowa State Teachers' college, Cedar Falls, Ia., will depart today. Nine young women from the Chicago area are among the 24 who will report.

Three of these are former American Telephone and Telegraph employees, and another, Miss Florence Lois Neumann, 3500 Lake Shore drive, was formerly in the United States army recruiting office, aviation cadet section. The three A. T. & T. girls are Allegra Rosamond Pritchard, 4303 West Palmer street; Bett Nolan, 3016 Jackson boulevard, and Eileen Patricia Dolan, 3412 Jackson boulevard.

Others leaving from the Chicago area are Mary Lorraine Newmann, 5415 West Madison street, a telephone company supervisor; Grace Kimball Cheney, Evanston, a clerical employé; Florence B. Gramont, 3320 South Emerald avenue, clerical employé of the United States Public Health service; Lillian Ruth Rasof, 4934 North Kimball avenue, a typist at the Federal Reserve bank, and Ruth Leone Hellman, Downers Grove, a clerk at the Western Electric company.

Miss Ruth Crisman of 6056 Kimbark avenue was among the 11 young Chicago women who left recently for the WAVES' officers' training school at Smith college. Prior to her enrollment Miss Crisman, a graduate of Cornell college in Iowa, was head of the photographic department of the human engineering laboratory of the Illinois Institute of Technology. She also has been active in civilian defense, having completed her training to qualify as a fire watcher and also in first aid.

High school girls who belong to the girls' reserve of the Y. W. C. A. have been keenly disappointed that they were not permitted, because they were under 18, to participate in the Y's activities at the U. S. O. centers. The edge will be taken off that disappointment from now on, as groups of reserves have been assigned to a city-wide project of collecting and delivering cookies to the various centers. The first group of 12 teen agers will descend upon the center at 131 South Wabash avenue on Saturday, deliver their boxes of cookies, and really see how the U. S. O. works.

Another project of the Y. W. C. A. is arranging midnight parties for industrial workers, both men and women. The second of these affairs will be held tomorrow night at the west side branch, when 75 workers will come off shift and have four hours of dancing, roller skating, swimming, and refreshments. The plan, a new venture, is sponsored by the industrial department of the Y. W. C. A.

There are openings for 30 women instrument repairmen in the Chicago area, according to an announcement made by the United States civil service commission. Applicants, who will receive a course in civics, must be high school graduates and should have had experience in watch repairing or with electrical instruments, as the work they will do requires manual dexterity.

Trainees will be paid $120 a month while learning, and jobs will be available immediately after they've finished the course. Those enrolling should be willing to go on a night shift if so assigned. Applications should be made to the civil service commission, room 1105, new postoffice building, 433 West Van Buren street.

The South Shore Country club unit of the Red Cross, one year old this week, has set an enviable record of accomplishments, under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Vincent D. Sill. More than 100,000 surgical dressings have been made, and the knitting department has turned in well over 1,000 garments for service men and families of service men. The sewing department of the unit, in charge of Mrs. C. E. Swab, has made hundreds of garments for men, women, and children, as well as many bed comforters, all of which have been donated to the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Mrs. Wiegman New Editor of Advance, Episcopal Journal

Bishop Wallace E. Conkling of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago yesterday announced the appointment of Mrs. Marion Quick Wiegman of Maywood as editor of the Advance, official journal of the diocese, and as executive secretary of the Church club of Chicago, of which Irwin N. Walker is president. She will succeed David E. Evans, who resigned to enter the navy. Mrs. Wiegman, who has been editor of the Voter, magazine of the Illinois League of Women Voters, also will have charge of diocesan publicity. The Advance is one of the pioneer diocesan journals of the Episcopal church. It was edited for many years by Angus S. Hibbard, present editor emeritus, and later by Joseph E. Boyle of New York, present director of publicity for the entire Episcopal church.

Looking at Hollywood . . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 20.—When Sam Goldwyn read that a New York critic called Teresa Wright the first lady of the screen, he dusted off his tried and true "Dark Victory," which has been made twice—first with Vilma Banky and Ronald Colman, later as a talkie with Merle Oberon, Fredric March, and Herbert Marshall. The new version will have as its hero a marine who loses his eyesight on Guadalcanal, and will star little Teresa and probably Dana Andrews. . . . No wonder the romance has cooled between Ann Sheridan and Errol Flynn. Errol persuaded Ann that she should take more exercise, especially on the back of a horse—his black one, a bit spavined, for which she paid him $280!

Teresa Wright.

Stay Sweet as You Are.

I've rarely seen a cuter child than Margaret O'Brien. Just had her sixth birthday, doesn't look more than 4. She told me about her three surprise birthday cakes. When she finishes the Dr. Gillespie picture, she'll go into "Lost Angel"—"to be raised," said she, "by eight professors, then I'll be happy. I won't have to cry all the time!" Her pet is a toy cocker spaniel. His name is Maggie, and Maggie made four magazine covers to her three. Her favorite actors are Robert Young and Jimmy Cagney. She likes them in the same way. "O, I like Keye Luke, too!" Her favorite song is "My Country 'Tis of Thee"—speech, Lincoln's Gettysburg address. As I left her, she and Patricia Barker settled down to a game of old maid. Patricia's five! Margaret showed me her report card. She got an A, and an American flag. Said, "A is good, but when you get a flag that means you're better." She wants to grow up into "a big actress like my aunt, who's a dancer!"

I Hope, I Hope.

If Walter Huston decides to do "Knickerbocker Holiday," his Broadway hit, into a picture, Marta Eggerth will play opposite him. The town's overlooking a good bet by not giving Marta better parts. . . . Albert Basserman and his wife won't do that New York play. They're returning here to be husband and wife in "Madame Curie," which stars Greer Garson. . . . Geraldine Farrar's niece, Janice, who got her training in little theaters, will play the second lead to Susanna Foster in "Phantom of the Opera." . . . New York, here they come! Eddie Goulding, Victor Saville, and Sir Cedric Hardwicke. Hardwicke does a play which he contracted for a year ago, but in order do to it, turned down three good parts. Too bad. He's in the groove here. . . . Gene Tierney's sister Pat, in her senior year in a girls' school at Washington, D. C., wants to give up school forever and come out here for a part in "Heaven Can Wait."

Entertaining Race.

A bunch of us were hamming it up on the set of "Best Foot Forward" the other day, when we started talking about Negro actors. My pet of all times was Bert Williams, who had great pride in his race, and never forgot he was a colored man. When they were casting "Emperor Jones," Jasper Deeter, of the Hedgerow theater, heard about a famous colored athlete, who would be fine in the part. He told him about the rôle, what a great part it was, after which the colored gentleman rose and said, "You'll have to excuse me. I'm afraid I don't know my darkies." Which reminds me that Billy Rose is going to do an all-colored "Carmen." Hammerstein's writing the new version. Billy told about bumping into Bill Saroyan just after he had put on his private's uniform. Bill said, "Look at me! I've been captured by Americans!" . . . Rose continued, "New York looks like a Midway with the lights out." . . . After George Jean Nathan was pounced upon and beaten, Billy offered him the gold pistol citizens of Houston, Tex., gave him. Said Nathan, "What good would it do me? You're attacked from the rear these days."

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Feminine First.

From Edith G. G. Graff, M. D.:—"Several encyclopedias do not include her name, but Elizabeth P. W. Packard should never be left off any list of women who pioneered. She was the wife of a clergyman who, in 1860, had her committed to an Illinois insane asylum. It was the law then that a married woman could be adjudged insane by the mere agreement of her husband and the asylum superintendent. She was shut up three years, efforts of neighbors to get a writ of habeas corpus being fruitless. When her eldest son was 21 he obtained her release, but her husband stipulated that she could not come back to live with him and their five children. When she learned accidentally that he was planning to take her to the Massachusetts state hospital she appealed to her neighbors and they were successful in getting her into an Illinois court where she was able to establish her sanity. She then published her account of the horrible conditions in the state hospital, addressed the legislature of Illinois and obtained the passage of a law—later passed in Massachusetts, Iowa and other states—requiring an inquest for commitment to institutions for the insane, so that her fate could not legally be that of others. Her books are in all large libraries today and show her to have been a 'first' of whom all women should be proud."

It Sticks in the Mind.

The business man on the Rock Island suburban saying, "Yesterday I went down to get a priority rating on some building material. Nobody knew anything about it so I said to one man: 'Look here—what were you before you got this job?' He said, 'I was a broker; that fellow over there was in the insurance business; this man at the next desk was a clerk.' Not one in the office had ever been in construction."

The girl at the next table at lunch wailing, "But, you see, when I got back to the hotel that night the floor maid had quit and taken four pairs of my stockings. The hotel reimbursed me, of course, but not in nylons."

The young, obviously small town boy [in uniform] fast asleep, head on his arms, in the quiet and warmth of the big reference room of the public library and the expression on the face of the elderly man watching him, picturing, I'm sure, a four-poster bed and handmade quilt . . . and mother at home.

Drug Store Luncheons.

It's been a long time coming, but at last some one has tumbled to the fact that the business girl eats drug-store luncheons. Marion White, in "Diet Without Despair" [publishd by M. S. Mill, $1.50] tells how many calories are hidden in those drug store favorites:—egg salad sandwich, cup of tea and ice cream, or frankfurter on a roll with mustard, cup of coffee and small ice cream. She doesn't ask you to forget your sweet tooth either, but has it all figured out that the same amount of sweetness comes from 420 calories of honey as 1,600 calories of sugar, and she even gives recipes for appetizing low calorie desserts, such as crustless pie.

The Stage

By Cecil Smith

My trip to Detroit last week-end to catch a preview glimpse of "The Eve of St. Mark" provided an interesting —not to say astounding—by-product. Down the street a block from the Cass theater, where "The Eve of St. Mark" was playing, Frank McCoy is operating a popular priced stock season at the Shubert-Lafayette, a handsome house, whose fortunes were changeable until Mr. McCoy came along and hit the jackpot with his present policy.

Last Saturday his production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" was finishing a prosperous six week engagement. Unless you already knew, you could name 750 actors without guessing the one who player the Boris Karloff part. It was Walter Hampden.

There was a time when Mr. Hampden had a particular niche of his own on the stage. He swashbuckled thru "Cyrano de Bergerac" in large style; he brought a kind of elocutionary fervor to "An Enemy of the People"; he coaxed the last final sententious meaning out of "The Servant in the House," and he made popularly effective melodrama out of "Caponsacchi."

Nowadays his métier seems to have gone out of fashion, and he is miscast in one part after another. As Sir Anthony Absolute in "The Rivals" last year he certainly was not in his element. But "Arsenic and Old Lace" plunges him into a world he wots not of. A stranger to such simple and unforced methods of depicting villainy as Boris Karloff uses, Mr. Hampden paints his face with scabrous makeup about an inch thick, turns his mouth up in a snarl, lunges menacingly at his colleagues, and delivers his lines with an impact that would scare a seismograph.

Among Mr. Hampden's colleagues, who have gone with him to Toronto to do a return engagement of "Arsenic and Old Lace" there, the only one worth noting is the veteran Cecilia Loftus. She plays Abby Brewster with a quavering calm which is not ineffective, but she receives little valuable help from her colleagues.

Even tho stock company production often does lead to odd casting, Mr. McCoy's project has brought added life to the Detroit stage. I wonder whether an astute promoter might not duplicate his success in Chicago.

Physical State of Adolescent Bears Watching

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

When a new baby arrives we watch all his food, his sleep, his play and his growth needs with unremitting solicitude and anxiety. We have him examined at regular intervals by a doctor and any little deviation puts us on our mettle.

Babyhood is a time of tremendous growth and development. [And do you realize, by the way, that growth and development, those words that have almost become twins, have two separate and distinct meanings?]

If you stop to think a minute, you will realize what a stupendous and rapid job nature does in the short period we call babyhood. At first the baby is entirely helpless; he can't move from place to place, he can't focus his eyes, he can't speak. In a relatively few months he's walking, talking, smiling, laughing, running, feeding himself.

You see nothing comparable to this during the "in between years" of childhood, 6 to 10 or 11. No striking changes take place—altho growth is gradual. The next period, adolescence, presents a different picture.

Adolescence brings with it another tremendous spurt of growth and development. Babyhood and adolescence are the two times in life when nature is almost spectacular in putting thru her two big jobs. First, the one of bringing the helpless baby out of its helplessness. Second, the job of preparing the child to perpetuate the race and to assume the rôle of man or woman.

Tremendous changes take place during these few years, and in some cases, when a youngster shoots up and becomes very tall and often heavy, too, in a short space of time, it takes a heavy toll of energy and strength. This state should be watched carefully and should be reckoned with psychologically and physiologically. Usually, with plenty of rest and the right kind of diet, the defects right themselves as the body catches up, adjusts, and compensates for the uneven and accentuated development of the adolescent.

It is beneficial, no matter how well your adolescent son or daughter may seem, to have a check up by a competent physician at least once a year. In this way corrections can be made which will keep them in the glowing health that should be theirs.

Mother and Daughter Modes

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FROCKS.

This new version of the mother and daughter fashion is a spring one, designed primarily for gay prints. The frocks are identical, except for size. There's a V neckline with contrasting collar, a soft bodice, and new lower hipline, flattering to all figures, however slim.

Style No. 3376 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material with ¾ yard contrasting.

Style No. 3575 is designed for sizes 8, 10, 12, 14, and 16. Size 12 requires 2¾ yards of 39 inch material with ¾ yard contrasting.

Each pattern costs 10 cents, plus 2 cents to cover mailing costs.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost (coin preferred—wrap it carefully), for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT: Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired and write your name and address plainly. The Clotilde pattern book costs 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

Paradoxical as it seems, it still is perfectly true that the player who consistently makes light opening bids and then takes no further voluntary action is more conservative [aside from being a great deal sounder] than the player who spurns these "featherweight" openings. Consider the following typical case:

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 9
♥ K J 10 8 7
♦ K Q 4 3 2
♣ A 5

WEST
♠ A K J 8 6
♥ 6 5 4 2
♦ A 10 8
♣ 7

EAST
♠ Q 10 7 4 3
♥ 9
♦ J 7
♣ J 10 8 4 2

SOUTH
♠ 5 2
♥ A Q 3
♦ 9 6 5
♣ K Q 9 6 3

This is how the bidding actually went:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 spade	Double	4 spades
5 clubs	Pass	Pass	Pass

East did not double the five club bid; he was too well satisfied with it. He remained satisfied after he had collected 200 points.

Now observe the difference if South, instead of getting so brave at the five level, summons the courage to open with one club.

West, of course, overcalls with one spade. North bids two hearts and East can, as before, try to "jam up" the opponents by jumping to four spades. South, having spoken his piece, meekly passes, but now North mentions his second suit, diamonds. From that point on, it is East-West, not North-South, who are forced into a defensive position. If East passes to five diamonds, South makes the mere preference bid of five hearts, and that contract will be fulfilled except against a sheer double-dummy defense. If East decides to overcall North's five diamonds with five spades, South, in the consciousness that his opening bid was not sufficiently robust to invite or permit his partner to reach the slam level, makes a penalty double. And, altho he will collect only 200 points, that is precisely 400 points better than he did at the five club contract he actually reached.

Thus, it will be seen that in this case, as in countless similar cases, a light opening bid is the absolute prerequisite to an intelligent and conservative choice of a final contract.

Chicago Poles Turn Out in Full Force for Screen Benefit

Chicagoans of Polish descent were out in full force to attend a single performance of the movie, "Hitler's Children," last night at the Palace theater, which was given to benefit the Paderewski hospital in Edinburgh, Scotland. Col. Anthony Jurasz, medical director of the hospital, spoke briefly to thank Chicagoans for their efforts to raise money for a Chicago ward at the hospital. The benefit was arranged by Chauncey McCormick and a committee of prominent Chicagoans and leaders in Polish circles. Large blocks of seats were occupied by representatives of the Polish Roman Catholic union, the Polish units of the American Red Cross, the Polish National Alliance, and the Polish Women's Alliance, among others.

FLYNN ACCUSER TELLS JURY OF HER OPERATION

Asserts 'Other Man' Was to Be Shielded.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20 (AP).—Peggy La Rue Satterlee, 16 year old Hollywood show girl, admitted today at Errol Flynn's trial on three counts of statutory rape that she has undergone an operation, and the prosecution stipulated that the surgery was an abortion.

That was one of several sensational bits of information which Defense Attorney Jerry Giesler drew from the girl—chief state complaining witness—during intensive cross-examination.

Among the others:

She had been given to understand that, at her request, no action will be taken against the man responsible for her operation.

Expenses Being Paid.

She has been living, without expense to herself, with policewomen, has been attending movies and visiting hotel cafés, and took a 10 day trip to San Francisco.

That she has stated her age variously up to 21 years in applications for employment at night clubs and in the movies, and carries a driver's license giving her age as 18.

But she denied that her entertainment with policewomen included night clubs or drinking.

Miss Satterlee admitted she knew the operation was a criminal act, subjecting her to possible prosecution and that the district attorney's office told her "it would not be brought up."

Testimony Admitted.

It was here that Thomas Cochran, deputy district attorney, offered to stipulate that the operation was an abortion, but asked the judge to instruct the jury that the testimony was being admitted not to establish the truth or falsity of the matters involved but only to establish the witness' state of mind. This Judge Leslie E. Still did.

Miss Satterlee has charged Flynn with intimacies on two occasions during a cruise aboard the actor's yacht. The third count against him was signed by Betty Hansen, 17 year old former Lincoln, Neb., girl.

U.S. JURY INDICTS 12 IN AIR SCHOOL BUILDING FRAUD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle announced today the indictment of 12 persons by a federal grand jury at Fort Worth, Tex., on charges of false claims and conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with construction of air training schools at Sweetwater and Lemesa, Tex.

Biddle said one indictment named all 12 defendants, and that in addition a second indictment named five and a third indictment named three persons, all of whom were in the first charge.

Indicted were Charles A. Prince and Joe B. Plosser, builders; Victor J. Nelson, contractor, all of Sweetwater, Tex., and several subcontractors and employés.

The indictment charges, the justice department said, that Plosser and Prince secured a contract with the Defense Plant corporation to construct training fields on a cost-plus basis and conspired with the other defendants to receive secret rebates and kickbacks from Nelson, the prime contractor.

GENE KRUPA HELD; ASSERT EMPLOYE HAD MARIJUANA

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 20 (AP).—Hundreds of jitterbugs shouted and applauded Gene Krupa, swing band leader and drummer. He took his bows in center stage. Then he walked from the spotlight into the arms of the law.

Officers, waiting in the wings at the Golden Gate theater, served a warrant charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Edward Leonard, assistant district attorney, said the minor involved was a boy in whose possession federal agents allegedly found marijuana cigarets. The boy, 17 years old, joined Krupa's band two weeks ago as a prop man.

Krupa, 34, denied knowledge of the case. He was released on $1,000 bond after being booked at city prison.

Slated for Wisconsin Date.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 20 [Special].—Gene Krupa's band is slated to play at the University of Wisconsin junior prom Jan. 29 and to give a swing concert in the fieldhouse prior to the campus party.

JUDGE TO WEIGH TEACHER'S PLEA AGAINST OUSTER

Judge John Prystalski of the Circuit court took under advisement yesterday the plea of Mrs. Rose K. Joyce to quash school board trial proceedings that dismissed her as a school teacher on the ground she made unpatriotic remarks before a history class. He may rule on the case Feb. 4. Attorney Maximilian St. George argued that the right of freedom of speech was involved, that the charges against Mrs. Joyce were made by "irresponsible boys and girls," and that she denied the charges. Mrs. Joyce was a teacher at Hyde Park High school when she was ousted.

QUIZ PATTERSON ON PURCHASE OF STEVENS HOTEL

12 Hostelries to Become Hospitals, He Reveals.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson today defended the war department's purchase of the Stevens hotel in Chicago as an economy measure.

The undersecretary testified before the house rules committee that the department has bought 14 hotels and that 12 of them, not including the Stevens, are to be used as hospitals.

Patterson told the committee that a billion dollars has been saved thru renegotiation of war contracts and credited the investigation of overcharges conducted by the house military and naval affairs committees with much of the saving.

The undersecretary was called as a witness by the house rules committee in its investigation of the advisability of continuing the house investigation of war contracts and war production.

Approval also was forecast for resumption of two other investigations instituted in the last congress.

In telling of the billion dollar saving on war contracts, Patterson credited the military and naval affairs committees with breaking up the brokerage system, by which he said many persons professing to have influence had made vast sums angling for contracts for business corporations.

Concerning charges of waste of food in army camps, Patterson said there is no more waste there than in homes and restaurants.

Rep. Fish inquired into Patterson's attitude on objections to an army of 7½ million men.

"Yesterday at West Point," asked Fish, "did you say that people opposed to an army of 7½ million are defeatists?"

"No," Patterson answered. "I said that expressions of opposition to decisions of the joint chiefs of staff on the size of an army necessary to win the war introduce a note of defeatism."

ZERO COLD TO END TODAY, BUT MORE SNOW FORECAST

Slowly rising temperatures for today were predicted by the United States weather bureau yesterday in the wake of a subzero cold wave that harassed Chicago and the midwest on Wednesday. The forecast was for a low of 5 degrees above zero early this morning, followed by rising temperatures and light snow flurries this afternoon.

Chicagoans donned their heaviest coats, ear muffs, and hats as the thermometer registered 13 below, the lowest of the winter and an all-time record for Jan. 20.

Schools were closed in many parts of Illinois, but they remained open in Chicago on the theory that children who live in poorly heated homes would be better off in their class rooms. In spite of the forecast of warmer weather, most rural schools planned to remain closed today because of transportation difficulties.

Transportation facilities in the city were greatly improved yesterday.

BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

WHO KNOWS this may be old stuff?

RIGHT NOW AMERICA'S BEST BRAINS, ingenuity and imagination are concentrating on turning out "convincers" that will prove to Tojo and his chums they made a mistake on December seventh. American man and machine power has adapted itself with amazing rapidity to the twenty-four-hour-a-day job of getting those "convincers" into the right hands and quick! The war bonds you purchase are the insurance that ships, guns, planes and tanks will continue to roll off the assembly lines in double quick time. For you are investing your money in American liberty at good interest instead of buying non-essentials! And when freedom flies from every flag pole, when American industry does turn from war production to "business as usual" those efficient pre-war gadgets, displaced in your budget by war bonds, will look rather like Museum pieces. For phenomenal things are developing from today's extensive research—plastics have proven metal-strong, importantly light and amazingly easy to work with. Nylon when woven into a wool-like fleece is found to be warmer than wool and water repellent. Even some of the ingenious priority-list substitutions are excelling the materials they are replacing. So when America lays down arms, our lives will start reading like an H. G. Wells novel. And Carson Pirie Scott and Co. will play an important roll in the striding Post-War-Progress. For behind us are eighty-eight years of rejecting the faddish—accepting the practical—providing the things that make for better living ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

MILEAGE SAVING SCHEDULE DRAWN BY MAJORS

MARCH 27 PICKED FOR CITY PREP BASKET TITLE GAME

CHAMPIONS OF TWO LEAGUES ARE MATCHED

Stadium Sought for Charity Contest.

The city championship basketball game between the champions of the Catholic and City High school leagues will be played Saturday, March 27, Mayor Edward J. Kelly announced yesterday.

The site of the game, entire proceeds of which will go to the three service men's centers in Chicago, will probably be the Chicago Stadium, altho that detail has not been settled definitely as yet.

Plans for the program will follow closely those of the city high school football championship game which is an annual feature in Soldiers' field each fall, also under the sponsorship of Mayor Kelly. The football attraction in 1942 netted the service men's centers $85,000.

Plan Double Header.

Present arrangements call for a double header program with both the senior and junior champion quintets from the two leagues contesting for recognition as the all-city prep basketball rulers.

Barnet Hodes and Laurance Armour have been selected to direct the details of the basketball program and they will assume the positions of secretary and treasurer, respectively, the same posts they held on the football committee last fall.

Use Same Committee.

Mayor Kelly plans to employ as nearly as possible the same committee for the basketball game as served to arrange the football details in the past. He will act as chairman of the committee.

Upon his appointment Hodes immediately made plans to launch preparation of the details of the program. He plans to confer with Armour and then make a canvass of every member of the organization that directed the football enterprise within the next few days in order to get a general outline perfected as soon as possible.

Will Adjust Rules.

"I intend to contact Stadium officials immediately," he stated, "to obtain the date, which I understand is open on their calendar. Next, I want to get together with league officials and make any adjustments in rule differences that may exist. I understand there are certain eligibility and height requirements which may have to be altered somewhat in order to bring the two leagues' representatives together."

Layden Clears Sam Baugh in All-Star Case

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Sammy Baugh, the Texas rancher and thrower-kicker extraordinary of footballs for the Washington Redskins, yesterday was absolved from blame for being in Texas instead of Pennsylvania on the afternoon of Dec. 27, 1942.

This was the afternoon the world champion Redskins played the National Football league All-Stars in the Pro bowl in Philadelphia and took a 17 to 14 beating, which was induced by the pfesence of 10 Chicago Bears. Since every one, including Elmer Layden, commissioner of professional football, had been led to believe that Sammy would participate in the game, there was quite a commotion, especially after the Redskins were beaten.

Sam Gets Whitewash.

Layden promised an investigation of Baugh's default and the result was his report yesterday, which whitewashed the athlete.

"Investigation has proved conclusively," said the Layden white paper, "that Baugh did intend to play, that he was sick at the time he originally was scheduled to leave his Rotan, Tex., ranch, and that transportation difficulties thwarted his later efforts to reach Philadelphia in time for the game."

"There was no alternative except to find Baugh not guilty of any violation of good faith or of any disregard for his obligation to the public, the league, and to his fellow players. The publicity and subsequent investigation attendant upon Baugh's failure to appear is deemed sufficient punishment under the circumstances.

Hints at Carelessness.

"At most, Baugh may have been careless in delegating the duty of notifying club officials of his inability to leave on Dec. 22 for Philadelphia, as originally scheduled, to Dick Todd of Washington, who presumed that his cancellation of Baugh's plane reservations would serve as notification to club officials."

HAWKS BATTLE CANADIEN SIX IN STADIUM TONIGHT

Seek to Strengthen Grip on Fourth Place.

Games Tonight

New York at Toronto.
Boston at Detroit.
Montreal at Chicago.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The home loving Blackhawks will be hockey hosts to the Montreal Canadiens tonight in Chicago Stadium, and the way things have been going lately it is expected a balmy time will be had by all. With no planning or hippodroming, this season is establishing itself as one of the screwiest on record and it wouldn't be at all surprising tonight if the officials appeared on the rink in their bare feet, or something like that.

Tonight's game will be important, in a manner of speaking, even if it turns out to be a thoroly normal sports process. The Hawks are fourth and have to remain that high to get into the Stanley Cup playoffs. The Canadiens, greatly improved recently, are a game and a half back of the Hawks and think they should be in fourth within a week and first before the regular season ends.

Hawks Must Work.

Unbiased opinion has it that if the Hawks ever sag back into also-ran coupling with the New York Rangers, there will be no Stanley Cup competition in Chicago, come March. So the Hawk desire to beat off their immediate challengers is most feverish.

The Canadiens, despite an early slump in their general league endeavor, have a one victory advantage over the Hawks in the five games the teams have played against each other this season. The Montrealers have won, 5 to 2 and 5 to 1, and tied, 2 to 2, in Montreal and the Hawks have won, 5 to 2 and tied 3 to 3 in the games here. The outfits have five more games to play with each other, counting tonight's affair.

Each Wins Ten.

The Canadiens and the Hawks have won the same number of games in the National league—10. But the Chicagoans have lost only nine and the Canadiens have dropped 15. The Hawks have made eight points thru ties and the Canadiens five thru deadlocks.

In their last half dozen games the Canadiens have won four. In their last half dozen the Hawks have won but one. These groupings include a 5 to 1 whipping the Montrealers gave the Hawks in Montreal a week ago tonight.

Max Bentley Ready.

Acting Manager Johnny Gottselig cut the drill yesterday to 30 minutes of target practice, half the time allotted to rehearsals on Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

All Hawk hands will be available tonight and Max Bentley, who was unable to play against the Canadiens a week ago, will be in there shooting tonight. Max is the Chicago point leader, with 32, one point behind the Canadien leaders, Buddy O'Connor and Toe Blake, who are tied with 33 each. They have played six more games than Max, however.

CAMP GRANT IS 58 TO 38 WINNER OVER BRADLEY

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 20 (AP). — Camp Grant's basketball team ran its string of consecutive victories to 15 tonight by defeating Bradley, 58 to 38. After trailing at one time, 26 to 10, Bradley narrowed the margin to 37 to 31, only to have the soldiers run up 18 points in the next seven minutes.

REDS WON'T LET CUBS ALONE ON DERRINGER DEAL

Giles Is Determined if It Takes All Spring.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Paul Derringer may not know it, but his bosses are still aiming to have him fitted to one of those fancy vestee types of Cub uniforms for next summer's wear.

The big right hander who for years has been bowling all sorts of baffling pitches up to the plate in behalf of the Reds came dangerously close to being measured for new work clothes while the big leagues were assembled here last month. The idea blew up, but has since been renewed thru the initiative of Warren Giles, the Rhineland club's general manager. The latter has no intention of allowing the scent to grow cold.

Reds Anxious to Deal.

If Giles can't talk the Cubs into a Derringer deal in the near future he'll keep after them during spring training, having had a double purpose in picking Bloomington, Ind., as a camp site. The Cubs will be just around the corner, making it simple for Giles to stay close on the heels of General Manager James Gallagher.

Feeling that Derringer has been in one place long enough, the Reds are more than willing to peddle his services. Jim Wilson, the Cub manager, wants the veteran, believing that he'll turn out high class work for at least another season. The hitch in the negotiations thus far is what the Cubs can give. The Reds' crying need is a left handed hitting outfielder, of which the Cubs have none to spare. But it's possible the Reds would accept a fly chaser who swings from the right side.

Set Back City Series.

The Cubs' arrangement by which reserved tickets for Wrigley field games could be purchased thru any Chicago Western Union office, is about to become a war casualty because of government regulations. It had been in operation for seven seasons. During that time 415,000 reserved seats, or 29 per cent of the total sale, were disposed of in that fashion.

The Cubs-Sox annual Chicago spring series now has been changed from April 16, 17, and 18 to 17, 18, and 19, the latter a Monday. The shift was made because of April 16 being Good Friday. Other exhibitions in which the Sox and Cubs will take part while doing their training at French Lick, Ind., now are being arranged.

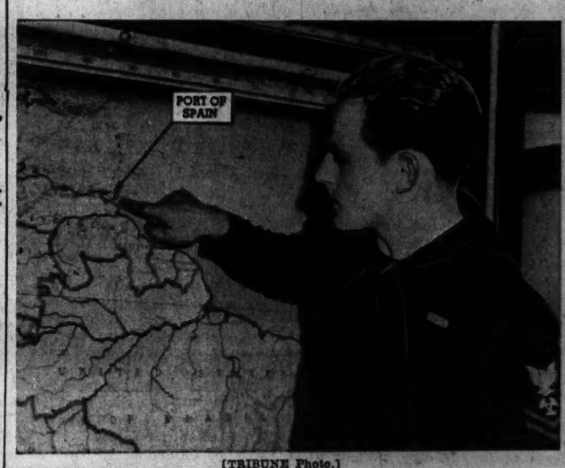
A Golden Glover Gets Around



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

James Kapanicas, 23 year old sailor and recent entrant in the Golden Gloves, points to Port of Spain, Trinidad, one of the spots visited by a destroyer on which he served. James, now stationed aboard the U. S. S. Wolverine, was a Golden Glover back in 1937 in Toledo.

IT'S WAR ZONE TO GOLDEN GLOVES FOR SAILOR JIM

BY WILFRID SMITH.

For more than seven months James Kapanicas, second class water tender now stationed aboard the U. S. S. Wolverine, saw service with the Atlantic fleet. He is one of many sailors in Chicago and vicinity who will seek a Golden Glove in the sectional tournaments which will start Feb. 1 in the St. Sabina gymnasium. Kapanicas will report tomorrow night in Trafton's gymnasium, 180 West Randolph street, between 6 and 8 p. m. for his preliminary physical examination. He expects to select the north side tournament at Loyola university, which opens Feb. 3, for his Chicago amateur boxing debut.

A Glover Back in '37.

Kapanicas, who is 23, has been in the navy for 27 months. He knew of Golden Gloves and Chicago's Tournament of Champions long before he enlisted, for he competed in the tournament sponsored by the Toledo, O., News-Bee in 1937, winning one bout and losing another. His home is in Toledo and he attended Woodward High school in that city for a year and played center on the lightweight football team. His parents live at 1460 Michigan avenue, Toledo, and his father is employed at the Erie proving grounds, Camp Perry. His only brother is in the army.

Kapanicas fought as a lightweight in the Toledo tournament. He will enter the 147 pound class, altho at first glance his 5 feet 3 inches scarcely matches what one expects of a welterweight.

In his seven months at sea, he saw many ports, some of which cannot be named. Kapanicas, on one occasion, was at Port of Spain, Trinidad.

The first group of Golden Gloves candidates will report tomorrow night. Next Tuesday the Catholic Youth Organization boxers will be examined at the C. Y. O. gymnasium, 31 East Congress street. The last of the three preliminary examinations will be held Jan. 29 in Trafton's gym. Any boy, 16 years of age or over, who wishes to enter Golden Gloves should fill out the entry blank which appears daily in these columns.

32 to Reach Finals.

Each will receive a letter of instructions and a parental consent card which must be signed by parent or guardian and brought to the medical examination.

The north and south side tournaments will determine sectional champions in both the open and novice divisions. These 32 boys—16 novices and 16 experienced boxers—will be matched for city titles in the Armory, 16th street and Michigan avenue, on Feb. 11. The open division winners in these bouts will represent Chicago in the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium, Feb. 22, 23, 24 against a score of out of town teams from the south and middle west.

Loyola Beats Glenview Air Station, 52-33

The Loyola Ramblers defeated the Glenview Naval Air Station basketball team, 52 to 33, last night in Loyola gym to gain their sixth victory in 10 games. The Ramblers took an early lead and were ahead 23 to 15 by the intermission. Jack Dwan, the Rambler forward, topped his team's bombardment with 18 points.

Bob Tletz and Bernie Carmen started the Loyola offensive moving in the opening minutes when they collaborated to push the Ramblers to an 8 to 3 lead before four minutes were gone. They only faltered once, at a point in the second half, when their margin went down to seven points, 28 to 21. The Cadets, under the direction of Lt. Tom Scott, were playing with an almost completely changed personnel from that which started the Glenview season.

Chalky Wright Calls Off His Match with Bartola

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Chalky Wright, former featherweight champion, today notified Boston promoters that he would be unable to go thru with his engagement with Sal Bartola Friday night. Wright said he had a heavy cold and had been unable to train.

CUBS, PIRATES TO OPEN SEASON ON NORTH SIDE

Reaffirm July 13 for All-Star Game.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—A major league schedule which, according to estimate, will reduce the normal railroad travel of other years by 5 million man miles in 1943, was drawn up today by Will Harridge, president of the American league, and Ford Frick, National league chief.

As decided in an emergency meeting recently in Chicago, the 154 game season will open on April 21 and close on Oct. 3. Fixing of a new playing chart was made necessary when the leagues set back their opening, which originally was scheduled for April 13. The late start was necessitated when the office of defense transportation banned spring training south of the Mason-Dixon line and west of the Mississippi river, except for the St. Louis clubs. This action made it mandatory for the teams to postpone the start of spring training.

Three Visits to Rival Cities.

Harridge and Frick made the estimate on the huge saving in railroad travel. No team will make more than three trips into any other league city. For the first time in history intersectional foes will meet on Memorial day and the Fourth of July, and also will clash in the final series of the season for the first time in more than 20 years.

The date of Tuesday, July 13, was announced for the annual all-star game. [THE TRIBUNE announced this new date at the time of the emergency meeting in Chicago.] It will be played in Shibe park, Philadelphia.

The practice of opening the American league season in Washington a day early every other year was continued. The Athletics and Senators will meet on Tuesday, April 20, in Griffith stadium.

Cubs Open Against Pirates.

The Chicago Cubs will play their 1943 opener in Wrigley field against the Pittsburgh Pirates. The White Sox will engage the Browns in St. Louis and will make their first appearance in Comiskey park on April 27 against the Cleveland Indians. The opening day schedule follows:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Washington at N. Y. — Chicago at St. Louis.
Boston at Phila. — Detroit at Cleveland.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
N. Y. at Brooklyn. — St. L. at Cincinnati.
Phila. at Boston. — Pittsburgh at Chicago.

The teams that start away from home will have their "second openers" on Tuesday, April 27, in the National league and either Monday or Tuesday in the American league. Pairings for these games will be:

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
New York at Boston. — Cleveland at Chicago.
Phila. at Washington. — St. Louis at Detroit.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Boston at New York. — Cincinnati at Pitts.
Brooklyn at Phila. — Chicago at St. Louis.

This year the two big holidays fall on Sunday and the baseball clubs will hold their customary double header observance on Monday. For these dates the opponents will be:

May 31, National league—Boston at Pittsburgh, New York at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Chicago, and Brooklyn at St. Louis. American league—Cleveland at Washington, Detroit at Philadelphia, Chicago at New York, St. Louis at Boston.

July 5, National league—Cincinnati at Boston, Chicago at Brooklyn, Pittsburgh at New York, St. Louis at Philadelphia. American league—Boston at Chicago, New York at St. Louis, Washington at Detroit, Philadelphia at Cleveland.

A. L. Awaits Contract Ruling.

Two open dates were left between each intersectional swing to allow for travel difficulties. Agreement also was reached on having two major league clubs meet again in the annual memorial game at Cooperstown, N. Y., but the opponents and the date were not selected.

Harridge also disclosed that all American league clubs had been asked to withhold sending out contracts to their players until a national ruling had been received from the director of economic stabilization on whether salary freezing applied to baseball contracts. Frick said as far as he knew no national league club except the New York Giants had begun preparation of contracts, altho no stipulation had been made by the league.

BOLDEN LIKELY TO FIND SAVOLD MUCH IMPROVED

Lee's Learned a Lot Since Franklin Stopped Him.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Lee Savold, former county fair boxer, stevedore, steamship steward, lumberjack, ranch hand, and bartender and bouncer, yesterday ended hard training in the Ringside loop gymnasium for a 10 round bout with Nate Bolden in Chicago Stadium tomorrow.

After the 26 year old American of Norwegian descent left the ring fans wanted to know how come he is the sixth leading contender for a shot at the heavyweight title when a boxer of Lem Franklin's ability could knock him out.

Well, that knockout was dealt Savold three years ago in his last Chicago appearance and Lee has improved considerably since then. An idea of how Savold has bettered his standing may be gained when it is understood he collected only $250 for that Franklin embarrassment and will receive 22½ per cent of the net receipts, or approximately $4,500, for tomorrow's match.

Savold yesterday boxed three rounds with Hubert Hood, 1942 Chicagoland Golden Gloves heavyweight title holder, who opposes Hank Postaway of Wyandotte, Mich., in a six round preliminary on the Stadium program.

Worlds vs. Comiskey.

Clayton Worlds, rangy south side 194 pounder, also ended sparring drills yesterday for a 10 round supporting match against Pat Comiskey tomorrow. Clayton, like Bolden, will enter the ring the underdog, but his brief professional record and his form in training indicate Big Pat will have a fight on his hands. Worlds has engaged in only five bouts in the money ranks. In one of these appearances, however, he scored an upset over Altus Allen.

Franklin and Allen, who meet in a third event of 10 rounds on the card, will finish drills today by doing a series of light loosening up exercises, as will Savold. Bolden, Comiskey, and Worlds.

Maj. Joe Triner, former head of the Illinois athletic commission and the National Boxing association, has been transferred from India to a camp in Cairo, Egypt. . . . Pete Schu, Argo heavyweight wrestler, will meet Billy Bartush in the windup bout of Promoter Billy Cepak's mat card tonight in Cicero stadium, 19th street and 52d avenue. . . . Wladyslaw Talun is paired with Frenchy Annitte, George Mack with Felix Yakaitis, and Jimmy Demetral with Rudy Hoffman.

MANLEY SENIORS BEAT GAGE PARK; THIRD STRAIGHT

Tilden, Lindblom, Du Sable Quintets Win.

Manley High school won its third straight victory in the senior division of the City league central section basketball season yesterday, defeating Gage Park, 40 to 29, on the latter's floor. It was the first defeat for Gage Park in two league games. Manley led at the half, 22 to 21, and in the second half made 18 points while holding Gage Park to 8. Larry Goldberg led the winners with 12 points.

Tilden, Lindblom, and Du Sable seniors went into a three way tie for third place in the central section race yesterday, all passing Gage Park. Tilden beat Kelly, 34 to 22; Lindblom routed Phillips, 52 to 18, and Du Sable outscored Harrison, 45 to 41.

Marshall scored its third west section senior victory in four games, defeating Washburne, 53 to 26.

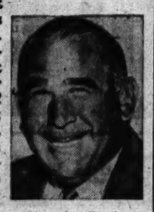
Recall Mr. Ed Lewis? Here's the Strangler—1943 Model

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

One night early last April, Johnny Doyle, rassling impresario of Los Angeles' East Side arena, was in a high dither. Mr. Doyle had arranged an elegant production for native lovers of the sport, but, at the last minute, one of the artists had failed to appear, leaving no competition for Hans Schnabel, an earnest Teuton, who was on hand early, rarin' to display his technique.



Strangler Lewis.

Maestro Doyle was frantic until he noted among the early guests a large party who obviously was there to enjoy himself as a spectator. Doyle wasted no time in hustling down to the big man's pew and begging him to work against Herr Schnabel. The latter finally agreed, cramming his then 350 pounds into a borrowed pair of trunks and climbing into a pair of size 14 shoes, his own size being a 12.

Out of It 5 Years.

Doyle had made no mistake in his unusual request. He was not asking an ordinary customer to go to work. He was asking one of the greatest wrestlers of his time—Ed Lewis, the old Strangler himself. He hadn't wrestled since late in 1937, when he announced his retirement to a restaurant business, after 31 years in the ring.

So now the Strangler is back in our town, all because of that one impromptu match, which, incidentally, he won in 18 minutes. He sold the three steakhouses he owned on the coast, and has been working in his old field for the last 10 months. And he's as spry-witted and physically fit as ever, for all that he will be 52 years old come June 30.

Down to Mere 270.

"I had had the itch to get back into the game for several months, but that one match settled it," Lewis said the other day. "I was worried at first when I found that my blood pressure averaged around 210. Now it's down to 132, and my weight has dropped from 350 to 270. It will be perfect if I can knock off another 20 pounds.

"The remarkable result of my return, to me, has been the lack of any excessive thirst following exercise. I always have contended that when an athlete is burned out, any normal exertion will cause a terrific thirst. A good example of this was Jack Johnson, whom I saw train in El Paso, Tex., for his fight with Jess Willard in 1915. After a few rounds of sparring, Johnson would drain a whole bucket of water and ask for more. When I got down to real training last spring I noticed that my thirst was quite moderate, a sufficient indication that I am in shape.

Ability to Relax Important.

"The ability to relax and knowledge of when to attack are the two greatest weapons any competitive athlete can have. It's my conviction that relaxing will aid a man's blood supply, and that it is lack of this, rather than lack of lung power, which causes exhaustion.

The Strangler allows he has taken part in more than 6,200 matches since he came out of Nekoosa, Wis., as a prodigy named Robert Friedrich. He has been around the world four times, has crossed this continent 250 times, and has traveled more than 1,500,000 miles via air.

[P. S. Lewis defeated Hans Steinke at the Rainbo Frqnton last night before 1,506, taking two out of three falls.]

Service Boxing Show Tonight at Navy Pier

Amateur boxers from Fort Custer and Navy pier will meet in a Service Men's league match in the pier drill hall gymnasium tonight. It will be the pier team's first appearance under the direction of Chief Petty Officer Joe Walker, who recently was appointed boxing coach at this station. In a previous meeting the pier held Fort Custer to a draw, 4 bouts to 4, under the guidance of First Class Specialist Jack Gall, who will assist Chief Walker at this evening's bouts.

DE LA SALLE FIVE BEATS ST. RITA FOR 2D STRAIGHT

The De La Salle High school quintet took first place in the south section senior division of the Catholic league last night by defeating St. Rita, 42 to 33, at De La Salle. It was St. Rita's first defeat and the second straight victory for unbeaten De La Salle. Bermody paced De La Salle's attack with 14 points.

St. Rita remained the only undefeated team in the junior division with its 30 to 27 triumph over De La Salle in the junior game. It was the second straight for St. Rita and the first loss in two games for De La Salle. Lineup:

AUSTIN DEFEATS KELVYN PARK IN JUNIORS' BATTLE

Austin High school knocked Kelvyn Park juniors out of a three way tie for first place in the City league west section basketball standings yesterday by winning, 37 to 36, on the Kelvyn Park floor. It was the first loss for Kelvyn Park in three games and the first victory for Austin in two. Austin won the game with a second half rally that netted 22 points after Kelvyn Park led, 20 to 15, at the half. Carl Keeshin made 14 points for Austin.

Medill, which lost its first two junior games in the west section, won its second straight by defeating Foreman, 44 to 31, on the victor's court. Tuley gained a 43 to 32 victory over McKinley at Tuley. Sol Mossillami of McKinley scored 21 points.

Waller defeated Lane Tech, 49 to 34, at Waller for its third straight north section junior victory. Lane reversed the verdict in the senior game, winning, 53 to 39. Junior lineups:

SAVE MEAT WITH TASTY ALL-BRAN MEAT PATTIES

Here's a grand recipe for these times! Delicious, nourishing meat patties—made with KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Makes meat go further. Gives these patties a tempting, crunchy texture—plus all the nutritional benefits of ALL-BRAN: valuable proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals. Try it!

Kellogg's All-Bran Meat Patties

1 egg	1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 teaspoons salt	1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon pepper	¼ cup catsup
2 tablespoons minced onion	1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
	1 pound ground beef

Beat egg, add salt, pepper, onion, parsley, milk, catsup and All-Bran. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) about 20 minutes or broil about 15 minutes. Remove meat patties from pan. Add some milk and seasonings to drippings. Thicken slightly to make gravy. Yield: 5 servings, 2 patties each.

CHICAGO DOCTORS DAMPEN HOPE OF PAINLESS BIRTHS

Regard New Technique as Limited in Scope.

Women will continue to feel some pain in giving birth to babies, leading obstetricians of Chicago declared yesterday, despite the new method of painless childbirth developed by two doctors in a Staten Island, N. Y., hospital and described in the current issue of the American Medical Association Journal.

The new painless technique, which involves the injection into the tip of the spine of a solution of metycaine, a cocaine substitute, was declared by Chicago doctors to be a highly technical procedure which has a limited field and should be used only in extreme cases where present methods of anesthesia are not adequate.

Report on 589 Cases.

The new anesthesia was discussed in an editorial of the medical association journal. The first case was at United States Public Health Service Marine hospital on Staten Island Jan. 6, 1942, and since then the two doctors, Robert A. Hingson and Waldo B. Edwards, have used the anesthesia in 589 cases with 586 live births and no maternal complications or deaths.

The method of anesthesia is not revolutionary, Dr. James Henry Bloomfield, Chicago obstetrician, said, but the practice of employing the injections for a greater length of time is new.

"One disadvantage is that the patient cannot be moved during the entire delivery period," he added.

Demand More Experimentation.

Dr. Frederick H. Falls, head of the department of obstetrics and gynecology in the University of Illinois medical school, said the new method had dangers as well as benefits and that it would not be used at the school until much more experimentation has been completed.

Dr. M. Edward Davis of the University of Chicago Lying-in hospital said that, while the new method showed promise, it was still in the experimental stage.

"We have already found it has limitations," Dr. Davis said. "It cannot be used where the patient has high blood pressure. It should be used with great discretion and probably will not be ready for general practice for a long time. At present it should be used only in large institutions that have expert staffs."

A LADY'S GLANCE WILL BE WORTH $20 TO TWO COPS

Two unidentified policemen are in line for a $10 reward each, if and when Mrs. Jane P. Grant, 450 Belmont avenue, finds and recognizes them.

She appeared yesterday before Judge Edgar F. Thoma of Du Page county, sitting in the Probate court, and asked permission to spend $20 from the $1,750 estate of her uncle, William E. Pilkington, 72, of Minneapolis, who was killed March 19, 1942, by an automobile at Lake Shore drive and Belmont avenue. She is administratrix of the estate.

Mrs. Grant explained that Pilkington was carrying $1,200 in his pockets when he was killed, and that the two policemen safeguard the money. She'd like, she said, to reward each with $10. Altho she doesn't know their names, she'd recognize them, she added.

Girl Falls Thru Lake Ice; Saved by Two Companions

Mary Myers, 11 years old, 1254 Columbia avenue, the daughter of Francis X. Myers, operating manager of Goldblatt's State street store, fell thru the ice while sliding along the lake shore at Loyola avenue yesterday. She was pulled from the water by two girl companions, Joan Letcher of 6625 Glenwood avenue and Patricia Dunlap of 6453 Bosworth avenue. Rogers Park police took her to a nearby apartment, dried her clothing, and took her home. Police said she apparently suffered no ill effects from the icy ducking.

2 Speedy Police Patrols Win a Race with Stork

When the stork signaled early yesterday that he was on the way, Mrs. Nora Kulp, 33 years old, 2317 North avenue, called the North avenue police for help. Policemen Elmer Rech and William Curly responded, placed her in a patrol wagon and drove her to Oakley avenue and Superior street, where the emergency ambulance stalled. The Shakespeare station sent another patrol to pick up Mrs. Kulp, and it managed to beat the stork to St. Mary's hospital, where Mrs. Kulp's eighth child, a 7 pound son, was born.

County Passes Fifth Day Without Motor Fatality

The coroner's office reported that yesterday was the fifth consecutive day without an automobile fatality in Chicago and Cook county despite severe weather hazards. Up to last Friday, 29 persons were killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1, 26 in Chicago. Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 631 persons had been injured in Chicago traffic accidents since Jan. 1.

EXPECT NEW PIPE LINE OPERATION WITHIN 3 WEEKS

Oil will be pouring within the next three weeks thru the war emergency pipe line being rushed to completion from Longview, Tex., to Norris City, Ill., the Chicago office of the petroleum administrator for war disclosed yesterday.

Completion of the pipe line eventually will swell the volume of crude and fuel oil moving to the east coast by 120,000 barrels daily, the PAW announced.

Less than five miles of the big tube between Longview and Norris City remain to be welded to complete the 530 mile western stretch of the 24 inch line, the PAW office revealed. Valves and other operating equipment are arriving on schedule.

Repairs to the flood damaged Mississippi river crossing are proceeding and the line is being filled with oil at the rate of approximately 30,000 barrels a day. This line-fill oil column is moving north as fast as the installation of valve equipment and final tie-in of unfinished sections permit.

POLICE WARNED OF SUICIDE PLAN; FIND MAN DEAD

Warned by a long distance telephone call from a daughter that Percy O'Kane, 40 years old, had threatened to take his life, Morton Grove county highway police last night entered his home at 116 South Roy street, North Lake village, and found him hanged in the living room.

Near by was a note dated yesterday, which read: "Farewell to every one, especially my children. Many things that I've planned to do will have to remain unfinished." Another note addressed "to whom it may concern" stated family trouble was the reason for his act.

O'Kane was a switchman for a railroad, police said. They planned to communicate with O'Kane's daughter Patricia, who lives with a relative in Dixon, Ill.

RALLY IN STEELS OFFSETS EARLY STOCK DECLINES

Gains Range to a Point for Many Issues.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—A late rally led by steels left stock market prices mixed today after earlier weakness thruout most of the list. Gains ranging to more than a point replaced the losses of many favorites. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at 42.3.

Developments affecting individual issues were active forces governing price movements, however, and declines were almost as numerous as gains at the close.

American Telephone Unchanged.

Bethlehem, United States Steel, Case, Central Railroad of New Jersey, and Oliver Farm were prominent in the upturn, each rising a point. American Telephone wiped out a decline to close unchanged.

Lower at the finish were, among others, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Phillip Morris, Standard Oil [New Jersey], and Texas company.

Those reaching new 1942-'43 highs included United States Rubber preferred, up 3¼; International Nickel, up 1¼, and Central Railroad of New Jersey, up 1.

CHICAGO LIST LOWER.

Chicago Stock exchange prices declined yesterday on turnover of 17,000 shares. Volume leaders were General Electric, down ¼; Cities Service, up ⅝; Middle West corporation, down ⅛, and Chicago corporation and Central and South West Utilities, both unchanged.

FOREIGN BONDS RISE.

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Pressure on railroad bonds slackened today and, altho the main corporate list was spotty, declines were fewer than on Tuesday.

The 20 rails in the Associated Press average recouped .1 of a point of the preceding day's drop of .5. The index of 10 foreign bonds set a new 1942-'43 high at 56.6 largely as a result of Australia. Denmark, Brazil, and Chile. Sales of $10,204,500, face value, compared with $10,998,200 on Tuesday.

Several railroads involved in a tax dispute with New Jersey, now in the courts, were in active demand.

AM. TELEPHONE TO SLASH TOLLS BY 50 MILLIONS

FCC Agrees to Call Off Investigation.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—The federal communications commission announced tonight that American Telephone and Telegraph company would reduce its long lines revenues by an estimated $50,700,000 per year, of which $34,700,000 would be an immediate saving to the public.

Walter S. Gifford.

No reduction will be made in the charge for the initial three minutes of long distance telephone calls, but the overtime charge will be cut.

At present the charge for each additional minute is one-third of the charge for the first three minutes, but under the new rates the charge will be one fourth.

Example of Reduction.

For example, it was said that at present a station to station call from Washington to Denver costs $3 for three minutes and $5 for five minutes, whereas under the new schedule the five minute call will cost $4.50, a saving of 50 cents.

The FCC said the reductions are being made under an agreement it reached with the A. T. & T. The agreement calls for cancellation of an investigation ordered last November into all charges of A. T. & T.'s long lines department, which includes the leasing of telephone and telegraph wires, as well as the leasing of long distance telephone service.

The commission said that the agreement would cut $11,900,000 off the government's bill for private telephone and telegraph lines leased from A. T. & T. The government leases 43 per cent of all such lines rented by the company.

Leased Lines Benefited.

The 16 million dollars not listed as a direct immediate saving to the public presumably will be the larger share of revenue of the long lines department which will be turned over to companies in the Bell system.

"All persons or organizations using leased private lines, including newspapers and broadcasting stations," the FCC said, "benefit substantially from the reductions, which are equivalent to approximately 25 per cent in private telephone lines and 35 per cent in private telegraph lines. The small broadcasting stations, as the casual users of telephone lines, will benefit from a lowering of the initial rate per hour for line costs by approximately 50 per cent.

Larger broadcast users will benefit by a reduction from $8 to $6 per air line mile."

Statement by Gifford.

In New York, A. T. & T. president, Walter S. Gifford said "it will be noted that no reductions in basic message rates are to be made and that the reductions agreed to were those least apt thru stimulation of business to add a further burden to the already overloaded long distance lines."

He said extraordinary long distance business had resulted—probably only temporarily—in an earnings rate for the company's long lines department which was "in excess of the average for the Bell Telephone system as a whole."

Explaining the FCC had exclusive jurisdiction over long lines rates, Gifford said the commission had insisted that earnings from such rates should be considered by themselves and had insisted that, when so considered, they produced a return larger than could be justified. The company differed on this policy.

Open Region Office to Aid Filing of Inventory Forms

Opening of a regional wholesale and retail trades office of the WPB priorities division was announced yesterday by the OWI. The purpose of the new office is to give information and assistance in filling and filing the new inventory limitation and priorities forms needed to obtain and deal in war materials.

SEC Charges Rollins Firm Misled Clients

E. H. Rollins and Sons, Inc., investment securities house with headquarters in New York and Chicago office at 231 South La Salle street, was ordered by the securities and exchange commission yesterday to appear at a hearing to consider the revocation and suspension of its registration as a securities dealer. Walter C. Rawls, manager of the firm's St. Louis office, also was named in the order.

Among the charges placed against the Rollins firm and Rawls in the SEC order were sale of securities to customers at prices above the prevailing markets, falsification of records, and actions taken which were not in the interests of the customers.

Hearing to Open Feb. 23.

Thomas B. Hart, regional administrator for the SEC, said the hearing would be opened Feb. 23 in the SEC's Chicago office at 105 West Adams street. He said it is an administrative action—not criminal.

The order said it was based on an investigation SEC staff members made of the Rollins firm and of Rawls which "tended to show" a number of irregularities including the following:

That the Rollins firm and Rawls had solicited the accounts of various religious and charitable organizations and trustees of funds held for religious and charitable purposes and by their conduct toward such customers led them to believe they were acting in the best interests of the customers whereas the contrary was the case.

That they bought securities supposedly for their customers' accounts but actually with the intent of speculating on market fluctuations in securities prices under a scheme whereby they took the profits and the customers the losses.

That the firm and Rawls falsified ledger accounts of customers. Other technical complaints were included.

Firm Issues Statement.

The Rollins company issued the following statement on the SEC action:

"The hearing called by the SEC is with respect to a certain related group of our institutional accounts which the Chicago office of the commission has been investigating for over a year and a half, with respect to which both we and the institutions involved have from time to time furnished the commission with detailed information.

"Representatives of the institutions involved have expressed to us their complete satisfaction with the handling of these accounts and have continued their business relations with us.

"Up to the time the notice of hearing was received by us this afternoon we had no intimation that a hearing was contemplated."

ICKES REBUKES CRITICS OF REA; LAUDS OWN WORK

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 20 (AP).—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes tonight rebuked those "who cry against the efforts of the people to protect their interests thru their government."

Ickes, addressing the final session of the first annual convention of the National Rural Electric Cooperative association, said:

"We must see to it that our great public power projects that are saving lives now by shortening the war, will, when peace comes, play an equally important rôle in our reconstruction.

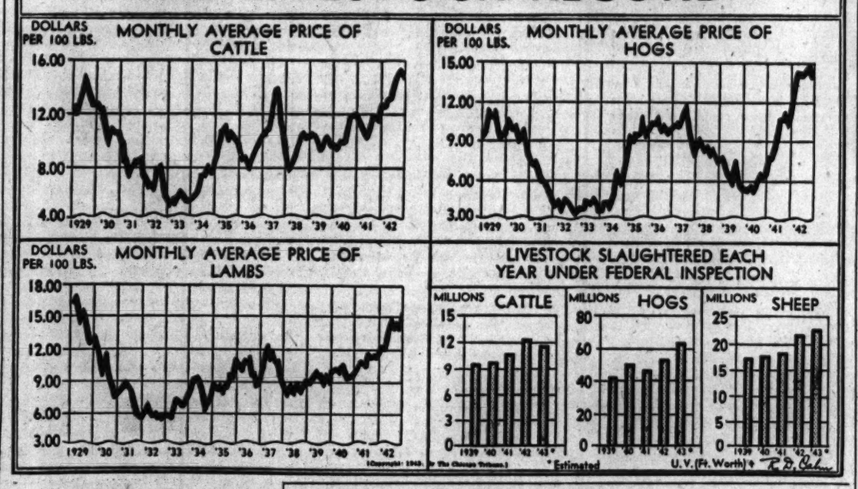
"You [the operators of rural cooperatives] and I have made some jealousy-breeding records in the running of public power systems. We have done the job efficiently, competently, and successfully."

Leland Olds, chairman of the federal power commission, asserted that "the great economic powers of the nation were engaged in a campaign to reverse the REA and TVA trend—a campaign to destroy the very roots of the great unity of purpose which was moving to assure the Democratic use of the country's resources."

Electric Power Production Declines Slightly in Week

Electric power production in the week ended Jan. 16 totaled 3,952,479,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 3,952,587,000 the preceding week and was 14.5 per cent above the corresponding 1942 week, the Edison Electric institute announced yesterday. Output of the Commonwealth Edison group of companies totaled 181,884,000 kilowatt hours, a 10 per cent increase over last year and compared with the preceding week's total of 186,336,000 kilowatt hours.

THE LIVESTOCK RECORD



Hogs Establish 23 Year Price Top for Month

Farm shipments of live stock to all packing plants were lighter yesterday as a result of weather conditions. Offerings of some types were among the lowest on record for a midweek session. The meager supplies sold in the Chicago stockyards at new high winter prices.

Hogs averaged $15.10 a hundred pounds, highest since Oct. 21 and highest for January in 23 years. The general level of cattle prices was the second highest on record for January. The lamb average increased to $16.10, a new 14 year January high and second highest for the month since 1925.

Many Suspend Slaughtering.

The acute shortage caused many packing plants in various regions to suspend slaughtering temporarily. Shipments from farms did not supply enough fresh meat to fill the low quotas allowed civilians and packers were forced to draw on the reserve held for filling lend-lease and army contracts.

Twenty of the principal markets during the first three days this week received 554,000 cattle, hogs and sheep, compared with 816,000 the first half of last week and 714,000 the corresponding period last year. This 32 per cent reduction from a week ago represented a decline in meat tonnage of almost 53 million pounds.

Hog Shipments Light.

Only 6,500 hogs arrived in the Chicago yards, including direct shipments to packers, compared with 19,162 a week ago and 26,976 a year ago. Young hogs below 230 pounds sold 10 to 15 cents higher, with top loads at $15.40, highest since Oct. 9 and the highest for January since 1920. Others were steady to 10 cents higher.

"Cheap" cattle were in demand. Gains of 25 to 40 cents were registered in beef cows, canners and cutters. Bulls rose mostly 25 cents. Steers, yearlings and heifers advanced 10 to 25 cents, altho some closed about steady.

Lambs sold steady to 15 cents higher and old sheep mostly 25 cents higher.

ENJOIN SINCLAIR REFINING ON RATION CHARGE

New York, Jan. 20 (AP).—Federal District Judge Samuel Mandelbaum today signed a temporary restraining order against the Sinclair Refining company on an OPA complaint that charged the company with violation of the anti-discrimination amendment to ration order 11.

The restraining order was accompanied by an order, returnable Friday for argument, requiring the company to show cause why a permanent injunction should not be issued.

The complaint accused the company of following a policy of discrimination among dealers and suppliers entitled to acquire fuel oil under the terms of the ration order.

The complaint alleged that the Sinclair Refining company, a primary distributor, "by its agents, servants or employés," adopted and pursued a policy of discrimination from Jan. 9 "to the date of this complaint."

The company was further charged in the complaint with threatening to "discriminate in the future among dealers or suppliers entitled to acquire fuel oil from the defendant" in accordance with the ration order.

Approve Sale of 37 Million in School Fund Warrants

Sale of $37,800,000 in educational fund tax anticipation warrants to six Chicago banks, and $4,384,000 in building fund warrants to Hickey & Co., at par was approved yesterday by directors of the board of education. Interest rates range from 1½ to 2 per cent.

Dooley Is Elected Director of Sears Community Bank

William G. Dooley, vice president and cashier of the Sears Community State bank, yesterday was elected a director at the annual stockholders' meeting.

KAISER PREDICTS SHIP OUTPUT WILL DOUBLE IF SUPPLY HOLDS OUT

Henry J. Kaiser, west coast ship builder will double his 1942 construction record this year if sufficient materials are available, he said in Chicago yesterday en route home after a business trip to New York and Washington. He said the Kaiser plants were capable of turning out 400 to 500 Liberty ships, "and could do better if we could get more material."

Henry J. Kaiser.

Work is proceeding on schedule in the construction of three 60 ton super-cargo airplanes to cost a total of 18 million dollars, in which he is collaborating with Howard Hughes, noted plane designer, Kaiser said.

The WPB's new plan for the control of vital war materials promises to speed the flow of war equipment, he said.

Indict Kroger, Safeway Food Store Chains

Kansas City, Kas., Jan. 20 (AP).—The federal government brought two more of the country's big food store chain organizations—Safeway and Kroger—under indictment today on charges of violating the Sherman anti-trust law, charges promptly denied by officials of the two companies.

In separate indictments a federal grand jury alleged that Safeway Stores, Inc., eight subsidiary companies and thirteen officials, and the Kroger Grocery and Baking company, three subsidiaries and five officials conspired to restrain and monopolize trade.

Last November a federal grand jury at Dallas indicted the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, the country's biggest food chain organization, on similar charges.

Companies Deny Charges.

L. A. Warren, Oakland, Cal., president of Safeway, in a statement issued at the compani's Oakland headquarters, promptly denied the charges.

"Safeway has in no way violated any anti-trust laws unless being efficient and rendering a low cost service to producers and consumers has become a crime," said Warren. "We have simply joined the thousands of firms and individuals including farm cooperatives, war industries, lumbermen, labor unions, and press associations that have been subjected to similar inquisitions."

Says Issue Is "Bigness."

Charles M. Robertson, president and director of Kroger, said in Cincinnati:

"I am given the impression that the real problem or objective involved is a theory in economics that bigness in itself in food distribution as exemplified by Kroger is economically unsound. In essence, the government wishes us to unscramble our eggs and become 3,500 [store] units."

Rap Handling Regular Cargo as Lend-Lease

New York, Jan. 20 [Special].—The trend toward handling ordinary commercial cargoes as lend-lease shipments is strongly assailed by foreign traders here.

"If the present trend continues," one trader said in outlining the situation, "all vestiges of the American export trade to all countries will be lost before the conclusion of the war and the supplier-exporter-importer relationship will be destroyed to the detriment of American business.

Hold to Regular Channels.

"Conversely, certain foreign nations which are recipients of lend-lease assistance are maintaining their regular commercial channels. Thus, not only is the American public expected to pay for the support of foreign populations, but it is maintaining business as usual for foreign competitors as far as trade procedure is concerned."

A substantial quantity of goods is being moved to destinations where there are buyers willing to buy for cash, it was asserted by one trader who specifically mentioned the Belgian Congo as a case in point. Another explained that the Manchester branch of his organization was still directly supplying accounts in Australia altho the company could not do so from here because of lend-lease.

Shipped Under Lend-Lease.

Other traders asserted that altho most commercial goods were not going to Latin America under lend-lease, certain shipments are being treated as such transactions without reason. Certain articles which have no use in a lend-lease financed project now under way in Brazil, for example, are being shipped in the name of that lend-lease project, principally in order to obtain higher priority ratings, it was asserted.

The case of the Australian purchasing commission which gave specifications on an order and then filled it thru lend-lease was also cited by the traders as an apparent abuse of the system. When exception was taken to the development, the Australian representative explained that there was no point in using Australian money when United States funds could be used, it was asserted.

DON'T WORRY IF STORE SHELF IS BARE—WICKARD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture and Food Administrator Claude R. Wickard told consumers today that they should not be unduly alarmed when grocery store stocks of canned foods begin to diminish.

Depleted stocks are not to be construed, he said, as an indication that the national supply has been exhausted.

Retailers' stocks of canned fruits, vegetables, and juices are replenished each month under a distribution order designed to make available supplies extend thru the year, he said. Approximately one-twelfth of the civilian supply is released each month to retailers. Rationing is scheduled to start next month.

ASCRIBES ILLS OF BUSINESS TO BAD ORGANIZING

Morse Says It Must Present Own Case.

The weakness of the voice of business in government councils was ascribed yesterday to the inability of business men to attain a solid front on at least major questions, and to the poor quality of their titular representation there.

John H. Morse, recently returned to Chicago as economic consultant to the Buchen company, advertising firm, after two years in Washington as chief of the division of commercial and economic information of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and editor in chief of the commerce department's publications, told members of the Chicago Financial Advertisers at a luncheon that, until lately, business has had no real champion in the national capital.

Says Chamber Failed at Job.

The department of commerce, he said, is not as effective in getting benefits for business as is the department of agriculture for farmers and the department of labor for unions. The reason for this, he said, is the failure of business to give the commerce department any real support.

Business' nominal representative in Washington, the United States Chamber of Commerce, has far less power than organizations representing labor and agriculture, Morse declared, and until Eric Johnson took over its leadership as president, the chamber "was interested only in the chamber of commerce, and not in commerce."

Efforts of the department of commerce to promote the interests of business actually were opposed by the United States chamber as infringements on its field, he declared, citing as an example the objections raised when the department published pamphlets intended to be useful as guides for chambers of commerce in small communities. Some other business organizations have displayed a similar attitude, Morse said.

Urges Advertising Campaign.

While praising Johnson's accomplishments in behalf of business, Morse declared: "We also find out that with all his efforts, his organization hasn't the compelling power that is so frequently used effectively by the big farm organizations, or the even bigger labor organizations."

Use of advertising was urged by Morse to awaken voters to the "true importance of business in their lives." Only when there is a strong backing of voters will business attain an equal voice with labor and agriculture, essential if there is to be a workable compromise of conflicting interests, he asserted. The present gain this support, he said, as evidenced by the vote in November.

Advertising is necessary to post-war recovery, Morse said.

"If we are to operate this nation at the levels which seem necessary for the most good to all, it would appear that we have to maintain adequate stimulation of human desires to own and use things," he said.

EAST. AIR LINES NINE MONTH NET EARNINGS RISE

Net income of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., increased to $2,050,315, or $3.57 a share on the common stock, in the first nine months of 1942, Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, president and general manager, announced yesterday. In the similar 1941 period profits were $883,168, or $1.54 a share. The company's federal income taxes totaled $1,715,000 in the 1942 period.

Duty to Control Price of Fresh Foods—OPA

Goeffrey Baker, price executive of the office of price administration's food division, said yesterday that the OPA considers it a "duty" to establish price control on all fresh fruits and vegetables which have reached the minimum levels at which the price law permits control. Baker, who addressed the 39th annual meeting of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable association in the Drake hotel, said he did not know when such ceilings would be set, but that price control should be instituted before the marketing seasons.

Among fruits and vegetables which he said would require control, he listed pears, apples, carrots, and beets. Potatoes, onions, dry, edible beans, citrus fruits, and bananas already are under ceilings. Price limits on other fresh produce, he explained, would also be imposed at shippers' levels, with specified percentage markups for wholesalers and retailers.

Another Warns of Shortages.

Baker said that fresh fruits and vegetables must be controled to prevent speculative advances resulting from sharply increased demand for military use and from civilians subjected to canned food rationing.

Dr. W. G. Meal, chief of the fruit and vegetable branch of the food distribution administration, said that all details of procurement are not yet worked out. This, he said, indicates that the army and navy are not receiving their full share of fresh fruits and vegetables. He warned that civilians who are "used to a land of plenty" must realize their fresh food supplies are "on the down side and conservation is the order of the day."

Threatens Federal Control.

Dr. Meal urged the industry to aid in avoiding maldistribution of supplies and appealed for close coöperation with the government. He suggested to shippers that they ration fresh foods if shortages develop or threaten.

Dr. Meal said that the industry may be asked to organize emergency committees to solve production and supply problems. He warned that if the industry does not meet these problems, the government will step in.

The association announced that it would appoint a man power committee to represent the industry before various federal agencies on questions of labor, farm machinery, and transportation.

STRIKE IN STEEL PLANT OVER PAY DISPUTE SETTLED

Lackawanna, N. Y., Jan. 20 (AP).—A strike of workers in four departments of the Bethlehem Steel company's Lackawanna plant was settled tonight as company and union officials reached an agreement on a wage dispute involving electrical maintenance workers.

District Director Joseph P. Molony of the CIO United Steelworkers of America said the strikers would return to work immediately. Employés in the machine shop, narrow gauge railway, and rigger departments had walked out in sympathy with the electrical department.

Canadian Strike Continues.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 20 (AP).—Settlement of a strike which has tied up three of Canada's largest steel plants appeared distant today.

Officials of the United Steelworkers of America, still in Ottawa, today said in a prepared statement that the government had been informed its proposed settlement was unlikely to be accepted by the workers. The government offered a 55 cent an hour minimum wage rate, including cost of living bonus. The strikers want 55 cents plus the bonus which ranges from 5 to 9 cents.

Holabird & Root to Receive Joint Army-Navy 'E' Flag

Holabird & Root of Chicago, said to be the only architectural concern in the United States to be awarded the army-navy "E" flag, will receive the pennant in ceremonies Jan. 25 at the Scioto ordnance plant, Marion, O. The same award will be made to the Hunkin-Conkey Construction company of Cleveland, builder of the plant. Inland Steel company's Indiana Harbor plant will receive the army-navy "E" award in a ceremony at the plant next Monday afternoon.

F.D.R. INFLATION PLAN BRANDED 3 WAY FAILURE

'Missed the Boat,' Says Banker.

President Roosevelt's anti-inflation program of last April failed in three important phases, Simeon E. Leland, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, said yesterday. Leland, who is chairman of the department of economics at the University of Chicago, addressed a luncheon meeting of the university's citizens' board in the Chicago club.

Simeon E. Leland.

Asserting the program was ineffective from the standpoint of fiscal policy, wage control, and farm prices, Leland said the government had "missed the boat for stabilizing prices."

Cheaper to Win War.

The President's request for 16 billion dollars of additional taxes or savings, or both, during the 1944 fiscal year, "may seem like a bitter dose," he told the group of widely known Chicagoans who are members of the board, "but it is cheaper to win a war than lose a peace."

"It is cheaper and far pleasanter for all concerned to pay the price for avoiding more inflation than to experience an inflationary catastrophe," he asserted.

"Instead of getting a stiffer tax program, the 1942 tax bill, severe as it seems, falls short of the revenue requested in the 1943 budget by 5 billion dollars. Even today wage and man power problems cannot be regarded as solved or under effective control."

The continued rise in uncontroled food prices, "aggravated by the political ambitions of certain leaders of the organized farmers to secure still greater economic gains for themselves," is one of the most dangerous elements in the price situation, Leland said.

Taxes Not Easily Found.

The billions of additional taxes requested in the current budget will not easily be found, and no single device to raise this amount is desirable or practicable, he asserted.

"I believe that further changes in the personal income tax should be directed toward the income brackets where purchasing power is accumulating rapidly—that is, toward incomes below $5,000," Leland said. "Likewise taxes should be currently collected from income as earned, collection at the source being utilized to the fullest possible extent.

"A 10 per cent retail sales tax will certainly yield less than 6 billion dollars. A compulsory savings tax of 10 per cent would produce about the same amount. Additional excises can scarcely be expected to produce 1 billion."

Leland advocated adoption of a compulsory savings program, termed a retail sales tax a good anti-inflationary device, and urged reduced income tax exemptions for married couples and for dependents, compulsory joint returns, taxation of exempt securities.

Reminds Manufacturers of Deadline on Materials

Applications for critical materials for use in the second quarter must be filed with the priorities division of the WPB by Feb. 9, Edmund H. Eitel, regional priorities manager, reminded manufacturers yesterday.

MASSACHUSETTS BONDING AND INSURANCE COMPANY

The Board of Directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 87½ cents a share on the capital stock of the company, payable February 5, 1943, to stockholders of record at the close of business January 28, 1943.

Treasury to Expand Chicago Staff

The government yesterday began recruiting an additional 700 clerks, typists, and other clerical personnel to handle the record-keeping work in connection with the sale of war savings bonds.

They will comprise a new working shift in the treasury department's bureau of public debt in the Merchandise Mart, and will be employed on a 30 hour, five day week, from 4:45 p. m. to 11:15 p. m., with a 30 minute supper period. These part time positions will pay $82.50 a month, or 63 cents an hour.

The new shift is being established because the typewriters and other business machines in the offices are being fully utilized during daytime working hours and new machines are not available. The civil service commission is recruiting the staff.

Plan to Use Equipment Fully.

W. Spencer Thompson, chief of the Chicago unit, which was shifted here from Washington, D. C., last June, said that 1,000 of the present 5,000 workers are already employed at night and that the additional 700 were needed to keep the equipment more fully utilized "around the clock." Two present full time night shifts extend from 4 p. m. to 8 a. m.

About 90 per cent of the present personnel is made up of girls, many of them just out of high school. In its search for new employés the bureau expects to attract housewives, college students, and men with deferred draft status.

The staff, Thompson said, is handling the record-keeping involved in the sale of about 20 million bonds each month, December dollar volume of series E, F, and G bonds having exceeded 1 billion dollars thruout the country. The 4,000 employés at work six months ago handled a monthly volume of about 10 million bonds.

Training Increases Efficiency.

Thompson attributed the proportionately larger volume per employé to increased efficiency of the staff resulting from a training system established by the bureau and to the use of ingenious office machines, some of them developed by bureau technicians.

The Chicago office contains the records in connection with all war savings bonds sold since the start of the program in 1935. In a system of accounting by photography, all permanent records are microfilmed. About 60 million bond stubs showing the name and address of the purchaser and other information comprise part of the voluminous records.

HARRY E. KATZ and HARRY F. LOWY, Plaintiffs, vs.
UNITED STATES ELECTRIC POWER CORPORATION, Defendant.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF BALTIMORE CITY
Docket 76A-791
No. A21887

To the holders of the Common Stock of UNITED STATES ELECTRIC POWER CORPORATION:

Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with an Order of the Circuit Court of Baltimore City (Maryland), dated December 24, 1942, each holder of the Common Stock of United States Electric Power Corporation is entitled to receive the sum of 5.7c per share, less the charges hereinafter set forth, and that payment thereof will be made in accordance with the provisions of Section 101 (a) of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland on or after March 8, 1943, to such shareholders who have proved their claims by the presentation of their stock certificates at the principal office of the MARYLAND TRUST COMPANY, Calvert & Redwood Streets, Baltimore, Maryland.

Said Order also provides that said Maryland Trust Company shall be entitled to deduct the following charges for its services in this distribution:

(a) A charge of 40c for each transaction involving stock received from any one stockholder, made up of one or more certificates registered in the name of such stockholder, except that for transactions involving 10 shares or less the charge will be 15c for each transaction, and for transactions involving from 11 to 15 shares, the charge will be 20c per transaction.

(b) An additional charge of 10c for each change of ownership involved, where the non-negotiable receipt and check for initial distribution are to be made to the holder of the stock in a name different from that appearing on the stock certificate or certificates surrendered.

Said order also provides that unless the total amount of any distribution to any holder is greater than the charges deductible by said Maryland Trust Company from the amount of such distribution as above set forth, such holders shall not be required to pay such charge and they shall not receive the amount of such distribution.

Copies of the aforesaid Order and of the Report and Petition of the undersigned Receiver on which said Order was passed, are on file in the Circuit Court of Baltimore City Docket 76A, Folio 791, in a cause entitled "HARRY E. KATZ, et al. v. UNITED STATES ELECTRIC POWER CORPORATION", and in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York in another cause entitled "HENRY J. RIPPERGER, as Receiver of United States Electric Power Corporation, v. ARTHUR C. ALLYN, et al.", Docket E87-20.

Reference is made to the said Order and Report and Petition, and the proceedings in said two causes, for all information with respect to these receivership proceedings.

Stock certificates presented by persons other than the registered holders thereof should be accompanied by stock transfer powers with signatures guaranteed by a bank or trust company, or by a member of the New York, Chicago or Baltimore Stock Exchange, all as required by the rules of the New York Stock Exchange with respect to delivery of certificates of stock in negotiable form.

Payment will be made by check drawn to the order of the owner of the stock, and a non-negotiable receipt will be issued to such owner, which will entitle him or his registered assignee to receive, without presentation thereof not less than three years after the first distribution, his pro-rata share of all surplus assets not theretofore distributed.

The Order of Court above referred to provides that there may be an additional charge of 10c per check for each check to be issued to the holders of record of such non-negotiable receipts at the time of the second and final distribution and that a charge of 25c per transfer may be collected from the person presenting a non-negotiable receipt for transfer after the first distribution for making such transfer into the name of another person.

BECAUSE OF THE LARGE NUMBER OF STOCKHOLDERS, AND BECAUSE THE RECEIVER HAS NO STAFF, IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE RECEIVER OR FOR THE RECEIVER'S COUNSEL TO ANSWER INDIVIDUAL INQUIRIES. THE STOCK CERTIFICATES MAY BE SENT TO THE MARYLAND TRUST COMPANY AT ANY TIME BUT THERE WILL BE NO ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF THE RECEIPT OF SUCH CERTIFICATES EXCEPT IN THE FORM OF THE CHECK AND NON-NEGOTIABLE RECEIPT TO BE SENT TO THE RESPECTIVE HOLDERS OF STOCK AFTER MARCH 8, 1943.

HENRY J. RIPPERGER, RECEIVER OF UNITED STATES ELECTRIC POWER CORPORATION.

JEWELERS TAKE FIGHT ON ARMY SALES TO SENATE

Ask Relief from 'Unfair' Military Competition.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20 (AP).—Charles J. Michaels, president of the American National Retail Jewelers association, asked the senate small business committee today for "relief from this obviously unfair competition" he said his association members were getting from military post exchanges and canteens.

Michaels said orders placed by the camps and canteens for jewelry frequently were "priority orders for items which are strictly for civilian use," and find their way into civilian hands.

The National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers also contended "at the risk of being branded unpatriotic," that 4,000 post exchanges do a billion dollar business" in competition with retail stores, officers' clothing, haberdashery and shoes, men's jewelry, and a wide variety of commodities which get away from the fundamental premise of articles for ordinary use, wear, and consumption needed for the military activities."

Expect Large Losses.

Michaels also told the committee that lack of metal had stopped completely the manufacture of all silver plated wear and large business losses were expected this year.

"Retail jewelers understand the need for base metals for war use," he said, "but the government has in storage large quantities of silver in excess of the need for currency reserves and war use. This has been purchased on a subsidy basis for eight years and jewelers, like all other taxpayers, have contributed to this subsidy."

He asked that restrictions on silver be relaxed to avoid "the closing of thousands of stores."

Carl Engstrom of the National Leather and Shoe Finders association of St. Louis told the committee the shoe repair industry had been called upon to increase its business by about 25 per cent, while there had been a reduction of 25 per cent in the leather available.

Suggests Saving Thru Repair.

Sen. James Mead [D., N. Y.] suggested that if repair shops were given more materials, the result would be a final saving in the amounts of materials required for manufacture of new shoes.

Engstrom estimated that up to 10 per cent of the 70,000 repair shops of the nation had gone out of business for lack of good materials. He told the committee the two top grades of leather always used for resoling shoes "are going to lend-lease and the army," and urged that civilians should be given equal status.

Joseph Kolodny of the National Association of Tobacco Distributors urged legislation to prohibit the use of merchandise for "bait or loss leader purposes in interstate commerce," prohibit sales below cost, and provide for a federal agency to investigate the cases of small businessmen forced out of business by the war.

PRICES OF GRAIN END UNEVEN IN NARROW RANGE

Grain prices yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, held within comparatively narrow limits. The market reacted after an early upturn, then rallied late in the session on short covering. At the close wheat futures were unchanged to ¼ cent lower than ⅛ cent higher, and oats and rye lost ⅛ to ⅜ cent.

Brokers said there was nothing in the news to induce speculators to take a decided stand and asserted that unfavorable weather reports from various parts of the midwest had lost effect as a price making influence.

OUR VOCATIONAL ANALYST

LUELLA CANTERBURY SAYS:

Many people have inquired about my work with the Molene Personnel. I shall try and explain it as briefly and clearly as possible.

The first step, of course, is to determine your vocational aptitude and latent talents that every one possesses but so few of us know we have. By means of written tests, combined with a personal interview and coupled with years of experience, I am able to paint a mental picture of your possibilities. When this is done the next step is to then show the individual how to develop these abilities so that she may fit herself properly into the picture puzzle of life. The woman who finds the missing pieces is the successful woman.

The third step and most important of all is to then find the kind of a position your abilities call for. Life in the wrong job is miserable. We can provide the missing pieces that will give you the most out of life.

Of course, the ideal part of this plan is that the Molene Personnel gives you this additional service free of charge.

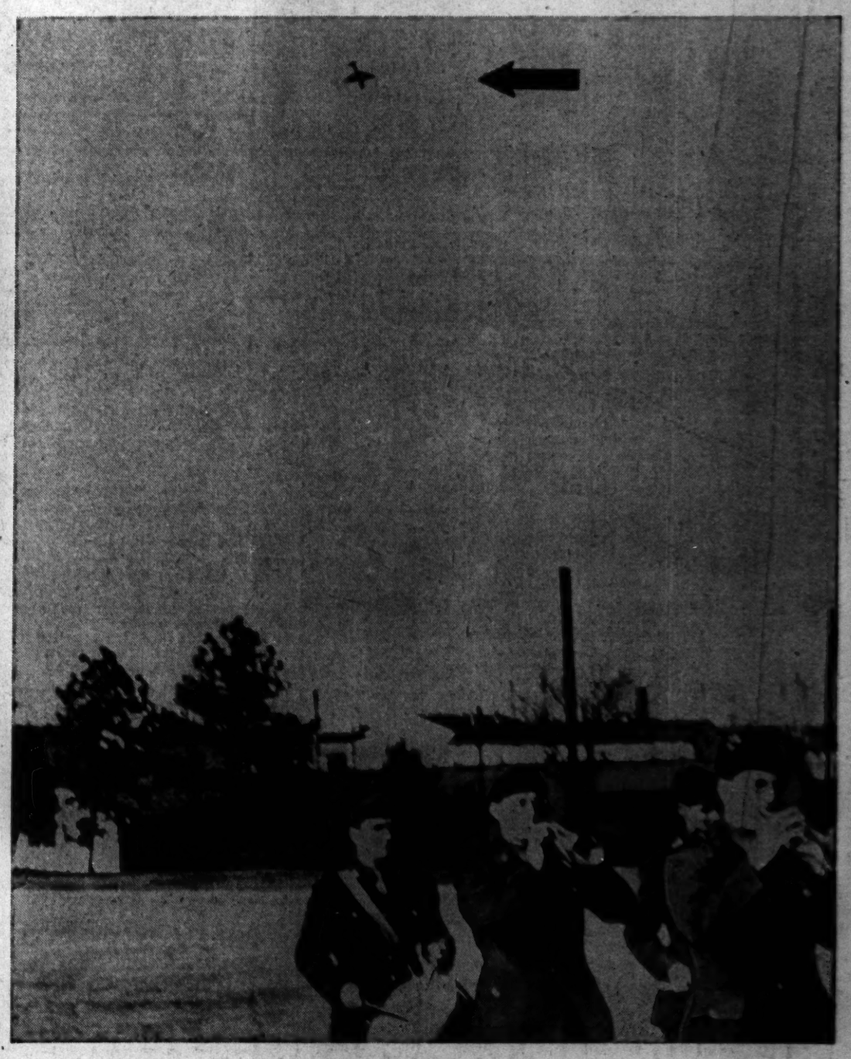
German Bombing Planes Raid London by Daylight—Flyer Crashes to Death While Band Plays at Review

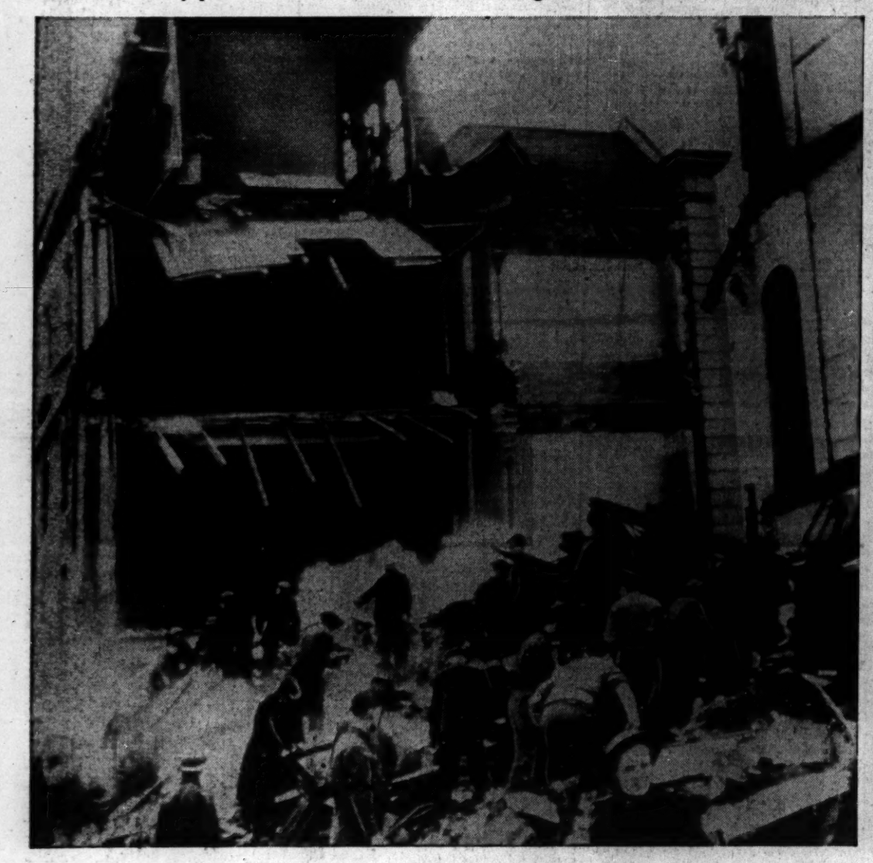
[Associated Press Wirephoto: From United States Army.]

New Guinea natives carrying wounded American soldiers from the front lines. Here they pause beneath the shade of a coconut grove to rest themselves and the men they carry. The stretcher bearers shown are taking the wounded from the lines near Buna to hospitals in the rear.



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

While the band (foreground) played unaware at a battalion review at Camp Lee, Virginia, an army plane (arrow) was hurtling to the ground. Its pilot was killed instantly.



[Associated Press Wirephoto: Sent yesterday from London by radio.]

Official London sources say these are rescue workers searching ruins of a school smashed by German bombs in yesterday's daylight air raid on the British capital.
